NIGHTMARE

“

When our dreams are threatened by obstacles - shadow emotions - come up. How we choose to digest these shadows, make-or-break the trajectory of the future".

Hae Jun

Often the idea or thought of not attaining our dreams is so painful, that we tend to either:

1. Deny the truth.
2. Seek inappropriate validation.

This is how we perpetuate a false reality (aka a dream that never materializes).

But, good news, there is a way to gain the courage and skills to move towards a new & more resilient dream.

The biggest step is to have the courage to understand the origin story of your unconscious wounding:

01 Your Energy type.

02 Your “North Star” Emotion.

03 Open & Undefined centers in HD.

CENTERS

In Human Design

UNDEFINED

When a center is white/not colored BUT has gates attached, it means that it is undefined.

DEFINED

*When a center is colored in, it means that it is defined.

OPEN

If you have no activation in the center, meaning it has no gate (Number) colored and is completely white, it is open.

THE OPEN & UNDEFINED CENTERS IN HUMAN DESIGN

All traumas and life lessons sit in your open and undefined centers.

Addressing open and undefined centers should be the first step in your healing journey.

Once your open and undefined centers are addressed, then your defined centers will function better (properly, easily).

Which of your centers are OPEN/UNDEFINED?

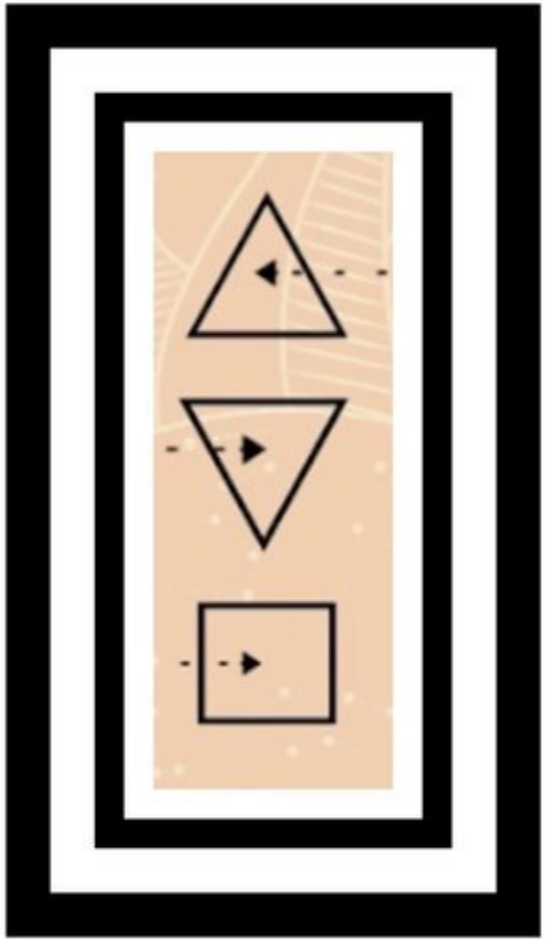
OPEN & UNDEFINED CENTER WOUNDING –

Hacks to understanding your own nightmare:

Head – Can't make decisions, always trying to answer other people's questions, doing what others want and not from your own inspiration, solving other people's prob, confusion, disconnection, doubt.

Ajna – Can't make up your mind, not confident, uncertain, too open minded, doubt, overthinking.

Throat – Blurting out comments or answers, trying to get attention so you can be heard, feeling ignored, interrupting, suppressing your voice, can't share your feelings, thinking your words don't matter, fear expressing yourself – staying quiet, talking TOO much.

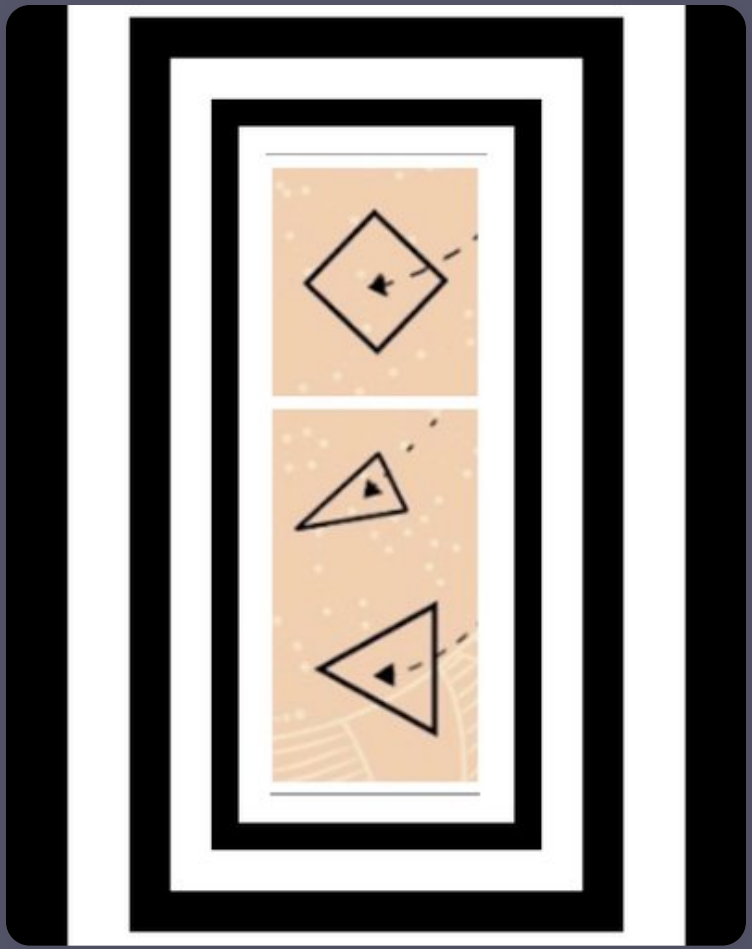


OPEN & UNDEFINED CENTER WOUNDING –

G/Identity – Self-esteem issues, feeling unlovable, lost & out of place, no self-love, bad at self care, don't know who you are, love and relationship issues...constantly.

Ego/Heart/Will – No will-power, low or no self worth, undervaluing self, undercharge for your business, give things away for free, always needing to prove yourself, feels inadequate, powerless, not worthy, can't say no, trying to make other people like you, feeling desperate. This is the most difficult center to heal/decondition.

Emotional/Solar Plexus – empath, thinking other people's emotions are your own, people pleasing, no boundaries, conflict. Avoidant, avoiding truth, feeling reactive, ignore own feelings, can't be vulnerable, shouting, yelling, never digging deep in your soul, resistant to exploring triggers (avoidant type).



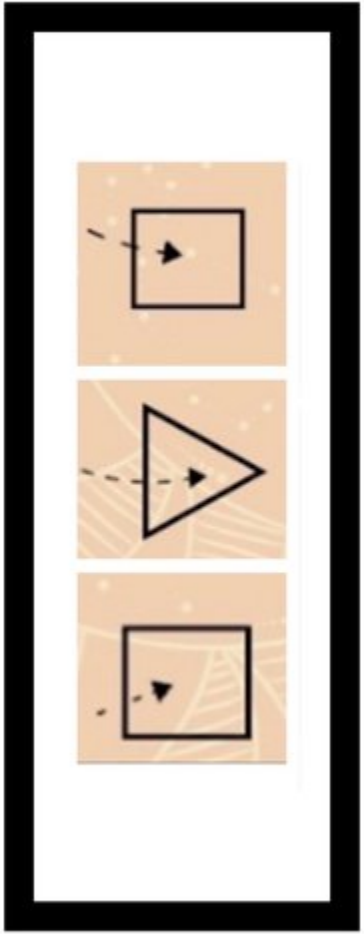
OPEN & UNDEFINED CENTER WOUNDING –

Hacks to understanding your own nightmare:

Sacral Center – Get burned out easily, get judged for being “lazy” or “incapable”, not knowing when enough is enough, don’t know own limits, push body too far, feeling tired, bad at resting, workaholic, eating too much.

Spleen – Irrational fears, sensitive immune system, addictions, holding grudges, chronically late or early to things. Hoarding, afraid/fearful, ANXIETY, feel like world is unsafe, co-dependency, lack of boundaries, toxic people & patterns in your life.

Root – Have a hard time relaxing, very busy, panic disorder, STRESS, set unrealistic goals, feel like there’s never enough time, always in a hurry, feeling pressure to do things, waste time, freeze response.



PROMPTS:

- What Energy Type are you?
- What is your Authority?
- What is your Strategy?
- How many open and undefined centers do you have?
- Which are your open and undefined centers?
- How are those open and undefined centers currently keeping you from feeling better, expressing yourself better, accomplishing goals that you have set for yourself?
- What toxic pattern, habit, coping tool, can you now link to your open and undefined centers?
