Business Growth The High Priestess B - Video Transcript

Okay. Um, great. Let's see. Place new vitamin C one. So good. If you are 30 is my most viral video. Um, honestly, I got so dumb. Lucky with it.

I dunno. Can you guys.

Do I have to go back into Zoom? How does this work? Wait, are you gotta go back? Oh, great. Yeah. Okay. No, no. Stay on, stay on TikTok. 'cause we're gonna show, we're gonna see two more pieces of content. Um, uh, let's watch other two. And I hope everybody remembers an order, what she showed us that we can like, give feedback at the very end.

Okay. Uh, the next kind of most viral video was when I said to people I'm giving out free readings. Hello. Today's 15 days of Giving where I'm doing free channel messages for everyone who puts a comment below. Uh, please mark private or public. I'm going to start with some people who've already commented.

If you don't want it posted publicly, I will take this video down and send it to you separately. Um, but we can get started. First person is Dark Fairy 72, and you know, the fairies wanna talk to her. All right. Ooh. All right. We got one. Ah, yes, lady of the Harvest. Okay. Lady of the Harvest is about letting go.

What are you holding onto? Let me tap in. I could be completely wrong, but there's something coming through about your, your son, if you have one. Um, this one's a bit longer. Sorry. Something about the fact that he's growing up and you're kind of like sad to see him growing up. I don't know. It's very interesting.

Good news is you have a guide. It's the fairy godmother. So basically she's there to just guide you through this releasing phase with grace. Also she offers last minute rescues. So you are gonna be potentially receiving help even though you think you don't deserve it, but you do last one and friends are there to help.

Next one is 33 goats be star family. So your star family are people who are cut from the same cosmic cloth as you. And as soon as you messaged me, I already knew. I was like, this person is cool and water your garden. So take care of yourself. You are possibly working yourself too hard. So self-care, I'm hearing take a bath.

I think you like those. Also e energetically baths are good for clearing. You know that already though. Yeah. All paths lead home. So I'm getting this feeling of you have millions of directions to go in and I think that can be very overwhelming with TikTok especially. But what I'm hearing is, you know the way home already.

So your job right now is to water your garden, take care of yourself, and turn everything inwards to find your path. I'm gonna post another two people. So new video. That's the end of that one. Hello, please, Fox. Quick, quick, quick question. First of all, that was fantastic. Yeah. Um, so, so you had the hook, which was, um, I'm giving free messages and the call to action was, I have a parked here, which is great, and everything in between was like, the nightmare wasn't there because you're telling somebody like, oh, this thing could happen.

Was that a live that you recorded or, or was that like just. You extracted some comments from previous videos and was a response to that. So what happened was I did 15 Days of Giving, which is just below it, right here with the little Santa Claus man. And then people started to reply on that. So that's the first video.

So then I started doing video replies to each of the people, as many as I could. And you know what's really interesting about this one is I, I basically channel in the moment. Mm-hmm. So I'm also simultaneously, like, I'm simultaneously taking a break to kind of like read the description of each of the cards and see what really pops out.

'cause that's how I do my material readings. Mm-hmm. I do it via Claire Cla Sentance. Mm-hmm. And actually the guy, the the person, the second guy, 33 Groats, is actually one of my clients right now. And it was all based off of this. TikTok video. Nice, nice. Because he was, yeah, because he said, how do you know that I love taking baths?

I was like, I channeled the information. You know what I mean? Like, that is what I was hearing. And that is what I was told is that you like, take baths. That's awesome. Um, okay. Yeah, that, that's great. So you got a, you got a client from TikTok through the, through a video series like this, and what does he, what does he come to you for?

Like energy reading or, so he specifically comes to me for spiritual coaching because he's already done a bunch of this stuff. Like, he's seen the shamans, he is done, the mushrooms, you know, he's gone on the trips and he has this very sporadic energy that is like very difficult for him to focus sometimes.

Mm-hmm. So he, so he specifically came to me because. The shaman that he saw like a few years ago looked him in the eye and was like, are you going to do the work this time? Right. So it's like one thing to do a ceremony, 'cause that's just in the moment. It's like for a couple of days or a couple of hours, you still have to do the work after the fact.

So he came to me for this very specific reason of being like, what do I need to work on now? Because I, he's like, I don't know. He's like, I'm in the middle of Nova Scotia in a town of 200 people. Spirit sent me here. I don't know why I'm here. Can you like help me out as to my next steps on my spiritual path?

200 people. Wow, that's like really small. Yeah. Is this person paying you? He is. Okay, great. Oh my God. I was gonna get really upset if you said no, I'm not charging him a lot. And I actually recently just contacted him and said. Listen, I'm taking a break right now. 'cause again, things got a little bit complicated because I found that he was not be like, I don't wanna use the word bad client, 'cause that sounds so terrible.

But he was getting at this point where he was like, the, our sessions were getting derailed. Like, you know what I mean? Like Spirit was telling me, Hey, me and this person need to work on X, Y, Z, and then the session would get derailed for one reason or another. Mm-hmm. And so I made an executive decision also, I was really sick for a few weeks, so I made an executive decision to say, no, we need to like take a break, but I'm gonna refer you to my friend who also does spiritual coaching.

Mm-hmm. Because I, I don't feel like he's like the ideal client anymore. And also, I don't think he can pay me my new price, which I priced myself so ridiculous at this point. But whatever. No, that's, no, I, it's, is it the price that you and I talked about? 'cause I think it's totally fair. I did it for 2, 222 for an hour and a half.

I, I, I think that's more than reasonable, especially if it's hour and a half. Yeah. Yeah. So I went for it. But that's the story behind that video. I love it. And yeah. So this is great because it got, it landed your, your first virtual client. I can see why they want to work with you because you're answering them, they're seeing an action, what you do.

Yeah. They're seeing an action. Like you're giving them a flavor of like, Hey, this is what it's like to work with me. So every single person in this room who wants to provide a service to their client, um, this is a really great content idea to like, be like, Hey, I'm giving out this freebie. I'm gonna pick a few winners.

So you get a taste of how, what it's like to work with me. Yeah. And always I a call to action. Yep. Yeah. That whole series was really effective. Lots of people messaged me after, um, not everyone was a cus a customer though. That was the only thing. Okay. And then one more video. Yeah. That went super viral. Um, oh, it's my quantum leaping series.

People really enjoyed the quantum leaping. There we go. 4,000, 4,700 views.

Oh, I know that creator, but I don't know the creator. According to an inside source, I'm doing a shitty job of explaining what shifting is your best reality looks like. To be super clear, day one, day two, day three is all about the emotional and mental prep work to get you into good mental state. Before you take this process on the big moment you've all been waiting for, please go watch the video about the four D cube.

It is very important because this is where your best timeline is sitting in the fourth dimension. Some people say the fifth dimension. There are things our eyes and senses can't perceive that exist in a different part of our reality. When you're shifting your job is to pull your best timeline from the quantum field, the four D five D realms, and pull it into your body, into your vessel, into your 3D space, the material world.

How do you do that? Well, let's backtrack. First of all, everything is energy. Your thoughts, your emotions are energy. Every time you think a thought, an electrical impulse goes off, or every time you feel an emotion, it triggers your brain and sends a series of impulses throughout your whole body and brain.

When you get sad, you cry. When you find something funny, you laugh. Energy is released. Your best timeline is also energy, a specific frequency in time and space. Your goal is to access the energy of your best timeline. How do you do it? There are three ways to do this just before you go to sleep or are in a meditative state, IE theta waves, you can a tap into the feeling of your best life.

It could be happiness, joy, freedom, or B. You can visually see yourself in your best timeline. IE if you want a new car, you see yourself driving your new car and you go through every detail of your new car. Is the car red? Is it black? What make and model is it? Or C, you say the affirmation. I intend to wake up in the best timeline and let it rip and release control and let the universe take care of it.

Come back tomorrow and we will go through what pitfalls you need to be careful of or traps people fall into. Okay. Bye. Ooh. Also, watch the YouTube video. It does a really good job of explaining this four d slash visualization process. All right, that's the end. Okay. Really solid. I'm gonna give my, um, quick round.

Thank you so much Alessandra for that. That was beautiful. Did you I I couldn't see the hashtags, but I, but also like there were people's like names like coming up, which I've never seen before. Did you add hashtags at all? Uh, yeah. For all of them I put hashtags. So quantum leaping best timeline. I made sure that I always used.

So for the quantum leaping series, I made sure I always used the same timeline so that every time someone looks up best timeline, they'll see the 12 videos or they'll see my face more often. Got it. Sounds good. Um, all just wanted to make sure that they were there. I have a piece of feedback that I think just because, just I want this to be personalized to all of you guys.

Okay. So based on your individual goals, and I know your goal, Alessandra, so I have my feedback, which I'm gonna reserve till the end. 'cause just in case someone says it. Um, wait, I, oh, can you remind me what your mercury is? Pisces, right? Yeah. Pi. Same as yours? Yeah. PIs. And what's your fifth house ruler again?

Taurus. Okay, great. Got it. Okay. Yeah, let's open up the floor. Any quick com uh, questions for. Not question. Sorry. Comments? Comments, comments. Feedback for Alessandra. Um, I had some, your content was so engaging for me, like, I don't know if you could see me, but I was like, like big fish eyes. I was like, the entire time.

And I was like, dang, maybe I should hit her up and like ask for a session or something. Oh, thank you. Thank you. I appreciate that.

What, uh, Michelle, what made it engaging? She really showcased her expertise and like when you sprinkle in the vocabulary and then add more nuance to it, like, she was like, this is like something that. I can't remember the words anymore, but there were like some big ass words in there and I was like, okay, this is a vocab word that I'm not too familiar with.

But then she went in to be like, this is why this is important. This is what it is, and here is how I can like help you and blah, blah, blah. And I was like, okay, these are things that I was not aware of. And it's calling to me like, what are some stuff in my life that I like wants to like fix? And she was talking about like getting the better timeline and like pulling it from like different dimensions to my own.

And it's like I, it's like calling to action the spiritual journey that you can like go on. And then like, because uh, she is the person who is um, um, bringing forth this information to me, it kind of makes me think like, oh, this is something that I need to do. She's probably something who has expertise in it.

Then I can probably ask her for like her services or for help if I do fully want to like continue on with that kind of journey. So what I'm hearing from that, it was that it was very grounded. Right. Like very, very grounded, very concrete meth like method to help somebody get from A to Z, which by the way, very Taurus fifth house.

Um, yeah, yeah. There there's other qualities to Taurus of course, but the ground, and this is a big one. Yeah. Honestly, that is huge for me because I always think about it from the other person's perspective where I'm like, how do I break this down in the most simplest way possible where anybody could do it.

Like even maybe even like a five-year-old could be like, I can shift it to my best time, like kind of thing. Yeah. There's a thing, oh, sorry. Sorry, go ahead. Uh, there's like a, there's a thing on Reddit that's like a sub. Reddit is like, tell me like I'm five or more commonly on TikTok. Now there's a new. Term.

Term that was coined called girl splaining, where you like explain it as if you're talking to like some dumb people, like quote unquote the girls instead of mansplaining your girl splaining. And I've watched a few videos, girl splaining like taxes and stocks and Ukraine, and I was like, oh shit, I actually understand this now.

So yeah, the way that you girl explained that, I was like, yes, I can with my little smooth brain. I can understand now. You're so much more smarter than that. But thank you so much. I totally get what you're saying. I love it. That's amazing. Thank you. I liked how, how comfortable you were with your, the information that you were sharing and how personable you are.

Like if I was just met you, that that's exactly how you would talk to me, so I could tell you're very comfortable and passionate about what you're sharing. Thank you. Anybody else?

Oh, I realized I'm on mute. Oh, not, oh, sorry. I'm sorry guys. No, I was gonna say, um, I'm so sorry. I'm a mess right now. I'm getting ready to go. Um, no, I thought you really knew your shit. Like I was watching you and I was like, this woman knows what she's talking about. And, um, that's what I enjoyed about it.

'cause you know a lot of people you see on the internet, you're like, yeah, whatever. But I would trust you to have a conversation with you 'cause you seem like you know your stuff. Nice. Thank you. Yeah, I think the sounding feedback is that you're, that you come across very, like I said, grounded and trustworthy and like, know your stuff, which I think is, um, I, I think when anybody has like an earth fifth house, that, that's really helpful because you speak like in such a tactile manner.

Like people can like, feel like palpably what it is you're trying to convey. Yeah. Um. Ej, did you have any piece of feedback or, or not really? Um, so I get to see Allie, um, regularly and I've been following her content, so, um, I know that we talk to each other. I just like that she seems really authentic.

There's a lot of people who talk about this topic and it just seems like they're super woo woo and there's a lot of like special effects and stuff. She like, this is like really authentic, like it makes her really trustworthy. Um, and I can see why so many people tune into her instructions for this when, um, because it's her, if that makes sense.

Right. Yeah, absolutely. So, okay, so I'm just gonna bring it all in, um, real fast. So Alessandra, you're a projector, right? Like projectors, typical archetype is to introduce people to, um, like a different world, quite literally, and giving them access to things that they hadn't thought of. I mean, that's kinda like the projector, healer archetype.

So you're already doing that with your content. If we just, if I just run through the, the check marks real fast. So your content is both educational and entertaining. It leans more towards education, but you achieve both, essentially. Um, your broad niche and, um, audience is very clear to me. The, the broad, I think is like new age, to be honest.

So yes, it's like individual, like hyper individualized spiritual practices, but it's really about new age. Like when I'm, especially because like I'm listening to what modalities you're teaching and any, anytime someone mentions like quantum, I'm like, okay, this is new age person, right? So that's like your thing.

So anyone who's coming out of. A very archaic old modality of like religious backgrounds that you're like, Nope, that's old. So that's kinda like what you do. My only piece of feedback, and it's pretty solid, but my only piece of feedback is, um, you want to start introducing yourself, whether it's beginning at the end.

I, I recommend beginning so that people will know what to go to you for. Yeah. I, I realized that after the fact. I'm like, duh. Should have said what I did. No, no, no, no. It's, it's, these are very easy to, easy things to overlook. I would also, the, I also think your content has all the four elements already. The structures, the dream, network, hook, whatever.

I would tighten it up a little bit, make it more compact. So I would go immediately to the dream, immediately to, you can even jump the dream by the way. You can just go straight to them and be like, people are doing this wrong or people are manifesting the wrong things or whatever. Right. Um, so I think all the components are there, are just like maybe condensing it.

Okay. Perfect. Yeah. And um, also I would start adding, I know you haven't made videos in a while. I actually don't know, but I would start adding texts for everybody in the room. Add very explicit instruction for the audience. Like click the plus sign to blank. I would start adding that in. Yep. Perfect. Thank you.

Of course. Really solid. Okay. Who would like to go next?

I'll go next. It's Laura. I'll go next. Um, okay, so to share, share content. So this video that I'm going to show was actually my first successful video and it was very unexpected, but it's about dating red flags. He ain't got no money. He ain't got no money. He ain't got no money. He do not have no money. He ain't got no money.

Did you guys hear it now? He ain't got no Yes. Let watch it. You said watch it one more time? Yes. He ain't no money. He ain't got no money. He ain't got no money. He do not have no money. He ain't got no money. All right, so that's the first one, ed ahead. Okay, hang on. Hang on. I'm sorry. Can you go into the video but just pause it?

Sure. He ain't got, okay, so I'm just looking at the hashtags and the sound was just some, just some sound you found that was trending. Was that how you found it? Yeah. Okay. Um, I agree with all these points, by the way. So there's that very solid. Also, it was definitely very viral, so awesome. 273 shares, close to $90,000, not 9,000, 90,000 views.

Yeah, let's go into the next one.

So, and then outta that, a lot of discussion came outta that and a lot of men were mad and it was like, this isn't really for you, but okay, this is, this was like a, it makes no sense. It's getting on my nerve every single.

That's really good.

I like to laugh. Delta Sky Lounge. Hmm. Is that true Delta Sky Lounge? Like does that work? Yes. Really? How like start talking to them? Well, yeah. I could just talk to anybody, but yeah, it's worth it when you go and you know, you're looking nice. I talk to you. Shoot. Nice. I love it. Okay, great. Now one, one final one.

Okay. Um, well this one has, so the most popular video on my page is the one top right has over 200,000 views. But it really has nothing to do with anything. It's literally just clips to a sound. But people loved it and they still love it. I'm like, okay. I like other videos, Jesus. But, um.

Oh no. Oh, this one people, oh my God. Corny la boo. Tomato, tomato, tomato. I'm throwing tomatoes. Oh my god. Corny, lame. Boo. Tomato, tomato, tomato. I'm throwing tomatoes. Oh my god. Corny. Stop it Now. People were mad at too, they were just like, but there was a lot of discussion in that one as well, and I, so, so, so you have texts in there, uhhuh that could have been, that could have been converted to a call to action.

Not style is not energy or something like that, which is like really smart. Mm-hmm. So I would've made that, uh, hang on. Uh, lemme think I would've, I would've used that as a bait for people to get to follow you. So click the plus sign to learn about energy, not style or something like that. Yeah. Because that's like your hook.

I think that's like your, that's, that's like your niche ultimately. Mm-hmm. Really solid, really good use of trends. Um, so this is like your main page, right? Not like your business page. This is my main page, which I kind of want to, I don't know if I'm able to convert it into a business page because I think the people that follow me are my, um, or my client.

Mm. So, yeah, because that's what I mostly talk about on this page anyway, is relationships and femininity. It's just not, nothing's too structured per se. I, yeah. I think this can be totally converted. I can't think you just take this and converted into promoting your, your book. Mm-hmm. Yeah. For your or your services.

Um, alright. I obviously have. Feedback, but once again, I wanna open up the floor to everyone. I wanna also quick, uh, quick, quickly. You're mer uh, Gemini Mercury, Gemini fifth house, right? Yes. Yeah, I think that really shows, um, because, 'cause Gemini rules the lovers and also like, remember how I, how I told you guys?

Gemini's very mercurial. So any like, mix and match of any kind of like, uh, like short form communication. So like audio memes, like text like, and she incorporates all of them, right? Like trends and whatnot. Anyway, I'll open up the floor,

I can go. This is just my very initial gut, gut reactions. Um, I think you're funny. I think you're funny. Uh, I love the way that you're just like, your face, your facial expressions are just like, fuck that guy. He ain't got no money. Just stop fooling around. You know, like, wake up. Like I love that. I love that in your face.

Like, girl, just fucking do the right thing for yourself already. Like stop trying to justify this broke ass man. You know? So I love that. Oh, sorry. Go ahead. No, it, it's funny because like I had to, so I know the whole sound was, he doesn't have any money, but I wanted it to be more so about characteristics and everyone just kept talking about the money that I had to do another video.

I was like, you guys, this isn't about buddy. It's, it's just, no, but I still got it though. It was like, what? I have to read it a couple times, but it's like, basically what does this guy bring to the table? Yeah. Which, right. Like, what does he bring to the table? Um, and I, um, my other thought is that I feel like you just really have the formula down.

Like, you know, the right sounds, you know, what to write to, like, get a reaction from people. So I think that's just like, I wanna like work on that more where I'm just like very like, pow in your face. I really like that. You just, you just like, you're just like, Hey, I'm over here. Listen. So I really like that.

Very different, right? Very different. Right. So Alessandra like, you're like that to that, that voice of reason, the groundedness that I'm gonna help you through the fire. Yeah. Um, lo Laura's like Gemini fifth house, so she's very like, very quick, like very on the go, like very short form. Like catchy. Yeah. So it's just like, just diff just different energies to work with.

Yeah, I like it. I like the end. Thank you.

It was great. 'cause you, you expressed like, I know I'm beautiful but I'm over all this shit. I'm over it and your face shows it with beauty and just grace and I thought that was cool. I had one comment where, I think the very last one you said that because it was like kind of not problematic, but it generated a lot of discussion.

I think you can lean into. That kind of content that generates a lot of discussion because when people get riled up, they will rush to the comments and be like, oh, I think this is wrong. And then they'll start wanting to fight people who al who like have different opinions on them and gets more traffic to your videos and stuff.

And it's, it's always the problematic people that are showcased more on like social media and stuff because like that's, they, they have traffic, they're generating that revenue for TikTok and for themselves. So if you lean into that more, I think you can like grow in terms of like audience and followers.

Mm-hmm. Good idea.

It's funny 'cause um, Allie and I in our call yesterday had this conversation about posting content that might get backlash or be controversial or, um, have this whiplash effect. And I see that as an opportunity to respond to those comments. And then you have all these videos you can make and create a discourse about what you wanna convey and that, you know, you can disagree with people.

They're not gonna be able to even talk back unless they leave you more crappy comments, which is great. You could just keep talking to them if it's a intelligent enough discourse for you. But that those sparking that kind of. Response on your video only gets you more ideas for content. At least that's how I see it.

Yeah, I agree. I even, it's, but I even have a video that says I'm always okay saying the uncomfortable thing. 'cause I'm used to being misunderstood. So it's like, what's one more person misunderstanding me? I don't care at this point.

I dunno if that's good or bad, but so, so, so my feedback, I agree with everyone. My, my main feedback is, um, two things. Number one, I think your bio, the reason why I asked, like, could we just change this too, like your business TikTok is, because I think your bio can just say author of blank. Mm-hmm. Yeah. I need to change. Or coach for modern dating or coach, whatever it may be.

Right? Like author of or writer of anything like that. Mm-hmm. Um, or you can say like, you know, download, you already know this. We talked about this. The other thing is, I think in your content, especially since you plan, I'm sure you plan on making more of these at the very end, the call to action, um, should just, I think you're ready to go.

Just start calling out. Like, you know, go to link, buy to download blank, or grab a copy of my blank. Or for more tips, even your opt-in, like to get your affirmations to like, overcome the shit, you know, go to whatever. I think it's, I think it's ready because you, what I, one thing I get from your content is not just humor, but also that you know what you're talking about.

So people are gonna know what else, you know, basically they're gonna want to know what else, you know? Mm-hmm. Okay. So it's a good time to, to shift from entertainment, to like Okay. You know, info. Yeah. In info slash like monetizing. Yeah. Okay. Directing traffic. Okay. Alright. Thank you. Awesome. Um, that was fun.

Who would like to go to, uh, ej. Let's go.

So the most viral video is probably this one. Hold on y'all. If I popped up on your for you page, quit scrolling real quick. I got a message for you. Listen, if I popped up on your, for you pages for a reason, you have found your tribe, we healing, we spiritually awakening, we going through this life journey and we are learning ourselves and we loving ourselves in different ways.

I need you to comment below. I need you to follow me. Uh, I'm gonna follow you back. Hey, listen, follow each other. That's what we're doing. We're finding our tribe. It's so hard to find like-minded people that's experiencing the same things. Let's share our testimonies and stories with one another. Let's get to know one another.

This is, this is what this app should be for. It should be for networking. It should be finding like-minded people that's going through and experiencing the same things as you. So if you healing and you on your spiritual journey and you're trying to express what you got going on and tell your story, don't be scared.

You gotta start somewhere. Add me and add the people in the comments. Peace and love. Have a wonderful blessed day, y'all.

You can pick whichever. I'll let you pick. Uh, dealer's choice. You get to pick the. Three that you wanna show.

Here are a few things you should really make sure are included in your personal brand. Starting with your strengths. Does your personal brand exude what you are strong in, what you are talented at and align you energetically with the clients that you want to be working with? Does it show your passion and your interests?

Does it establish your values and does it make that connection? Does it inspire? If those things aren't happening in your personal branding, you gotta fix that. Like right now, I'm in the process of rebranding myself and I'll be sharing my journey as I go along. Recreating who I am, which I'm very excited about, but I've been helping people with their personal branding for three decades.

You want me to help you like and follow for more? Leave me a comment and I might do a free workshop and I'll add you to the wait list. Sound good? Mm-hmm. Fun.

Conference survival guide. Here are four things that I need you to do the next time you go to a business conference. Number one, be strategic with your time. Pick and choose before you get to the conference. The things that you cannot miss and schedule time that you're gonna be back in your room or somewhere on the grounds that is peaceful for you.

You can't be around all those people all the time and still feel fully charged. It's okay to take a break from the fun. There's no fomo. You're gonna go to the best stuff that you wanna go to. Number two, be strategic about who you get contact information from. You don't need to gather every business card.

You don't have to meet every person. But if you hear a keynote speaker or a panelist that really lights you up, get in with them. Make sure you talk to them, and we get. Sure that you find them outside of their panels so you can have a good conversation with them and really exchange ideas. Today I pulled aside a panelist who was talking about mindset and talking about imposter syndrome, and I made sure when I saw her in the, in a different location at the conference to grab her and have a conversation with her.

We exchanged cards. We made some plans to get together after the conference. It was a home run. Number three, don't drink. Trust me when I tell you this. Being sober at a conference really changes the game. It helps you stay alert, helps you get up early. It helps you be present during the whole thing, and you get to be mindful during the conversations that you have and there's no awkward moment like you're the guy that got drunk, right?

Nope. Be sober. I'm telling you it's the best way to go. And most importantly, practice mindfulness as much as you can. Be present, make eye contact. Meditate in your room when you've got time, even a few minutes in the morning before you go and actively listen to the people that you meet. It's quality over quantity.

When you meet someone that you wanna network with, really give them your full attention. What's something you do and your comfort Survival guide? Add it in the comments below, please.

Anything else? Detail more, more recent videos have, um. You know, have like the, the like, have the text on the top, um, and that, you know, the rolling text. And I just made a video that's in my drafts folder that I guess you guys will see soon. Um, but it's really fun and I recorded myself snowboarding, going to my car, taking off my gear, and talking about like, having personal time when you work to like, avoid workaholic is, even though I'm totally working as I'm getting into my van, right.

But making tiktoks is fun. Mm-hmm. So yeah, just like making more of an effort to put the text above my head, um, and figure out like where things are gonna be. I also, uh, um, was able to edit my profile. So my, I have my, my company website and email on there until I get the new company website and new email all finished set up.

Yes, absolutely. I saw that and I was, I was like, really happy you did that. I obviously have my 2 cents. Um, I showed you guys the videos that I thought that, um, EJI did a really good job portraying who she is, but also making it very clear like what she's good at, right? This hybrid of like spirituality and business.

Um, so before I give my two, 2 cents, let's open up the, the floor. Something about your voice is so calming, ej. Like, I can just listen to you talk. And, um, the video you made about tips for attending a conference, I've never heard someone give tips for a conference. And I have done the opposite of all of those, um, especially if they're getting very drunk one.

Um, so I appreciate that information. But your vo, your voice is so calming and just even your presence, like you being on screen, I'm just like, I listen, so you talk about anything, but at least you, you, but you were talking about things that were important, but just you on the screen itself. I could listen to you talk about whatever.

Yeah, I like that conference video too.

Can can I go next, um, EJ again? Yeah, agreed. Love your voice. Super calming. It reminds me of what, hey, June said about, I think it, uh, your, one of your houses is in ca or cancer or one of them and it's like that really motherly energy and I actually really appreciate that you took the time to do the, the conference TikTok to say, Hey, I'm telling you, it's like, it was like you're telling me so you could take care of me.

You know, like you're helping me, right. Make good decisions for myself. 'cause I'm the kind of person who would go to a conference and burn myself out when I should probably just go to my room and meditate for an hour or whatever. So I love the fact that you're coming from a place of taking care of us.

The other thing I really like, I don't know why it's so random. I love you just talking and being out and about and doing things like you're in the, you're at a hotel conference, you at the bathroom, you're like. You know, you're snowboarding, you're at the grocery store, you're getting your hair done. Like, I don't know what it is about this.

Like I keep seeing these clips of you doing these, talking about these things in very ca in a very like casual as you go about it way, I don't know, something about that just really pops up to me. It's very in the moment. Yeah, very in the moment. Yeah. I like that. Yep. It's like we're there with her. That's what it feels like.

Yeah. Well I had to do the sink, I had to do that sink one at the hotel where I was staying. 'cause my sink is never that clean ever, uh, Vanessa or Michelle. I liked how warm and embracing and your smile like you were really just. Feeling it and exuding that comfort out. And I, I noticed how animated you are, just, it shows in the background you, your, your, your colors and your glasses, like it's expressed in the entire skit scene or what, what's, what's the word I'm looking for?

Um, but yeah, it shows your creativity. I basically agree with what everybody else was saying. Like it was very, very comforting. I just have like a goldfish frame. I, so when I was watching the video and like you were giving the four points, I think I would've appreciated like cutting to the point a little bit faster.

Like, I think like everything was, or a lot of the words were a little fluffy and a little fillery. So if you can cut that down instead of saying like the same thing in 500 words, you can say the same thing in 200 words. So it like. And it gets to the point faster so people drop off less. Yeah. So I think, um, I think it's, I think some people like that nurturing tone where they wanna be led to the water and some people might like the, just, just gimme the goods now, kind of a thing, right?

So I think that's the beauty of the bullet point, so that people know what's kind of coming up, like what you're gonna say. So if you can get to that point faster, I do think that'll be kind of helpful. Um, but I, I really do think it kind of comes down to like audience preference. Like do they wanna be led or do they wanna just cut straight to it?

I, so I agree with everyone. I have my 2 cents now that I'm seeing this with a fresh set of eyes. So I know you're going with the Empress and I think you should stick with that, but in the back of my head, I have a different. Title that might energetically get you a closer to what you're, I think what you're trying to portray and who you really are or, or what you embody.

It's business shaman because you have this like Meryl Streep vibe going on, right? Like, and she like walks that line between like, you know, that very like scorpion energy, but also like, don't fuck with me. Like I know what I'm talking about. Kind of a vibe, right? So I that I feel like if that's like kind of the, the note, the tone that you can hit, which that's why I like the conference thing because you're in your professional attire, you're wearing your glasses, but you're like in a conference and you're like, well fuck this.

I'm taking some time out for myself 'cause I need to, and so should you. Right? So I think that there is this. I think the allure is that someone first sees you and they're like, oh, you know, maybe she just seems kind of like hippie. But then you start talking, they're like, wait, she's actually like super pro.

So I think that's like the, the, I feel like that could be your hook. Like you're a hook basically. And what you say is like, what draw fuel in further. So I think Meryl Streep is a pretty good proxy. And I, I, if I recall correctly, you also have Scorpio fifth house, so portraying that super badass shamanic energy.

But there's like this like corporate overlay, which you do by with the information that you share. Um, the third, the, the final feedback that I, I just realized if, if I knew the sooner I would've told you, but I think the final feedback is, um, don't, don't, I, I, for now, I wouldn't recommend PE to people like, do you want this as a call to action?

Just put a stake in the ground and say like, I'm having a free webinar and you can sign up at x. And I know you don't have that yet, but eventually you will. So say like, you know, sign up at Lincoln Bio. Just put a stake in the ground. Just like tell people to go sign up. Does everyone agree with that? The Meryl Streep vibe and the business genre?

It's a huge compliment and I feel a little impost about calling myself a business shaman. That seems really big. I mean, 'cause, because business coach is a pretty saturated term and it's also a lot of fluff, right? Mm-hmm. But like what you're portraying is like, yeah, it, it is pretty like shaman like, but you're not talking about spells, you're talking about how to ground yourself in a conference.

So that's kind of how, that's like the bridge. I don't know. I, I don't know. Does that resonate with you? Business shaman? I mean, I think it's really fucking dope. Like, I, I have to put things in writing that's like, so I wrote it down while you're saying it, so like. Like I, I, I could be down for this. I just have to like, get rid of my imposter syndrome mindset about calling myself a shaman when I'm not a shaman yet.

Well, business shamans are different. You know, you're, uh, you're not talking to the dead, but you are talking to something that unlocks potential for people. Yeah. Um, all righty. So everybody went Okay. We right. Everybody went. Okay. As in like the feedback we have Michelle and, uh, Vanessa. So Michelle would, yeah, I could not shy or anything.

Okay. Let's see. Share screen. Okay. Start broadcast two, one. Okay. So I would just like to point out that. Uh, as of late, when I started posting more regularly, I started getting like very consistent or more consistent views. And then I posted, I used to post a lot of like MCAT stuff. 'cause when I was studying for the mcat, that was like, thus everything that I ate, breathed, consumed, and then I also made memes about it.

So this was the first thing that gave me, I mean, where the fuck should I really even, yeah. And then after that I started posting a lot more like MCAT related stuff, but they never got to like 15 K views ever again. And then, um, I'm sorry. I'm sorry, Michelle. Can I watch that again? My bad. Yeah, sorry. I mean, where the fuck should I really even.

I mean, and then if you wanted to see the hashtags, I used

and then this crown, the send was also the sound. I can't speak today. The sound was trending at the time as well. And then another thing that I did that was, uh, trending is currently trending is, so that was another thing. And then, so those are two pre-med related stuffs that I did. And for my animal crossing stuff, they're, they're getting like, like under 300 views. And then I did a series where I asked my boyfriend to rate. Animal crossing characters, which was very fun to do because it really helped me get into the swing of like, like filming and then post-production and then feeling better about posting things because like, I didn't really care as much about like, like the results, it's just that we were able to do something together and it was a lot more fun for me.

So it made the process more enjoyable. So, but like some other stuff that I did was like using this particular, um, what's the word? A program to help me. Um, it helps me to plan my island out and I am doing the series where I'm, um, showing my progress and my planning and then sharing it with other people.

And then this is one that got a lot of feedback. From like strangers. I got some of my friends to like comment on it, but I got some strangers to ask me, what is this? Because this looks so cool, like I wanna use it for my island or give me feedback for what I should do for the island. And then. I have an update from my island, and this is gonna be my shopping district with, um, the Taylor Shop and the Nick Cranny over here.

I don't know if I want it to be like this far to the beach because I want like some kind of stall market thing over here, and then this land bridge is going be like exactly that. So it's like a pseudo bridge. I don't know if I can put like a bridge over nothing but it. That would be really cool if we can do that.

So like, if this doesn't work, I might wanna like push it this way. I'm also not entirely in love with this design, but I know for sure I want these to be like, kind of like this, where they're separated so they can be their own things, but they have like something in the background that you can look at and be like, oh, that's really nice.

And then I found some inspiration online where this thing over here is like some swing sets where you can just sit there. It's like a secret way to get down there. So I ended up tearing that down and posting this follow-up one over here on this right side. But yeah, that was like that series that I did.

And so far I've, I've been enjoying it. And then, uh, I don't know if I wanna show like other stuff, but yeah. But yeah. Okay. Excellent. So as, as usual, I have my feedback, but I would like to open up the floor first so I don't bias anyone. Then, uh, and then I'll go, oh, can I go? I, no one's going. So, um, okay.

First of all, I found that MCAT video of you, the guy breaking in. I don't know. I just, that is just my particular brand of humor. Just like, Hey, do you wanna come study the cat with me? And the person's like, fuck no. So I found that whole thing fucking hilarious. I like, wanted to keep watch. That was like one video.

I'm like, yeah, I've watched that a few times. Um, there's something about your demeanor that I really enjoy. And, okay, here's the thing. I have watched anime since I was like 16 years old, and I just love the very Kauai, very like, cute. I, I don't know, is that a co? Is, I don't want it to be like, yeah, yeah. One of my, one of my friends, like, you remind me of an anime character.

I was like. Am I? Yeah. 'cause I think I have also been watching anime since I was young, so I don't know if I like subconsciously model my personality around anime characters. But if it happens, yeah. It, honestly, I don't think it's a bad thing at all. Um, 'cause anime is everywhere now. Like even I was like listening to music sets on YouTube yesterday, and they always overlay it with like anime imagery and it's just like everything's anime.

But I don't know, there's something about it that I, I feel like it was falling into that format of like, and also like the an, what is it, animal Crossing. It was just very cute. I, I don't know. The whole thing was cute. Uh, I liked that. Because I've watched anime since young, so I don't know. Does that make any sense?

Yeah, yeah. Like the animal crossing thing, I'm actually trying to like work on niching down and deciding which one I want to pursue more long term. Because like when I first started TikTok, the pre-med stuff was what got me views a lot. And then every now and then I would post a meme about something completely unrelated.

Sometimes it would do really well, sometimes it wouldn't. And then, um, I would, and now that I'm posting like more animal crossing content, I've been getting very consistent views in terms of like, like just views and likes. And my cousins and my sister commons, we like, 'cause we all play together. We're like a massive animal crossing family.

And so it's like something that is really fun. I'm already doing it. So I might as well just make content on what I'm already doing. Right? Yeah. So I thought of that too. And then, but another niche or brand that I really like is, I don't know if you know about Pepperoni Muffin on TikTok. I love her. She is so funny.

But she's like the relatable big sister and 'cause she's so relatable. She does things like Get Ready with me, but she talks about random shit or she would like eat free. Yeah. And talk about random shit. And I wanna get there too. I really like that kind of branding. I just, but I've tried to like do that and I'm like, this kind of, this kind of sucks to ass right now, so I'm not, I'm not gonna pursue, like, I'm not gonna post it until like, I feel more comfortable with it, but right now I'm practicing that execution so that it's not cringey.

Yeah, yeah, yeah. Well, I don't know. Yeah. I like it. I like it. I something about the, when you said the word big sister. My, I don't know, something about it caught my attention and then I flashed back to you talking about the animal crossing video and I don't know, I just very, I don't know. I like the energy of like, you just like calmly talking about it.

I don't know. Yeah. What, what's her name? Pepperoni. What? Pepperoni Muffin. She went viral on TikTok for doing this thing, like a series called Stalking and sipping random people I find on TikTok. And then she saw this dude named Cole and then she stalked his Instagram and she was like, wow, you're hot. And then everybody loved her from there.

Yeah, something, something about your brand is like random and cute. Put it together. I think that could work.

Thank you. Alright, other folks? Vanessa, Laura, each I have, I mean, I, the, I think the one thing from a marketing perspective, if you decide that you're going to niche down or not, or, um, or if you're going to, you know, is, is to write down your goals for your TikTok. Like, do you wanna just completely, uh, attract gamers?

You want just people who have all your different interests to be part of your, are you trying to recreate what happened with that hilarious video with you and the, you know, the burglar coming in and you're saying, oh no, would you like to help me study for the mcat? Like, maybe you wanna be funny, but I think like, you need to know what your goal.

Zar for what you want your content to be. I mean, I have an account that I just post whatever the FI want and it's, I don't care if I go viral and I'm just having fun and I post a lot of like, just kooky stuff and I've just come to the realization that I've made that account, um, so that I can do all that stuff.

So I guess if you, you know, it's just like, I hate the finding your niche 'cause it's what we're all talking about and doing and you hear it so much. But I would say finding your goals and what goal you want to achieve with your TikTok. And if it's just to find other people that like are in the situation that you're in right now, like, that are like going to med school and like trying to like juggle life and like zoning out on, you know, funny games and connecting with like friends and stuff, then you're nailing it.

But if you want to have it do something or have a message, um, I think being really clear on what your goals are is gonna change. That for you. But that's, oh, that's me rambling. Yeah. So in the interest of time, I, I'm just gonna give my 2 cents and let's do, um, Vanessa real fast. But, you know, I was thinking about what you had asked me, Michelle, and I think it's, it's really important when you don't know what you wanna niche down on, right?

Because clearly you have the content making seals, you can make content about whatever you want at this point, right? It really comes down to kind of what EJ said, like knowing your goals, but also maybe just make stuff until some, until you realize like, this is what I wanna make right. Personally, like, I mean.

What I would do, and I'm not you, so I don't, I'm not saying you should do this, but personally I would probably go with a medical school direction and I would make the animal crossing a totally different TikTok account. I would try to separate the two. I would AB test and um, remember like you and I talked about how like you have a lot of Leo in this chart, like you're meant to inspire and lead.

So think about like, what do you want people to look up to you for? What do you want people to like be inspired by you for? That's why I'm kind of going with the MCAT stuff because the two tiktoks that you shared, you're clearly showing the, the d weariness of it as well as just like the rationality behind the admission process.

So maybe start with that like, like kind of like shed light on how fucked up that whole process is, you know? But, uh, I would, yeah, I totally get that. Yeah. Cool. But solid content, really good use of trends and um, I would, I would make two separate tiktoks, honestly. I would do both and see which one lands.

Yeah. Um, and last but not least, Vanessa, would you like to share your content real fast? Sure.

Okay, we're good? Yep. Okay. So the videos I'm going to show are videos that I've kind of started working on and, um, kind of, uh, I have more men asking for nose and hair waxing, so I'm like, I kind of wanna put it out there, but how can I make it clean so they get the point. So these are all just drafts with ideas and I don't know if I should do more words or, um, action or just the funny background, I guess.

Um, I think this one had a song, oh, it's not letting me do it.

The basic. Okay. I don't think it's gonna let me show things that I'm working on. I guess if you go into edits, it might work in edit clip. Oh yeah. Why is it not playing? It should. That's weird. It should, right? Yeah. You click on, um, right did like an open the box where I carry all mine. Then you, there's a picture of her after and before and then closing it up, Uhhuh.

Um, but dang, it's not letting me, for some reason it's not playing them.

But, um, I've. I've noticed that people take two animals, they like to see things with animals. So this is my first kind of like, throw myself out there. Is this, you know, at your desk? Yeah, I'm at my desk. So you're minding your own business? I'm minded. My own business. And what does she say? She said, I ain't shit.

What? So I go in the room and I sit down. Okay, and where are you sitting down? You sitting down on the chair or is this you know, at your desk? Yeah, I'm at my desk. So you're mind, your own business? I'm minded. My own business. And what does she, this is also sharing an experience. I had a client that asked me if you'd meet me halfway at a park and then, Ooh, this is not girl.

This is you right here. Woo. This is not, it's showing some client experience. She is just really happy with her hair and she was really cute.

I, if you can hear.

So, yeah. Um, what, what's that one video that says Y Mobile? Oh, Y Mobile. Oh, it was one of my first, and that's a really good point. Diane. Thank you so much for bringing that up. Thank you.

That's a really good point. Diane. Thank you so much for bringing that up. Thank you.

That's a really good point. Diane. Thank you so much for bringing that up. Thank you. The first year recap, it was kind of like, um, yeah. Okay. So I first wanna say, and I really, really wish Sylvia, uh, was here. She wasn't able to make it tonight. But this class is split into two. Half of you guys are really set on your niche.

The other half is not. It's still work in progress. Right? And then there is that intersection, which is like Vanessa, where you know your niche, but your niche is kind of transitioning Vanessa, right? So the Y mobile video that you showed us, that could be a great educational content for other people who are aspiring to get into what you do.

Remember we talked about this hyper Oh, teacher archetype. Yeah. So, you know, if you had a call to action that said, you know, click to find out how I did it, or click to learn, or click become certified, whatever, that'll be a great promo video. Okay. And, and the other video that you showed, well, that I showed last week of like you being a, um, a senior citizen, that's like your other product, right?

Like the beauty, the beauty therapy, the human connection, that's one premium service. And then the other one is you like teaching people how to be, how to do mobile beauty like you, and having those two, because I, I do have a video. Um, I don't know, can I still show the screen of that? Um, because I have a, a personal one that I just kind of throw things up there and just observe what I did different, how I could change it.

And I have a video there and, um, I don't know how to integrate the two where you said, uh, showing people if you're interested, this is what it's about. But then this is also the, um, contact connection with the client, right? Um.

And I still need to get a TikTok. I don't know why I am being such a weedy about the TikTok. Women who hustle don't understand women who hate, we don't speak the same language. Women who hustle. And then also there's one of just like, you know, more of the insight outside of the business. Part of it. I thought, I have it here, this own right.

For Christ's sake. Why? Hey, why, why? Because we fucking can. Because we fucking can. And if we can, we do. Right? For I'm telling you, I really feel like this is gonna be your other servicer product on the line, training other people to be mobile beauty specialists. Not even kidding. So that's, that's a really good example of that video.

And it just, um, integrating the two, I think is where I, you know, I've kind of created these two, but, um, thank you for, for guiding that. And it's not too split. It's still the same thing. It's just different. Yeah. And you can always compile their personal and business reels and just upload all the TikTok.

It's like, don't, you don't have to show anything new. You can just re recycle your old content. Okay. And what's your fifth house? Once again? Sagittarius. 'cause I checked it on the, so what is it? Sagittarius and Mercury's. Aquarius. Yeah, that's the SAG was all about teaching how your mind, like traveling, you know, all of that.

Um, okay. So this one was a bit different. I gave my feedback first, but really quickly, let's open it up.

I'll be super quick. First of all, I love your fucking hair. It's fabulous, gorgeous. All day, every day. Um, what, honestly, at the last moment I had these like J-Lo vibes and like J-Lo in her movies in particular always gives off this vibe of being really strong, really self-sufficient and beautiful at the same time, which I think is a hard thing to do, is like, I don't have time to look that beautiful.

So like, kudos to you. Um, yeah. And the other thing, okay, this is really random, but the other thing that popped into my mind was the draft of the old man getting his nose waxed. It reminds me of those ear cleaning videos. I have one friend who watches those ear cleaning videos, like they're like A SMR or something like that.

And I feel, I know this is really random, but I feel like those, the men getting their nose wax could just go super viral because it's just like, I don't know, it's just different. But yeah, those are my two sets. A hundred percent. A hundred percent. Yeah.

Who else? I like the use of comedy. I love, well I like to laugh, but I thought the use of comedy pull people in and it makes people pay attention to what you're, um, to what you're talking about. And I agree with June, I think that you really can move towards teaching other people how to do what you're doing 'cause you're doing it successfully.

And it might be an idea that you know they have and just don't know how to do it. So that's Michelle or. I know this is gonna be corny, but I feel like you just need a little more confidence in like how awesome you are. Um, like you have this really good content and you have this like, like this really good thing that you're doing and you have a lot of really cool messages to get out.

Um, you're tuned into like the trends, like the noises or the sounds, the TikTok sounds that you're picking, or like ones I really, you know, ones I gravitate to as well. Like, I'm like, I love that one. So like, I just feel like maybe just feeling more confident, just kind of, you know, just, just go for it and put it out there.

Um, you have a lot of really cool messages to offer. Thank you. Michelle, did you have any feedback? No, I don't think I really have any feedback. Okay. Yeah, Vanessa, I think you're sitting on a lot of gold. I'm not even talking about content perspective, like business opportunity perspective, right. Beauty therapy slash I use the word therapy like very loosely, but you know what I mean?

And, um, yeah, the, the, the teaching thing. There's, you know, whether or not you wanna do it, there's money there, there's an opportunity there, you know, so I think you can, um, start making content around that and make courses for that. Not, not hard, not which we have a master class coming up for if you guys wanna attend, how to structure your esoteric idea into a class.

Okay. So today was a ton of fun. Um, thank you for bringing your content and sharing it. Did everybody feel like you got the feedback or the comments or the, did you feel you got the sounding board that you need? Yes. Okay, great. Do you guys all feel like you have tangible action items, like next set of steps to take?

For your next round of content, because I want you guys to bring another, like three more next week. Okay. Like based on what we talked about today. Yes. Yes. Okay, great. So Michelle, I'm looking at you. This could mean that you make more like MCAT related stuff and or, but really, and you create a separate TikTok account for your animal cross, because I really think you're at that ab testing stage and based on which one does better, you can create a YouTube account for it, you know?

All righty. Um, this was fantastic. Please, uh, try to attend the masterclasses, or if you can't watch the replay, I'm gonna pair you guys up with new people. That does not mean that you ha to stop talking to your old buddy. By all means, if you wanna keep talking to your old buddy, please do. But just know that you'll get a fresh set of contact.

It was a pleasure having you guys, and I'll see you again next week. And yes, we're gonna have one more, one more round of one-on-one, so stay tuned for that as well.
