Trascendental VS Mundane Love Video Transcript:
before we start, I would like. to ask all of you two questions because we're going to speak about relationships, but relationships is such a broad topic.

And I want you to have a more narrow vision about the things that are important for you right now. So the first question that I have for you is what does the perfect relationship look like to you? Can you write it down just for one minute to write down what the perfect relationship is for you?

And if you're ready, the second question is how would you know you have that perfect relationship? Is there something that you would recognize? Is there something that you would hear? Is there something that you would smell? Or is there something that you would see or recognize? How would you know that you have that perfect relationship?

What are the signs of that perfect relationship?

And if you're all ready, we can start with our, uh, slides and with the presentations, with the presentation that I got, uh, for a Kickstarter. And I will share that presentation right now.

Do you see it? Okay, I will just make it a bit bigger. So, first of all, when we speak about relationships in human design, we look at all those things that you see. So first, we look at the type compatibility, we look at the authority compatibility, the profiles, the nodes, types of channels, centers. And lastly, the electromagnetic connections.

Now we're going to focus on the last part, which is the most intense, which is the electromagnetic connections. And when we say electromagnetic connections, we mean those areas where you're really attracted with another person. You know, you feel that pull, you feel that you're literally, Um, magnetize with someone you feel like you have something that really pulls you towards someone.

Those are dialects, magnetic connections. Those are the parts where you complete a channel with someone else. For example. For example. Now we can see here how an electromagnetic connection can look like. Uh, one person. I don't know if it's, if it's very clear on the graph. Let me see if I can show with my mouse.

No. Um, I think I can show it to you. So, um, for example, one person has this channel and the other person has this, this gate, not channel, this gate. So both of the, both of those people have this channel and this is the electromagnetic connection. So whenever one person has one gate and the other one, the other person has the other gate, this is the electromagnetic connection.

And every electromagnetic connection is different. So it doesn't matter, you know, what kind of channel you create, it's always an attraction, but what kind of attraction, we're going to look at it a little bit later. Um, so again, a presenter So when we have a composite composite chart, we look at which centers are defined in the composite chart and which centers are open.

So the open centers in the composite chart will show the areas that are going to be difficult and you have to put more attention on them in order to make the relationship work and be satisfying. And the second thing that we're going to also look today. are the electromagnetic connections and the types of those electromagnetic connections.

So first we have mundane gates of love. You can see them on the chart and you can see if you have some of them in your chart or if you have the opposite of those gates because they are going to feel very deep and very intense. Some people say that those gates are karmic gates or for example those gates create karmic relationship.

For example, gate 10 is self love through others. So you love yourself through the love of others. Gate 55 and internally indecisive love. So you can have a love that on and off, very emotional, very up in the air, then very, you know, triggering, very emotional. Gate 40, earning love. So for example, you can have a love, not 40, 44 must be here.

So earning love. This is the gate in the Spleen Center. So this is love that requires you to do things, to do things for love. So in that relationship, you can have the two people really doing a lot of stuff for each other. Gate 58, perfecting, perfecting love. You can have here very, people that are very critical towards each other, that require a lot of things from each other.

People that, you know, pinpoint their faults. that will always want to do and be something more. Then gate 41, dreams of love. I had this connection with a person. So this gate shows that you are going to be very dreamy. You're going to dream a lot about the future, what things you can have with the other, or what you can achieve together.

Some, a lot of, I, a lot of dreams, a lot of, idolization, you know, a lot of things that you want to have with that person. Next, gay 28, love with purpose. So we would like to have a purpose for that love. You would like to have goals. You would want to have ambitions. You would want to have something bigger that you two are going to achieve together.

And gay. 44, the, uh, no, the earning love. I misread them. I'm very sorry. So gate 44 is the successful love gate 40 is the earning love. So earning love in the ego and gate 44 successful love where you are fighting for success together. You are achieving success together. You are achieving a lot of abundance, financial abundance.

You can achieve also some business success, et cetera. So this is about the mundane gates. If you have questions, you can write them down. If you have some of those gates, if you have had connections where you have had some of those gates, the other person had some of those gates. And the other types of gates of love are the transcendental gates of love.

All of them are in the G Center and there are only four. So the G Center in general is a center about love, about direction, and about The divine love. So the first gate in the G Center is the Gate 25, which is the universal love, which is love about everything and everyone. This is the universal love that is about people, about animals, about the universe, about everything.

Gate 15 is about love of humanity. So loving humanity, loving the human, every human being in general. Gate 46, love of the body, loving your body, really loving your vessel. The, the vessel you're in in this life. The next gate is gate 10, loving being alive, which is also a transcendental gate, which was love about the self, but here when we have it in another form, it could be also loving being alive in general, loving the life you're living, loving everything that's happening to you.

So this is about transcendental gates of love. Both of those types of gates, which are love gates, they feel very intense. They feel very deep. You know, you feel like this person is someone that's very important to you. You feel like this person is someone that you know from another lifetime. You think that this connection is really emotional or fulfilling, et cetera.

Many different kinds of feelings can arise. So the tantra channels are connected with elevating energy from lower to higher vibrations. So it's not only about sexual chemistry, it's about transcending energy from lower to higher vibration, changing your life. making something dramatic as a change in your life.

Those channels are the channels that connects the sacral center to the G center. So if you have an electromagnetic connection there, it's gonna feel like you are literally transforming and changing your life with that person. And of course, it could have a lot of chemistry as well. And the sexual energy, in general, is an energy that is created between the sacral and the emotion.

I am showing you here the two most dominant channels for sexual energy, but all the channels that you have, uh, in all the electromagnetic channels that you have, in the sacral and in the emotional center are going to create sexual energy. And the energy about availability is created in the sacral and the energy about desire is created in the emotional center.

So this is about presentation. Now I'm going to move to more specific things, which are about your charts and what you can see. in your own charts and what types of relationships you can have in your own charts. For sure, you can have all types of relationships. It doesn't matter if it's something that I'm showing on here.

Um, just let me see how I'm going to share the other thing. I think it's this one. Do you see it? Okay. Let me make it a little bit bigger. So I see it.

I closed it.

I know.

I am very sorry. It's totally okay. Take your time. I can also screen share something on your behalf if you'd like. Uh, yes, it's here. Ah, I found it.

So,

I don't know why I don't see it. But okay, I'm gonna share it from Google Chrome because I have it there as well. So, here it is. So here, do you see it? This is the drive document. Yes, we see it. Okay, so first we can have money relationships. For example, you can create a lot of abundance in terms of money.

Now with someone that you have connections in the egocenter. For example, Lisa and Lindsay have a lot of options to create financial abundance with people. For example, in the case of Lisa, if someone has gate 21 or 44, you can have a lot of financial abundance together. You can have a lot of, uh, money energy flowing between the two of you.

Of course, if you have learned the lessons of the ego center, both of you, but this is an option to have a money relationship. For Lindsay, Also, if someone has gate 25, if someone has gate 37, and if someone has gate 44. As you see, gate 44 is also, as we already said, a gate of love. You can have also financial abundance and a lot of love.

But here we're classifying it only as money relationship. So if you have someone with those gates, You can have that financial abundance. But of course, if both of you have learned the ego lesson, I guess. Probably you already know that, so I'm not going to go into more details there, but still you have to know the basics of the ego center, for example, saying no, knowing your work, knowing how to sustain money, knowing how to not lose money, etc.

So creative energy, the relationships that Create, you know, relationships that have a lot of creative energy could be many. So for example, some can be in the abstract circuit. Someone can be in the individual, uh, circuitry. Some can be in the sacral center. Some can be in the emotional center. Many types of relationship create can create creativity.

So I'm giving only a few examples for, for here. In the in the case of Kristen for if someone has gate 36, that can lead to a lot of, emotional, energy, which is externalized through the throat center in terms of, for example, poetry, or in terms of sharing stories in a video format or in a book or paintings.

Whatever. she can share with us if that has ever happened. and also another individual channel could be, um, for example, if someone has gate 38 and you create a lot of individual impulses in terms of having a purpose, fighting for a purpose, for example, if that purpose is to create an art gallery, you can create that.

Uh, and of course. Many, many other options. Gate two can also lead to a lot of creative energy. Now, also here, gate 47, a lot of things that you can externalize with your mind, which your brain create something unique. For example, you can even find a new way to do maths or understand mathematics in a new way.

You can do a lot of creative things in the electromagnetic connections. When you have family and team, there are two types that create very stable family and very stable team. Those are the Penta channels and the Tribal channels. The Penta channels are all the channels that connect the G and the throat, those three here, and those three here that connect the G and the sacral.

Those are the pentachannels. If you have pentachannels, or if you have penta electromagnetic connections, you will have a very stable and strong team and family. Literally, the team will be held together and the family will be kept together. But in order to sustain that family and to sustain that team, you need to have also some tribal connections.

And the tribal connections are Uh, for example, a tribal connection can be 44 26. This is a tribal channel 50 27. This is also a tribal channel 59 6. This is also a tribal channel, uh, 1949. This is also a tribal channel, uh, 32 54. This is also a tribal channel, so if you have. a person with the missing gate here, you can have a stable family as well.

You can take care of that family. You can sustain that family. And it's a very good connection. If you want to create something long lasting, and if you want to sustain that long lasting connection, for example, if you have someone, if Marie has someone with gate 19, that Relationship can feel very nurturing because both of you will sense each other needs and you will know how to sustain the tribe, either the family or the business union in terms of needs, what the other people need, what they want, how they want it.

Uh, if you have also gate. someone with gay 27, you can really take care of each other, but not only in terms of needs, in terms of what this family needs to develop, what this family needs to feel okay, just in general, very nurturing and caring energy as well. This is more about finances. 4426 is more about financial abundance, attracting money for the family, sustaining the family with money.

That's why it's called the, uh, successful love. And also here, this is the earning love. 4037, how to earn love, what to do to earn love. And it's also a very family channel. Those two channels here are called this one the family, this one, the Marriage. So they are very strong for uh, families and for marriages.

Moving on to Lindsay. Lindsay also has a lot of options for tribal and family connections. For example, someone with K 37, someone with Gate 44, someone with gate six, someone with gate 19, someone with Gate 32. Uh, all those gates will make a very stable tribal connection and Lindsay also has two Penta channels.

This means that she's very, very good for teams. Businesses are gonna try when Lindsay's there because she will attract a lot of abundance and will hold the team together, uh, so she can. share with us at the end if, uh, she's the one that holds the team together and directs the team or in general, the friends, the friend group or the family union.

Uh, so yeah, those, those channels are important when we speak about holding the group together. Moving on to health. Health where what I mean by health is is anything. It's not only health for the body. It's health for the emotions, health for the mind, emotional health, physical health, um, everything that is connected with you thriving and having energy.

So all of those things you will learn when you meet people that make electromagnetic connections in the spleen center. So for example, we have here Natalie, and she has a lot of options to learn how to be healthy, for example, when she meets people with all those gates here, for example, 27, 54, 38, 58, all, and also 48 as well, all those people will teach you Natalie how to let go of toxicity, how to let go of toxic habits, how to let go of it.

Bye. Toxic environments of things that are no longer serving you how to literally let go the past, which is, you know, poisoning your emotional and physical body, they will teach you how to throw away stuff how to throw away even material possessions that are no longer serving you. And also about the emotional relationships.

Those are the ones that you have in the emotional center. For example, when you meet someone that... Let me give you an example. When you meet someone that connects... Connects to the emotional center. For example, in in here in Punit, I think that's how the name is pronounced in Punit. When someone has gate 55, that would be very emotional relationship.

And this gate is also a gate of love. So this relationship will be very intense because this is also also an individual gate. This means that the emotions are just Strongest here. And this gate is also connected with hearing things. So it could be very, uh, talkative and a relationship that is connected to a lot of communication, speaking or listening to music together.

So the electromagnetic connections in the emotional center feel very intense. Also here you can meet someone with gate 35 and that will be very Explosive relationship. For example, the emotions that you feel together can be, um, very dynamic. So at one moment you can really be super happy and in the next moment you can explode with anger, create chaos, a lot of anxiety also.

So anything that you have. All the others as well. Whenever you have a connection that connects the emotional center with either the root, the sacral, the ego, or the throat, it is very emotionally intense. It's like you are literally, you know, pulled together, but also pushed aside when you are, when you are in a union.

So about the mental connections, the mental connections are in the Ajna Center. So we have here the case with Benedetta. So anything that is connecting to the Ajna Center. So if you have someone with gay 56, you have a lot of things to speak about, a lot of stories to tell each other, a lot of things that you can either have lived together or you can share a lot of things that you have done together.

Or you wish you could do together or new experiences that you can have together. The other gate that could be an electromagnetic connection or Benedetta is gate 24. So this is a gate that is an individual gate and will cause you to have a lot of insights, a lot of insights about the world about, um, humanity.

Uh, about esoterics, about psychology, about humanity, as I already said. So a lot of things that are very deep, you know, things that are not ordinary, they're, they're not very usual. So I think we went through all the types of relationships. Oh, no, here we have another case and I haven't written the name. I hope the person that has this chart recognizes this chart.

Uh, so we can have electromagnetic connections here that are in gate. If you meet someone with gate 63, you can have a lot of logical energy, speaking about a lot of logical stuff, things about the future, what to do, planning, stuff like that. If you meet someone with gate 47, this could mean a relationship that's a little bit chaotic in the mind, speaking about everything and anything and having a lot of Um, misunderstanding sometimes because it is, uh, an abstract energy.

So the abstract energy is the opposite of logical. So it's very chaotic. And the other gate you can make with someone, the other channel that you can make with someone is when you meet someone with gate 23. This is also an individual channel. And this channel is connected again with a lot of insights.

But speaking about those insights, because these connections, this connection is in the throat center. So speaking about the wisdom that you have acquired together, speaking about the things that you understand when you're together, externalizing the knowledge and wisdom that you carry when you're with that person, uh, oh, no, we have one more type of relationship.

So when we have someone that. has an open root center or defined root center, but there is an electromagnetic connection in the root. We speak about survival lessons and how to be grounded in relationships. So all the channels and all the electromagnetic connections that you can make in the root are connected with survival and ground groundedness.

So Rick, again, I haven't written the name. I'm very sorry. so whenever some, if that person meets someone with gate 52, that relationship will also be very transformative because this is, um, very transformative channel as well as those. Three here. Those three here are also very transformative. You will get grounded.

But first you will transform yourself a lot. You will change a lot and you will have a common rhythm with that person because this channel is a channel of rhythm as well. So we'll have, you will create a common rhythm with that person, which will ground you together to have a relationship that is sustainable and a relationship that, you know, repeats some cycles and some patterns.

Other people that you can meet that can ground you are people that have GATE, uh, 32, uh, 19, and also 55, and 41. All those people are gonna ground you in different ways. For example, this person will ground you by making you... Uh, more focused on success and succeeding in your career and in your work. This person can make you more grounded by tuning in to other people's needs and feelings and fears as well.

This person can make you more grounded by understanding your deepest emotions and Rising above them, not making them control you. This person can ground you by making you understand that your dreams are there to fuel actions and not actually be, be achieved in this way as you dreamt them. So for example, your dreams are just there to make you act on them, but not actually to manifest them in the way that you have.

thought that they will become reality. Uh, so yeah, now we have finished with all the types of relationships. Now I have written here what are the compatible lines. When I say lines, I don't mean only in the profiles, I mean only in the gates. So when you see your chart, uh, on, on the, on the sides of the chart, you can see that some gates have dot Not some.

All of them have dot and a number after that. This is a line. So, lines can also be either compatible or incompatible. You can observe that either in the profiles or in the gates. So, for example, line one is compatible with One as well. And four. Line two is compatible with two and five. Line three is compatible with three and six.

Line four is compatible with one, one and four. Five is compatible with two and five and six is compatible with three and six. So this doesn't mean that you won't have good chemistry with someone that doesn't have compatibility with your lines. It just means that it's going to be a little bit more challenging.

And this also means, um, this also can be translated in any relationship in any kind of way. For example, if you meet someone that you don't have a lot of electromagnetic connection, that's fine. You won't have a lot of, um, fire that you have to You know, um, water, so it doesn't boring you or, for example, if you don't have a lot of compatible lines, this just means that you have to put a little bit.

more effort to understand your differences and that could also enhance how you view each other and how you view the world. So it's not, not something that you have to fear or something that you should be avoiding. Incompatibility in brackets, uh, it's not something wrong. It's just something that gives you a lot of growth.

And it also depends on the growth of each individual that you, come in relationship with either business or romantic. It doesn't matter. It all depends on the level of development of each and every individual.

we have more time for questions, which is great. So now I'm all yours. You can ask as much as you want. I'm very eager to answer whatever questions you have. Lily, could we pull up the, uh, PDF, sorry, not PDF, Google doc. So we have all the, cause I have a feeling people might branch off into questions. Using that, uh, you mean the presentation or the Oh, is it this one? Is it the Oh, this is the drive. This is the drive document with all the gates.

Okay, by category. But, but I cannot hold the presentation as well. Right. Okay. Um, no, I see what you did there. First of all, gut reaction. How's everyone feeling? This is a lot of information, but really juicy, right?

Okay. I'm going to take that as a yes. I see some nodding heads. Okay. Now's the time to unmute yourself. And what we can do is just go through category by category. Um, and here, let me see if I could, cause it looks like Lily has edited the document. So Lily, I'm going to try to pull up your Original Google Doc that you had shared with me?

Hang on.

It's the same, just I have added the charts of everyone in the different categories, so I can give examples so they can see what it means. Yes, absolutely.

Um, hang on. But, but any gut reaction questions?

Also, if we don't have questions right now, everyone, if you feel, of course, like sharing, you can share the answers of the first two questions that we started with. Yes, great idea. I think, I think they're digesting. I was gonna say it's a lot to take in and I'm processing it because I'm trying to think like how can I actually apply it, but um, it's really cool.

I wanted to say, I feel like I noticed that what you were pointing out for like the group was like, Gates that would connect a channel so that it would define a center that was undefined or open. So is that like the most intense, I don't know, connection or the most beneficial when we look at our own chart?

First of all, thank you very much for the question. Yet the question. Yes, exactly. Uh, when you have. An electromagnetic that defines an open center in your chart. It is the most influential because initially you're born to learn the energies of the open centers and you learn them the most when you have someone that completes a gate that you already have, either in that center or in an opposing center.

For example, here we have An open emotional center, and if someone comes with gate 12 or gate 36, this will define the emotional center, and it's going to be a very intense connection, a connection that will make you speak a lot and externalize a lot your emotions, and that's how you will decondition the open emotional center, and that's how you will learn the lessons from the open emotional center.

Does that make sense? Yes, it makes sense. So then, if I was to follow up, like, I'm, Lisa, sorry, I'm using a friend's Zoom, so it says I'm Tina, so, like, for my chart, like, for example, in the root center, if I found someone, and they had, and, like, the left chart, like, Lisa? Yes, I know my name says Tina.

So, for example, if someone had, like, if I connected with someone, and they had the 16 channel. Is that 16? Or is it 19? And the root that connects the emotional? Uh, this is 19 here. Oh, yeah. Yes, sorry. Um, so if I have someone with 19, do I experience that differently? Because if I, if I, meet someone and they're 19 or a friend or whatever, business partnership, they complete that channel for me, but I already have the root.

Defined. So it's a feel different or is it like how is that different? I guess it's different in terms of that. You don't multiply the energy that you receive. It just triggers the root and the emotions. So you already have root energy and you already have defined emotions. So you already experienced them, but they're going to be triggered in a different way when you meet someone with the gate 19.

Whereas if you have an open emotional center, that energy that you create with an, with another person is going to be very intense. It's going to be 10 times stronger than what you will experience with someone with gait 19. It's only going to trigger your emotions in a new way, in a different way. Of course, it's going to be something that you are attracted to because it's an electromagnetic connection, but it's going to be more stable.

It's not going to be that intense and in that in such big extremes.

Okay, thank you. I have a question for you, Lily. Uh, so there's There's 35. Also, I just gotta say, like, I'm, I know my own chart and I, and when Lily was going through everyone's examples, I was like, Oh, like now I know like how me and like each of you guys connect. So I got all the juice. Anyway, the 35, 36 and 12, 22, those are connecting the throat to the emotions.

What is the, what would you say is a difference between those two channels because they both seem to sound like a creative channel. So how do they differ? So gate. 12 is an individual gate. So this is an individual channel and this is a collective channel. The individual channel is more connected with the individual experiences.

Those are the very, the most deepest emotions. So those are very deep individual emotions that you feel individually when you are with yourself. When you have a collective channel, this is something that you experience in a collective environment with other people, with groups of people, outside in the world, when you're doing something, when you're traveling, when you are meeting new cultures, or when you're trying new things, when you're going to a, Sports event or when you're going to a concert, this is how those two differ or the individual channels could also be felt in very intimate and very close connections.

So going back to the creative expression, like the video creation, would you say 35 36 is more of a Like you, it's a, it's a group creative project, whereas 1222 was like, like a more personal creative project and you have like a partner that can help you express that. Is that a good way to think about it?

The video example is very good because I will just show you how they differ. So for example, if you express your emotions, uh, through a video material with this channel 1222, you will do a video that speaks about your emotions and how they have impacted you and what you have felt and how that changed your life.

When we speak about gay 35, 36, it's going to be a video. That shares something that's going to be good for the collective. So for example, you'll share a story how you went to Nepal and what you have seen there, how others can visit the same places, what was good there, what really make made you happy, what kind of people that you met there, what kind of experiences you had there, um, things that are more connected with the collective.

So if you are a content creator and you have One of the gates from each of those channels, depending on who you partner up with. The type of video you can create can change. But you're like a full time content creator. Okay, got it. It also, sorry, one more thing. also feels like when you have all those gates, it's almost like a need that drives you.

Like if you have any of those four gates, like you have this need to express yourself creatively. And it's almost like people are your vessels and depending on who you're interacting with, it can manifest like an individual. This is what I went through kind of a thing, or like suddenly like talking about the collective, but either way, like you have this need to express what's going on inside of you internally.

It seems. Yeah, exactly. You are always. You always feel the need to connect with people that have the opposing gaze that are in your chart, because this is how you actually learn the gaze that you have. How you express the gates that you have. Also, we have a hand here. Kylie, do you want to say something?

I have two questions really quickly. one is so with the gates that you had just mentioned. So you said, like, if you had these connections, then you get, you know, universal love, love of humanity, things like that. Um, so I know, for example, like gate 10. Has different connections. Would it matter?

Like what gate that's connected to or like who has the different gate that completes it. Does that make sense? let me see your chart. Is it the one that I haven't written a name? Uh, I didn't actually see my chart on here, but it's okay. Really? Did you send it? Yeah, I did. I'm sorry. Can you share your chart so I can see it?

well, I don't have it, but I was just one. I just gave like an example, but okay, so you're asking if you have gates, then right. And does it matter if the other person has 5734 or 20. Is that your question. Yeah, like, If, if that changes how, you know, the self love with others would be affected or how that would work.

Yes, definitely. It is different. Those, channels here are very specific channels. That's why they're not like all the others where you just have two, opposing paths coming together. this is an integration circuitry. All of those. Gates here are combined in an integration circuitry, which is all about survival and instincts.

So when you have gates, then you can connect with three different gates, 34, 57 and 20. For example, if you meet someone with gate 20, you will, understand that self love through speaking. So speaking, uh, about the things that are very deep. To yourself, the things that are very important to yourself. things that are very interesting to yourself.

And if you meet someone with gay 57, you will understand that self love through instincts, through being very inclusive, doing things in the current moment, being very present here and now doing things. When you feel them, not postponing them. If you meet someone with gay 34, you will understand that self love through doing things.

for you, doing things that you like doing things that are satisfying to you because the sacral center is about satisfaction. So this is how the different relationship will make you understand the self love. I also have another question that's related, but semi unrelated. so I tried to do my, uh, because I'm really into human design as well.

And I wanted to look at my sister's twins charts. And I don't know if it's like makes a difference that Because like they were, they were, they had a C my sister had a C section in order for them to be born. And, um, I don't know if that changes things because they're only three minutes apart and also one twin was conceived like seven days after the first one.

So I don't know if that changes like their chart or anything. So I just wanted to see what you think. That's an interesting question again. Thank you. Um, so about twins, because they receive very similar energy when they are born because they are born in the same place. Possibly in your case, almost the same time.

Uh, so this will just, uh, make them experience the same energy, but in two extremes. So, for example, one sibling, one twin. Will be on one extreme and the other will be on the other extreme. So they will, they will carry the same energy, but experience and express it in the two extremes. So you will be able to see that more when they grow up, you'll see how they are very alike.

You know, they are very similar, but still express their similarities in, uh, in opposing ways. How old are they? They're only one and I, and they already do that. So, yeah, I was wondering. Okay, cool. Thank you.

You can ask things about your personal charts as well. We have two hands up. Puneet, do you want to go first? Sure. Hi Lily, thank you for your time this afternoon. I guess my question is, you know, part of my chart I have, except for one of the nine, all of them are defined, but then I also have some totally Empty gates?

Um, what can I do to enhance those empty gates, per se?

Hmm, uh, empty gates, you mean, for example, 35? Correct. Okay. Like, there's 35, and then there's also, on the other side. Well, that's partially, so not necessarily fully empty. The, 20, and then 41 to 30.

Ah, so you mean, and then... Uh, the entirely channels, channels, sorry. Yeah. So for example, if you don't have a gate and if you don't have a channel, this is an energy that you, uh, take from the people around you and from the transits, uh, the transits that are going on right now currently. So for example, if you meet someone with this channel, you will understand this energy.

Or if there is currently a transit. That defines this channel, you will feel this energy. So you are entirely dependent on the energies that you receive from your environment in the places that you don't have neither a gate nor a channel.

Got it. Thank you.

So Benedetta, I think you have also a question. Yeah, I do. So, um, right. Um, I have, I think it was 12. And I have 22 and I'm looking for someone who has a 12, but what if somebody has the entire 1222 if I meet up with them, what would the difference be between just meeting someone with the 12? And meeting someone who has been entire thing entire channel.

Sorry. Okay, so this applies to all the cases. So it's not only about this one that you have. So, for example, if you meet someone with the whole channel 1222, this person has stable energy. This person expresses this. Uh, channel throughout his whole life or her whole life in a consistent manner. So whenever you meet that person, you will have to learn the specific way this person is expressing that energy.

And for example, because this is an emotional energy, if this person is blocked emotionally, you will be blocked emotionally with them. You won't be able to express through your throat, your emotions, if that person is emotionally blocked. But if you meet someone only with the gate, for example, someone only with gate 12, that would be more, um, unstable, but more triggering relationship.

You will express your emotions wanting or not. You will feel the triggers to express your emotions. It would be a little bit unstable because it's an electromagnetic in an open center, but still, you will express it. And you will express it in a way that you both create in the relationship. It's going to be unique for the relationship.

You won't, for example, express it in the same way with another person that has gate 12. It's going to be unique and different for the relationship. So when I meet somebody who, um, completes a channel for me, we, it's kind of unstable, but we, it's a unique experience with them. Whereas if I meet someone with the channel, complete channel, and I've only got a hanging gate.

Um, it's more stable and I get to learn from them if they're not blocked is the point it's the Exactly. Yes. And in the second case, when you meet someone with the whole channel, it's a little bit like a compromise because you are following their lead. You're following their energy. You're either, as you said, learning how they are expressing or you are following their not so healthy way of expression.

Thank you.

Question, Lily. Hi, I'm Marie. Um, hi. So there was, it's kind of like, I don't know, like the more general one about like the centers of like open and closed centers rather than just the gates and channels. If you could say more about, um, about that a little bit. Yeah, like, for example, like, um, the head and the head chakras or the crown chakras, like, if they're open, right, totally open, um, and someone is closed, like, what is that relationship, even though there may be open or, um, hanging gates for on both sides. Does that make sense? I will answer and you will tell me if I got your question correctly.

So for example, if someone has open ajna, this means that this person will multiply the energy of the defined ajnas around it, around this person. So If you are with a defined Ajna, you will give that energy and if you are with an open Ajna, you will receive that energy and when you're with a defined Ajna, you don't multiply the energies that you receive from the others, you have your own stable energy, whereas when you are with an open head, you, you, because you don't have that energy yourself, whenever something comes from the environment to you, you're multiplying it, you are you are like a magnifier of that NRNG.

Okay, yeah, that, that, that makes sense and answers the question. and then lastly, could you, um, I say a little bit more about the 2 and 14, um, channel. I, like, saw it on the Tantra one, and I think I have that. One totally closed for me like that channel is totally closed and so I was just gonna ask if there's anything a little bit more about it.

I really love this channel, to be honest, because this is the most feminine and abundant channel. So, this channel, this one here, 214, connects the G and the sacral center. So, this means that you are literally attracting abundance. whenever you are satisfied, whenever you are happy with what you do, you create abundance for everyone around you for yourself and for everyone around you.

And you do that with a lot of feminine energy. Uh, you are really feminine because you have the most. abundant feminine channel. And you also direct where the group is going. You literally direct where others are gonna go or what they're gonna do. Um, have you felt like you're the one that just directs the people around you and push pushes them in certain direction?

Yeah, I feel like to a lot of people like come to me like for like advice or like random people that I don't know, like will come up to me and tell me like their life story. And I'm like, you know, it's like that happens like, like crazy, like crazy. It's kind of, it's kind of weird, but yes. And because that happens because, um, because you open them with your feminine energy, you literally, uh, give them the space.

To feel secure and safe and accepted, and that's why they open up to you, uh, and share their stories with you. This is your chart, right? Yes. Yeah, and you just made them feel comfortable in your presence and because you also are with open emotions and you're very empathetic, you understand what they're going through.

You understand their needs, you understand, um, you literally can empathize with what they feel because you You feel it in your body whenever they are experiencing something. Okay, thank you, Lily.

I had a question, but I was like, never mind, but okay, I'll ask it. So, Marie is 2'14 and obviously I'm 14. So I look for someone who I can also learn from Marie if she's stable and not blocked. Yeah. But then I was also wondering because... I do have people come up to me and tell me like wildest things and I'm like, I just met you, but I don't have, um, that channel complete.

So how does that work? Wait, let me find your chart. This is your chart, right? So People come and, uh, speak to you and open up to you, uh, probably with very personal details with things that are very personal, very, individual for them with in the individual channels, because you have, uh, individual channels here, which are connected with expressing the self.

Through the throat in an individual manner. So you literally help them express their self when they are with you. I also feel it in my body. Like sometimes I get super angry and it's like the other person's anger. But like, why am I about to explode? This about the emotion is because you are open emotionally.

And when someone is very angry around you, you multiply that anger. And this usually happens in relationships because the people, and if you have a man that's emotionally defined and a woman that's open emotionally, men usually are suppressing their emotional center and when it's defined, the woman will hyper express their suppressed emotions.

So the open emotional person will express all the suppressed emotions of the defined person and it's going to be, it's going to be felt in a very intense way. So that's why you feel the feelings of the people around you when they are suppressing them. Okay. Thank you.

Oh, sorry. Go ahead. Go ahead, Kylie. I was just gonna ask really quick. so I also have the 214 and the fact that you said that you attract abundance when you're satisfied in life and stuff. It's just kind of funny because I did like this, um, Uh, uh, kin, kinesiology energetic thing, um, as like reading as well as like reiki and stuff like that.

And the, the theme seems to be that I am not satisfied with things or something is like holding me back. So what would you like say to those who. I don't know. I like, I feel like I'm very grateful and happy with my life, but energetically, I guess I'm not, and I, and I guess I need help with getting that abundance and stuff.

So yeah, I don't know. Because I don't have your chart. Uh, can you help me? Do you have defined root center? A defined, sorry? Defined root. Do you have defined root? Yeah, I do. Okay. So in order to reach to the satisfaction of the sacral. Uh, you have to, you know, you have to follow the path from down up from, you know, from bottom to the top.

So for example, if you have a defined root center, uh, and you have blocked energy in the root, you first have to deal with the root center and then go to the satisfaction of the sacral. So the root, uh, gets deblocked when you move physically and spiritually and Um, when you leave things behind, when you are just moving, do you feel you are not moving enough?

Uh, I feel like I move too much. Too much. Yeah. I don't know. I think when I moved to Spain, I actually like physically moved. That was a whole nother, yeah, energy. So maybe I just need to physically move again. How long, how long you are staying now in Spain, for how long you're staying now in Spain? Well, I was living there for two years, but now I've moved back to L.

A., so it's, yeah. Sometimes with the route, it's also important, the land, because the route is connected to the land. And if the place that you're living currently, it's not something that, um, charges you with good energy and you in generally feel connected with the land. actually, if you don't feel connected to the land that you're currently living, that could also block the energy in the root center.

Do you feel connected with LA and the energy in the city?

I used to, not so much anymore, I guess. So that makes a lot of sense. Uh, and for the route, which channel do you have in the route center? Um, well, I have 1949 channel. Oh, okay. And? And then I have, uh, 60 and 58, just the gates. Uh, just the gate 1658. Okay. And the channel 1949. So this also makes a lot of sense because the route is connected to the emotions.

Uh, so do you, express your emotions? I'm getting there. Yeah. Okay. Because those channels here are challenging because the route. is connected to the emotions and if you don't express your emotions the root gets blocked and it cannot move to the sacral you know the energy cannot move to the sacral so that's why it's so important for us to deblock your emotions to express them for example if it's anger to shout to write anger letters to scream uh or if it's sadness to cry as much as you feel like or if um You are depressed to see what is beneath that, that feeling.

And if it's anxiety to again, see what's beneath that anxiety. And it's very important, the physical expression of the emotion. So it's not only thinking about the emotion. It's not only about understanding the emotion. It's about physically experiencing it. That's why when I say anger, I mean, physically express the anger, you know, take something and hit, hit it and shout and scream and literally physically express it because if you don't physically express it, it's not going to be released.

Writing an anger letter or a hurt letter will help you, you know, get to the feelings and after that fully feel them. Have you tried practices like those? Honestly, no, I've, I've grew up kind of being shamed for anger, you know, like you, you don't, you shouldn't be expressing that type of stuff. So with all my emotions, I'm pretty good with expressing, but when it comes to anger, not so much.

So yeah, I. I can. Okay. This is all starting to make sense that I can really relate with that because when I started, uh, you know, the conditioning my centers, I had a problem also with anger and I had to go back and write my anger letters. two times because I, I didn't understand what anger meant. I couldn't connect with the feelings of anger.

I didn't even knew curse words. You know, when you are expressing the anger, you have to use some curse words. I didn't know how to use curse words, you know? And, uh, this is very important because if you don't. Express the anger. You would never have boundaries and you would never feel secure in relationships and you always avoid them.

So anger is a very healthy and important emotion, especially in terms of relationships. Because if you don't go through the healthy expression of anger, you wouldn't be able to say no and you wouldn't be able to have healthy boundaries when connecting with others. And of course, if you have a lot of suppressed anger, first of all, it would go to an extreme, it will go, it will look very extreme.

It won't be normal anger. So don't get scared when the anger starts to come out. And now it's a very good period actually to connect with your anger because now we have, uh, new season and it's, uh, right through Venus. So it's all about connecting with your boundaries and with the anger internally. Okay.

Wow. Yeah. All right. I know what to do now. Thank you so much, . It's a pleasure. yes. So my chart, I have like seven of nine centers of fine. So I'm like mixed. I'm all the way. Yeah. Least I'm triple definition. So is it important if you're like triple definition, that there's not ever, do you feel like there's never going to be like one.

Relationship that can ever really make you feel good and it's important to have like multiple different, not like love relationship. I mean, like, you know, in general, like community, business, like job stuff. How would you be your advice for, uh, triple definitions? Cause I'm always like, like a love romantic relationship is like, never like really feels completely good for me.

Hello, fellow triple split. I'm also a triple split, by the way. So I totally understand you. And, uh, this is something that, you shouldn't be scared of. You know, it's actually something nice when you get used to it. And you just have to be aware that you, it's very tricky to stay only with one person. And I don't mean that you need multiple relationships.

I just mean that when you are in a romantic relationship, you have to be very mindful not to forget about your friends. not to forget about your work relationships, not to forget about, uh, night nights out only with the girls or, solo trips or business trips. You just have to be mindful to have those 10, 15.

interactions daily because you need daily interactions with at least 10 to 15 people, either on the phone, either messaging, going out, meeting with new people or meeting with old friends. It doesn't matter. You just need to keep the connections in your life and not to just stay with one person. And this is how you will have a healthy romantic relationship.

When you have a lot of daily interactions, do you keep those interactions when you are in a romantic relationship? generally I do, but I do know like my younger self, I would forget more myself. I remember my relationships, but I forget myself. In the relationship, I would, like, keep in touch with friends, so I always felt, like, very suffocated.

Yeah, I know, I know. Especially during COVID, I really felt that because when, uh, when, when COVID hit, I was closed. only with my boyfriend, and I literally felt like parts of myself were crying and they were not being recognized or, or even felt. So it was very, very painful experience. In terms of, you know, restriction and not being who I am.

Yes, I understand that. I know there's other questions. Is there a just because you said that I feel like I need a lot of alone time. Is there like a specific like gate or channel or something that requires that, like more so for some, I don't know, human designs and others. The alone time could be due to two reasons. The first reason that I see your chart is the open ego center. So if you don't have, if you haven't developed strong boundaries, for example, if you haven't connected with your anger and you are not able to say no easily, and you are not able to state your needs easily, you will tend to retreat more.

You will want to retreat more. Because you are scared of, of the connections that they're going to change or influence you. So if that's the case, you just need stronger boundaries. If you are, for example, if you need more time alone because you are being too much with others and too much with other people, then this just means that you just need some more balance.

in, in your life, which is the case with you?

Mostly like, I think balance. I just like, if I'm by myself is when I can, I feel like really connected to myself versus if I'm with other people, it's very, it can be tiring after like three or four days. Yeah. That's normal for one three. I'm also one three, and this is the only entirely. personal profile.

All the other profiles have trans person, trans. Yeah, transpersonal lines, whereas one three is the only profile that is entirely turned to the cell. So that's why you cannot be fully only with others. When you're with others, you need your time alone. For example, now I went. On a friend's trip for seven days, and I needed my meditation time without my meditation time.

I couldn't function. So I needed to have those 1520 minutes per day where I am only by myself. So I can connect with me, basically. I get that. Thank you. Thank you. I'm so sorry to interrupt but I'm just being mindful of time. Kristen did not get to answer a question. Sorry, ask a question yet. So we'll have Kristen ask her question.

And I want to wrap up with a quick commentary. is that, is that okay with everyone? We, I'm also going to pass around Lily's contact info. I know this is It's like a treasure trove, isn't it? It's like, it's opening a Pandora's box and it's such a life hack. but I didn't want to talk about this with you guys yet until we first went through the initial exercise of like clarity and setting goal setting and tapping into your environment because the people should really come in last, in my opinion.

but let's have Kristen ask her question. And then wrap up. so for the gay in the middle 26 and 44. I guess if 26 is filled in, you would want someone with 44 but what if you have, what if you're both like 26 like how does that. you mean if you both have gay 26, right? Yeah. And I guess what would 44 bring?

so if you both have 20 gay 26, uh, this means a friendship connection. So you both have a very similar characteristic. You both are very similar. In this area in terms of ego. So you're very similar in how you express your ego and gate 20 gate 44 will help you in terms of bringing more abundance, more financial abundance This will help you also learn better how to have a healthy ego because K 26 is in the ego center.

How to not be, super cocky or doubting yourself. How to have that balanced, ego.

I'm actually glad you asked that question, Kristen, because the closing commenter that I was trying to make was about 26, 44, which I noticed a lot of you guys have. Yeah. I know. I noticed a lot of you guys have one or the other. I also noticed lots of you guys have the, what I call the dancer and the dancing shoes, 48, 16.

It's like the, the channel of the gifted or whatever. And, and Lily also offers like very specific physical exercises. So she was telling me yesterday about if you want to bring a more abundance into your life, cause that is like 44, 26, right. And there's something else. I think it was, is it 25, 51 Lily?

I think it is. basically like if how to activate and bring in more abundance into your life and the label is telling me about like ab exercises because the ab is connected to the solar plexus. Right there. That's the, that's the, well, yeah, that's the ego, but that is where 20 gate 26 sits. So it's either ab exercise I can commit to 40 days or any kind of.

Action that you can signal to the universe that you're committed to showing up for yourself in a consistent way. if there's anything else you want to add to that, please go ahead. But also I was curious just to wrap up what you thought about 48 and 16. Because so many people in this room have it.

48 and 16, you mean this channel? Yes. Okay, this is the channel of, I call it the skills because you really develop any skill that you, uh, want and you can become a master at that skill. For example, if you. start dancing, you become the best dancer because you have the logical mind to understand what it needs to be a good dancer.

And you will master that and become the best dancer. If you want to learn the piano, you can master the skills and play the piano amazing and become a master at that. So this is this channel. And about the, uh, and about the exercise, I just want to add that it's a very, very powerful exercise. And it is powerful because for 40 days you are committing To a goal, and by committing to a goal, you say to your subconscious that you will be there no matter what.

You will be there for yourself no matter what. Even if it's painful to do the abs, even if you don't want to do the abs, even if you skip a day, you will still come back and be there for yourself. You'll be there for your goals. You'll be there for what you want. And that's why this exercise is so powerful because it teaches you that you can count on yourself.

Second of all, it makes you more confident because when you can trust yourself, you're more confident to stick to the things that you say. And this also brings more confidence as well. And say, and third of all, you can achieve a goal. For example, you can say, I'm going to train my apps for 40 days. And I'm going to do that because I want to triple my income, or because I want to, Go on a vacation somewhere and after 40 days committing to that activity, you will achieve your goal and you'll see that amazing things are happening and you are attracting in those 40 days.

Lily, it seems like you have these types of exercises for each of the centers. Yes, yes, yes. I have exercises for each of the centers, and they are very, very powerful, but they take time to be implemented. It's not something that you do once and you are done. It's something that you commit to, like the 40 day challenge.

And by step, you know, they're they are divided in different categories because the emotional center has a lot of layers. So we have to, you know, peel them slowly and layer by layer because it is difficult sometimes to connect with your emotions, especially when you have an open emotional center. I know I also heard earlier that for root when you were talking to Kyla, it's about movement, but it seems like it's movement that grounds you and depending on the center that it connects to emotional or spleen. There can be alterations to that movement. So like, I kind of see emotion, like expressing your emotions as a form of movement, for example.

I do see it that way. Yeah, exactly. Yeah. Which kind of explains why, like, some people have to cry and shake and scream, and that's, they instantly feel better, and for me, that just does not work. That actually makes me feel worse. So I have to find, like, a different way. so it's really interesting to get into nuance, the individual nuances of this.

So, so... Okay, so we're at time. Um, I know that you guys have more questions for Lily. We will be passing out our content information. Kylae asked if you teach human design, Lily. Yes, I do teach human design. Uh, I had a lot of different courses, but right now I don't stick to any of them. I just want to make it more interactive and do it personally with the people that I'm teaching, because with different people, different things and different themes come out.

So, that's why I don't like to give something pre made or something that I have already done. Yeah, Lily's also a channeler, which is why when she works with people individually, she gets like, very like, Tailored messages, so to speak. Okay, how is everyone feeling? Was this helpful, insightful? Do you feel like you have learned deeper parts of yourself and the people around you that you can action on or just at least be more aware of?

I'm ready to take on the world. Yay! Great, I'm so happy. I think for me this was very insightful. Um, so thank you. I, you know, was already in our group chats like we have a 40 day challenge coming, different things we need to do, different things we need to connect. Um, so really appreciative. Looking forward to hopefully connecting with you on a one on one basis as well because out of everything between astrology and different things, like human design is very multifaceted layers and there's so much that you can gain from and I don't think there's ever enough time so having that one on one opportunity will definitely be helpful.

Um, and then one point of notation for HeyJune, it's like clearly girl you just got it because a lot of the partnerships you gave us, It's, it's like these mind blown wakes coming, oh, we have this, yeah, we have this channel, like, it's so spot on. So yes. Somebody, somebody asked me if I connect buddies based on human design, I was like, no, I just kind of guess who should pair up with who, but glad, glad it's kind of working.

Um, I, uh, Kristen, how did you feel? It was really helpful. I think I always found humans. I'm really confusing. So it clears up a bit. Um, okay, great. Yeah. Awesome. I just want to ask you specifically because you're obviously dealing with some, some professional connections that are not helpful. So having this clarity about yourself can help you forge healthier connections professionally down the line. I also want to emphasize before we go, something that I had to really learn is that just because you connect with each other based on these gates or these channels, it doesn't mean it doesn't mean you will experience that the same experience across the board. So, for example, like every person who has gate 55 will experience gate 55 differently.

You could have on paper, you can have the perfect match with someone in terms of human design, but one can be really healthy. One can be kind of toxic, right, depending on how evolved or unevolved individual is. So just just keep that in mind that this is not like a plug in chug exact science. It is a framework that you can use to start, sort of calculating what the highest potential is of that connection, but that it could play out differently depending on the person.

Actually, also, it is all about experimenting. It's not taking it, as you said, as pure science, just experimenting with it. Right. I had a mentor a long time ago, who I no longer work with, but whatever. She once told me, she was like, you know that you can transcend your design, right? And she was like, you know, you're a reflector, but you don't have to be a reflector.

And it's like, yeah, like, I get it. But basically, I agree with her. But it's a long, it's a long road. Cause you have to be very aware and disciplined or whatever. And also just adding to what you just said about transcending your chart, literally when you decondition an open center, it is such a huge force. You know, it is even more powerful than having it defined, but it takes a lot of efforts for sure. to get there. For example, if you have an open ego, you can act and be and feel as a defined ego when you have put a lot of effort into deconditioning the ego center.

this is what Hye 📍 Joon meant when she said that you can Go above your chart.

Absolutely. Okay. So, uh, we will wrap right now. Please keep a look up for my email on Lily's content information. She will be back in cohort two. I'm actually thinking you guys might have to come back for that next event because at that point she will go into probably other Details that I don't want you guys to miss out on.

So, so stay tuned for invites, invitations on that as well. Yeah. Alrighty. Thank you so much, Lily, for your time and, um, bye guys. I hope to see you guys soon. It was such a pleasure. Thank you. Bye bye.
