Obstacle/Opportunity:

During this session, we examine Business Houses Elements, Midheaven, and aspects which is essential to unlocking abundance. By analyzing and calculating your business charts and understanding your business houses, you can identify your unique energetic frequency. With this knowledge, you can achieve success, expand your career or business, and above all, establish a connection and nurture your energetic charts.

Obstacle/Opportunity Video Transcript:

welcome! We are today going to be talking about three astrological keys dormant business potential. it may or may not be dormant, but we all have stuff inside of us that we haven't unlocked yet. So, I'm really excited to talk to you guys about this.

Let's go. Move on, let me just figure out how Canva works. So before we really get started, to kind of get you guys in the mindset, I just want to ask you this question. Which part of your natal chart do you think your audience or clients see when they interact with you and your business? And feel free to, drop this in the chat, if like a certain house comes to mind or a certain, planet or like placement comes to mind, like, what do you think people see when they interact with you?

Online on social media, or like, for example, if you had a storefront, like probably not as many people are going to have that in this day and age, but you know what I mean? and I want to see what you guys say in the chat. Okay. So someone said Jupiter MC son love those answers. yeah, that's awesome.

So the reason I asking you this is because today we're going to be talking about like how you can leverage specific parts of your chart. For your business, and which ones are going to be the most useful for that? Because not all parts of your chart are going to be as relevant to business as others.

the parts that we're going to be going through today, the three keys to unlocking your business's potential are first the Midheaven. That's kind of like The thing that I've been focusing on on TikTok a lot, and that has been getting a lot of really good feedback, and that I personally utilized in my life and my business, and it led to the success that I'm having on social media.

then we're gonna go into a little bit of detail around the Midheaven Ruler, and any conjunctions that you might have to either your Midheaven or your Midheaven Ruler. So, if you don't already know what your Midheaven is, Making note of that, and making note of any conjunctions you have and what your Midheaven ruler is, that's going to come in handy later during this presentation.

And then we're also going to be talking about, the business houses and your unique business element, which I know you guys have, another Notion template that talks about that. Yeah, Midheaven, also known as MC, and I will kind of go into this a little bit more in the next few slides.

So yeah, what is your Midheaven sign? And I would actually love to kind of see, like, how many different Midheaven signs we have in this call today. So, if you know your Midheaven sign, put it in the chat, because I want to see. We've got a Virgo, Taurus, Scorpio, Cancer. Awesome. Anyone else want to share theirs?

And if you don't know it, that's okay. Libra, Aries, no idea, that's totally fine. We've got quite like, there's no duplicates yet, besides for Scorpio, because I'm also a Scorpio Midheaven. Oh, there's another one. Cool. Yeah, so I'm a Scorpio Midheaven as well. if you have any, planets or placements conjunct your Midheaven, just keep that in mind, and we'll go into that more later.

So, I'm going to start off just giving a bit of. Like an overview of what the Midheaven actually is. I'm trying to, okay, I'm gonna pin, sorry, I'm just gonna pin my um Yeah, there we go, so that I can not get distracted. So, the Midheaven is, if you look at this photo here, this line here is called the ecliptic, and it is the apparent path of the sun around the Earth.

Obviously, the Sun doesn't actually orbit around the Earth, but from the perspective of a human on Earth, it kind of seems like it does, and that's the whole point of astrology, is highlighting the human experience and what's happening in the sky in relation to that. So, this apparent path around the Sun is called the ecliptic, and where it crosses the meridian, which is kind of like, A projected sphere, circle on the celestial sphere that is used just for like understanding where things are in space.

it's called the meridian, where the ecliptic and the meridian cross is the midheaven and the opposite of the midheaven, the immumcelli. so no matter where your sun is on the day that you were born, this line that is still able to be projected, right? So even if your sun. isn't, up on the Midheaven, up on that intersection, that line still exists, right?

And just for reference, you can see here that they've marked that where the ecliptic crosses the horizon is the ascendant and the descendant. So we already use, like, this version of measuring things for the ascendant and the descendant. It's just, like, the vertical axis versus the horizontal axis. And yes, Angela, you're totally right.

The MC will always be the sister sign of your IC. They will always be exact opposites. Um, yeah. There's also the zenith in your chart, which is the actual highest point, but it's kind of like less of a personal point. The sun's path around the earth is Apparent path. See, like it changes every day. And so when you kind of take that snapshot, it's much more personal to take the midheaven, this intersection, that changes every day than it is to take just the top of the chart and the zenith.

So there's still relevance to this, but the midheaven is a much more personal indicator of what your human potential on the earth is going to be. and just to kind of show you what to look for when you're looking for the Midheaven in a chart, these are, screenshots which is the chart calculation software that I use.

It does require a subscription, um, but most things are going to be like fairly similar. So usually, um, the Midheaven is marked with MC and in this it is For the equal house system and the whole sign house system in Placidus. Usually it's not marked because it's just assumed that it's the cusp of the 10th house.

So as you can see here, that cusp is just bold. and that's sitting at the same spot that the MC is sitting at here in the equal house system and the whole sign house system. So this is just my chart. If you're looking for the Midheaven, that is How to find it. Um, and we're going to be using, I believe you said Angela, whole sign.

Um, you guys are using whole sign normally. Yes, we are. So just for reference. Okay. So, to get into a little bit more detail about the, what the Midheaven actually is, or like what it represents, um, I already went through all of that. So. The really cool thing about the Midheaven is that it can help us understand like where we're sabotaging ourselves.

It shows us our highest potential and the opposite point of that, the IC, it shows us. Kind of like where we came from and therefore what we rely on too much. And so if you go and look at your IC and you study that a little bit, you'll probably find that it really reflects how you were raised, how, where you came from, what your family is like, and the conditioning that you received.

To become the person that you are today. The really cool thing about the Midheaven is that even though it is something that might not be super familiar to us and it might actually kind of feel scary, we do have like inherent skills in that Midheaven. It's just a matter of facing some of our fears and then moving towards that Midheaven.

Um, when we do, we balance out that energy on the other side. And, it helps us become more grounded so that we can actually Accomplish the things that we want to accomplish. so another way that I like to Visualize the midheaven and the icy is kind of with a castle analogy. The Midheaven is kind of like a stage or a lookout tower.

It's the highest point in the sky, right? It's the, the, if you wanted everybody to be able to see something, you would put it usually up in a high place, right? That's why we use stages when people are performing. And so I like to think of the Midheaven is as if you are a castle, your natal chart is a castle.

The Midheaven is your lookout tower. That is how you interact with the outside world. That is how people see you first before they actually go into the castle, right? So that's how people perceive you from a distance. Therefore, it could also be considered your brand. and it gives people an idea of the effects that you're going to have on them.

It's the first impression, right? Yeah. then if we go into the IC, the opposite of your Midheaven, this is the lowest point that the sun reaches on the day you were born. I like to equate it to the root cellar of your castle. It's that really, um, usually kind of dug into the earth a little bit to keep it cool and to, so that you can store food for nourishing.

The IC is like what you were nourished with. That resulted in you becoming who you are, for better or for worse. Like, we have strengths here, but also, we might be relying on them too much. this is what you're familiar with, and this is what you're typically going to default to in any given situation, unless you learn otherwise.

these are the patterns that you've, you've learned. Learned in order to survive, but may not be in your overall best interest. And if we look into the Castle analogy, the IC, the Imam Chelly, as the root seller, If you are trying to have a business or a public presence of any kind, and you're stuck in the root cellar of your castle, nobody is going to be able to see or hear you, right?

So that's why it is so important to get up to that midheaven, to the tower. There is a cat here. Who is meowing at me like crazy because he wants me to let him outside. So I might just pause for a minute and go let him outside because otherwise he's going to distract me. Was the cat chiming in on your lesson?

Yeah, he did. He's like, listen to your root cellar. Yeah, pretty much. Yeah, that's what you're doing. Isn't it? Oh, you have an orange cat. No wonder. Oh, man. I just gonna let him out. I'll be right back. Man, I want a cat so bad. Does anyone have any questions about what's happening? So does anybody have any confusion on how to view their IC their MC or is everybody following along pretty clearly?

Yeah, I think essentially. She's talking about, like, your, to me, the way I'm perceiving it is, your IC is also, like, your subconscious patterns that influence, like, your outward function, right? So, it's, um, wherever the root of your self sabotaging behaviors are, it's mostly in, like, your private self, right?

Exactly. That's what I'm interpreting it as. Yeah, that's a really good way to think about it, and like, so much of our subconscious is programmed by our family, um, and the bottom of our chart represents that, right? Like, the hidden parts of our chart, the parts that are under the horizon, um, they have a lot more to do with the subconscious, right?

So, that makes a lot of sense. Um, yeah, does anyone else have any questions before I keep going?

If not, I will just keep moving on now that the cat is not like harassing me. Okay, so yeah, the big, um, the big point here is that the IC is your comfort zone, and you probably do have strengths there, but it's important not to rely on them too much. Otherwise you get stuck, and you're just making a whole bunch of food in your root cellar, or you're like, You're creating something down there, but it's never actually going to be seen by anyone.

You actually have to climb up to your Midheaven. You actually have to embrace the qualities of your Midheaven in order to put to use everything that you have done in the Root Cellar in order for people to actually know that you exist. and before I move on, I'll just give like an example. for me, I have a Scorpio Midheaven, and I have a Taurus IC.

A really quick snapshot of what that looks like is that Taurus wants to maintain the status quo. Taurus wants to, uh, Make sure that, like, nothing is unstable. Scorpio is the opposite of that. Scorpio doesn't care if things are stable or not. It just wants things to be real and authentic. So when I realized that that was my midheaven axis, I was like, oh.

I grew up feeling this need to keep everybody happy, like, To keep people's expectations stable, and I didn't want to like, shock anyone with what I did, and that kept me from exploring astrology, which is what I actually wanted to be doing. And once I finally just let myself post on social media about the fact that I was into astrology, like literally within a few months, suddenly, My business was like flowing in a way that I'd never had before.

And I was just making money online. And like, that's not, you know, necessarily what it's going to look like for everyone, but that is one very tangible example of what that can look like. And that's why I talk so much about it is because I literally did it and it worked so. It's pretty easy to talk about something when it has worked so well.

Now we're gonna move into just chatting about conjunctions to the Midheaven and the Midheaven Ruler and how those can affect your Midheaven and, like, how it shows up in your life. So, a conjunction, if you don't know, is when two planets or points are, like, close together in your chart. Usually it's within 10 degrees.

Some people will say less than that. Some people might say five degrees or three degrees, but it depends. I think most software will consider it a conjunction if it's within 10 degrees. yeah, and usually they're in the same sign, but they don't necessarily have to be in the same sign in order to be a conjunction and what a conjunction does, like if you think about.

The actual physical thing that's happening in a conjunction is that they're coming together, right? So they're two becoming one, you know, to use a very like traditional, excuse me, um, turn a phrase, it's blending, it's combining the energies of both of the entities that are coming together. And then it's kind of like creating a new energy, which is why the conjunction is, So cool and interesting.

And I think and it's why I wanted to focus on it, that that aspect right now is because it makes a really big difference to how your midheaven is gonna show up. and then, so not everyone is going to have a conjunction to their midheaven necessarily. but you also have a midheaven ruler. And it's possible that you'll have a conjunction to your Midheaven ruler.

Plus, where the Midheaven ruler is in your chart gives you more insight into how your Midheaven is going to show up. so here, right here, is like a list of just the rulers of the different signs. So, if you have an Aries Midheaven, that means your Midheaven ruler is Mars. If you have a Taurus Midheaven, that means your Midheaven ruler is Venus.

And then you can look at where that midheaven ruler is in your chart. What house is it in? What sign is it in? And how, and then you can get more information about what your midheaven is going to look like or what parts of your life are going to be supportive of your midheaven. So that's a really cool thing to look into.

And then also, if you have a Midheaven conjunction, or sorry, if you don't have a Midheaven conjunction, you might have a Midheaven ruler conjunction. And so then you can get more information there as well. And yes, Angela, we have a template. Um, I created like a notion document for you guys to go through all of this stuff in like way more detail and explore it yourselves that you can look at after.

So, You guys will be getting that at the end. I'm gonna quick question. Yes. Um, when you say midheaven conjunction ruler, do you mean, for example, my midheaven is Virgo. So the rulers mercury. So anything that's conjunct with mercury. So yeah, so if mercury conjunct another planet, that would be a midheaven ruler conjunction, but you could also have like, if Mercury was conjunct your midheaven, right?

So there's a couple or if Venus was conjunct your midheaven, um, yeah, and, uh, Amelia just asked for my TikTok, uh, pretty much all my social media is the, uh, just astrological photographer. So you can find that there. Thank you. No problem. Somebody else have a question? Um, yes, I do. Um, what if you have five planets in conjunction?

Is that possible? Yes, that's definitely possible. Okay. That is like, yeah, that's, that's a stellium. And that's going to be like a lot of the same energy. And I don't have time to like go into the really specifics about that. But yes, that is possible. Um, and it's just a merging of lots more energies. So, yeah, it's the same thing, just times five, basically.

Thank you. Yeah, no problem. And also we're gonna have like a Q& A session at the end for you guys. So, if you have more questions, don't worry, like there will be time for me to answer those later. So I'm going to use, this is one of my business charts that I pulled up. went for one of my, like one a while ago during my photography business.

so the Midheaven of this chart is Libra. the Midheaven ruler therefore is Venus because Venus rules Libra. And in this chart, Venus is in the ninth house. And this is a really good example. Of a chart that doesn't have a midheaven conjunction. So there's nothing conjunct the midheaven here, but the midheaven ruler does have a conjunction.

So the midheaven ruler Venus is conjunct Mars. And so just a really quick example of, like, how I would briefly read this would be, okay, well, the midheaven is in Libra. So I'm going to think about Libran traits for how this business or this person, whatever it is, is going to show up. They're going to be very focused on the midheaven.

Probably fairness and beauty and ideals and bringing things into harmony and creating that. And then the mid heaven ruler being in the ninth house tells me that there's might be an aspect of travel teaching or education in some way. And it doesn't necessarily need to be in a traditional way. Um, but then Venus being in the ninth house, so teaching maybe travel, maybe international, It's also in Leo.

So there's going to be something really playful about how or what they're teaching. There's going to be something focused around self expression and personal identity. And then because it's conjunct Mars, there's going to be an added level of energy. Like there's going to be something really energetic about what they're doing.

So like. Something that would come to mind if this was a person, I would be like, maybe you're supposed to be like teaching kids, like about acting or singing or something like there's something really creative and playful and energetic here. And it just makes like Leo makes me think of kids a lot.

And then, you know, in teaching is a really common way to interact with kids. So that's like a really brief. Reading, and I would need to know more about the person, obviously, in order to go into details about what it could look like, but yeah, just off the top of my head, like, that is how all of those different pieces could work together to give you a perspective, on how the Midheaven is going to show up.

Does anyone have any questions, like, really brief questions after that?

If not, I will continue. So yeah, what conjunctions do you have to your midheaven? if anyone knows that they have a conjunction to their midheaven, feel free to drop that in the chat. and if you don't have any to your midheaven, do you have one to your Midheaven ruler? And also feel free to drop that in the chat.

So I have a Midheaven conjunction. my midheaven is conjunct Pluto, and my midheaven is in Scorpio. So. Pluto actually does rule Scorpio, and so my Midheaven ruler is conjunct my Midheaven, which is super interesting. All right, we've got some answers here. Ruler is Venus in conjunction to Pluto. Oh, so Venus and Pluto.

Okay, that's some really powerful energy. Uh, Aries MC with a Mars conjunct my MC in both in the 10th house. Okay, cool. Yeah, so the ruler of your Midheaven is conjunct your Midheaven. That's really awesome. Uh, Saturn, Sun, Venus, and Mercury. Okay, so the Midheaven ruler is Saturn and it's conjunct Sun, Venus, and Mercury.

Yeah, that's like a lot of different energies there. That's cool. Sun, Mercury, Venus, Pluto. Business chart has a Mercury conjunct MC. Love that. That's super cool.

Yeah, Mercury conjunct the MC automatically makes me think like, okay, talking is probably going to be something, have something to do with what you're doing, um, and be like a big part of it. But it's obviously more nuanced than that. Thanks for sharing guys. Um, okay, so we've talked about the Midheaven, the Midheaven ruler and conjunctions.

Now we're going to move into the business houses and your unique business element. the Midheaven and the Tenth House, they kind of have a very similar essence. Uh, they often go together. They don't always because you can actually have Midheaven in other houses, depending on what house system you use.

But as we move into the business houses, we start to look at the second and the sixth house as well, and how they support the tenth house and therefore the midheaven. And these houses are really, helpful for looking at how you are going to actually make your business work, not just from the public facing perspective, but also from like the internal operations perspective, and how you can Make it function in a way that works for you and gets you the best success.

the second house, so traditionally the second house. It rules assets, wealth, money, finances, possessions, resources, material, how you attain wealth, allies and supporters. The second house is all about your possessions, your assets. And just for context, there's always a polarity. So the opposite of the second house is the eighth house.

And the eighth house is about other people's possessions. So The second house is a great place to go for looking at how you are going to deal with possessions and money and wealth. And it's often the place where people go to find out how they're going to make money. So

I believe you have access to a ocean template that talks about the business houses already. So you can deep dive into that a bit more if you want. But I'll give you the overview here in your business' chart. you can think about the second house as representing your business' assets, how your business makes money, how resources are acquired.

you don't have to have to calculate a business chart. If you don't want to, like, you can use your own chart, as you're moving through business and to see how you function independently in your business. but if you are doing the separate charts, then this is just how I would separate it. So yeah, the tools you use in your business, the space it occupies, anything that is like physical, or wealth related or asset related is going to be.

What the second house represents. and the sign that it's in and any planets that you have in it are going to give you clues as to how to deal with those things, what kind of assets maybe you're going to need, whether they're digital or physical, or like, yeah, if you need an actual physical space, that kind of thing, or what kind of energy you need to bring to the tasks that are going to make you money in order to make it sustainable for you.

The sixth house. Oh, and the second house is also an internal. The 6th house is internal. These are things that are happening on the inside of your business, whereas the 10th house will be external. the 6th house is another internal house. Traditionally, it rules physical health, illness, daily routines, domestic issues, chores, pets, all that kind of stuff, which makes a lot of sense.

Like, it's usually really focused around health, and our daily routines directly affect our health, like, on a really big level. So, if we think about how this could apply to a business chart, How does your business's daily routine contribute to their health? To the health of your business. Like, how do you approach that?

yeah, the daily tasks that keep the business healthy. the, even just the mental approach and the energy that you bring to it, especially once we get into the elements of the houses, that can really give you a lot of insight into how you need to be running on a day to day basis in order to keep things sustainable.

This house is also likely going to have to do with employees and collaborators. and then yeah, how the business affects your mental health. And if you have employees, the mental health of those employees. And then the 10th house, traditionally rules, vocation, profession, trade, employers, people in charge, reputation, power, control, glory, advancement, worldly position, and what you did to attain it.

Station in life, fame, visibility, authority. this is how your business is showing up to the world, and if your Midheaven is in the 10th house, then that kind of, like, keeps things simple, but it might not be in the 10th house, and in that case, I'm going to touch on that on the next slide.

but don't worry, you still have a 10th house and it's still going to be relevant. so in your business's chart, what this could look like is your business's likelihood for success or fame or what that success or fame or what that notoriety is actually going to look like. what you're going to be known for and, you know, knowing the sign of your 10th house can kind of give you insight into like, okay, how are people going to be seeing me?

And how is that going to affect them and how is that going to make them want to respond to me so you can really start to reflect on how you can use the energy of your 10th house to get a good, like, to get the best possible result that you want, right? If you know that you have a really Like, uh, what is the word I'm looking for?

I totally lost it. If you know that you have a mid or a 10th house that is gonna make some people really irritated or like feel attacked You can either do nothing about that if you don't want to or you can say oh, okay I know that I have an Aries midheaven. So some people are probably going to be kind of agitated by this So what can I do to mitigate that?

That's just an example. You can do whatever you want. Okay. And then I'm just going to give you some examples of, celebrities who have. These elements in their charts. So Dua Lipa has, the water element in her business houses. Emma Watson has the air element. Selena Gomez has Earth and Billie Eilish has Fire. So I've got one of each here. I'm going to go more into depth on this.

And I did write notes on this, but because of how I'm presenting, I cannot see them. Let me see if there's actually a way for me to see. I might just have to get out of full screen, which is fine. Um, let me just do that.

One minute.

Can you guys still see the screen, Angela? Yeah? Okay. You'll just be able to see my notes, but that's okay. I got kind of down a rabbit hole and I took a few, a few notes.

So Emma Watson has Aquarius in the sixth, which I thought was really interesting because of her focus on, humanitarian efforts and how that is probably what her day to day life is. But if you think about the fact that her second house is in Libra, the way that she has made money has been through movies and acting and modeling, think I wrote something down here.

Yeah. So like these, and if you think of like Beauty and the Beast, that's so like, she just has a very Libran presence, right? And that is how she has made money. but then she has Gemini in the 10th, right? And so her communication about these causes that she advocates for are actually what she is more known for.

Like she gets on the stage and she has these conversations about. these causes that are really important to her. so you can see pretty clearly how that shows up for her. So yeah, she has Libra in the second house, Aquarius in the 10th, the 6th, and Gemini in the 10th. we've got Dua Lipa as the water.

she has Cancer in the second, Scorpio in the 6th, Pisces in the 10th. I was doing a little bit of just like, it was really interesting to see what came up as soon as I googled like, How does this celebrity make money? And then the descriptions would often just like line up with what they had with the, their element so well.

Um, so she has made money for music and touring, but she also has a lucrative side hustle working as a brand ambassador on all of these things. And it was really actually hard for me to figure out the second house for Dua until I went and researched, her 10th house. Instead, um, or actually, no, I just, I found, so in her most recent album, she brought some of her top fans together and she had them listen to the album, privately and I was just like, well, that is super interesting and such an insight into how she does things because that's such a cancerian thing to do is like to bring your people together in a private setting and have them be the first people to listen to your music and I was like, well, that explains why I can't really find much about that correlates with her second house and cancer because cancer is going to be like, they're not going to it.

Play all of their cards right there. It's going to be a lot more private. So there's probably the way that she makes money is through doing things like that is through having this, huge amount of loyalty and rewarding the people that are really loyal to her. So that is one of the ways that cancer in the second house can show up.

Right. And it was interesting to me that I couldn't find much more about how that would show up for her online, but it made sense when I realized that. cancer is going to be very private about that. and then she has Scorpio in the sixth house. What I think when I was researching her, like, what's her daily routine, the first thing that came up was that she's really meticulous and like, everything is accounted for.

And And I was like, well, Scorpio. Yeah. There, Scorpio is very, very thorough, like leaves no stone unturned. And that makes a lot of sense. it's this detailed planning isn't just about keeping her life in order. It's about ensuring she strikes the right balance between her demanding work schedule and those crucial moments of relaxation, which is such like Scorpio would think about all those things right there.

They're just going to be very thorough, meticulous, detailed. Yeah, really highlights the thoroughness of Scorpio here in her sixth house. It wants to get to the root of everything, and she has gotten to the root of how every part of her day affects her career. Plus she has Pluto there, which just emphasizes that even more.

And then she's got Pisces in the tenth, which I think is so well, Stereotypically exemplified by the fact that she was the mermaid Barbie in the Barbie movie. when I think of Pisces, I think ocean, I think mermaid, I like whimsical, and a lot of her music is like that. And there's a lot of like, even just looking at her picture here, like the high saturation, right?

There's this kind of imagination and fantasy that comes along with Pisces. So that's one way that that can look. let's move on to Selena Gomez for the earth element Capricorn sixth house. There was an article that I found that says that she runs a tight ship with her employees. And I thought that that was a very interesting wording for someone with a sixth house because Capricorn loves running a tight ship.

And she expects her team to keep up with that. And I think that that also probably makes a lot of sense considering that she has had health issues. and when you have serious health issues, Your daily life is so important and that would obviously affect her, business and everything as well.

then she has Virgo second house. And when I Googled, how does Selena Gomez make money? It was like, she, she, her wealth comes from her successful music and acting career and her business ventures. And then it just lists all of these things that she did that are now building wealth. And I was like, wow, yes.

Okay. Virgo. You know, that multifaceted element of Virgo building up, and being varied. And then having this massive wealth from all of those things just makes so much sense. Building wealth through multiple avenues over time speaks to that multi faceted Virgo approach. And then Taurus in the Tenth House is really interesting to me on a couple counts because her public presence, she has become kind of a staple or like at least she was for a really long time, a staple actress in a lot of movies and TV shows.

So there's that kind of reliability and consistency with Taurus, but then she also talks a lot about body image, she has become very honest and blunt about what she believes is important, and that is so Taurus, and even like Taurus Midheaven. Does she actually, yeah, I think she does have a Taurus Midheaven, so that's very much on brand for a Taurus Midheaven.

all right, and then we'll just move on to Billie Eilish. Fire. So she has Second House in Aries, Sixth house in Leo, 10th house in Sagittarius. she brings in money through her music as well as, I thought this was interesting, through her personal documentary about herself, which is very me focused, right?

So Aries, which is all about me and I and me doing the thing. I thought that was just a really interesting, example of what that can look like and then her Leo sixth house. her daily routines. and health being in Leo, whenever I typed in Billie Eilish daily routine, everything that came up was just makeup.

It was like her makeup routines, and I was like, that's very interesting and very Leo, right? To have that performance aspect be what she is known for in terms of her daily routine and her creativity. so yeah, someone with Leo in the sixth house, I think. having authentic expression and playfulness and creativity in your daily life is going to be important.

And then 10, 000 Sagittarius, she is weirdly known for philosophical lyrics in her songs and like sparking conversation with the way she dresses and all of these things and I think that that really fits into her Sagittarius, Tenth House quite well. And then just to talk a little bit about when the Midheaven is not in the 10th house, basically, this just means that your contribution, your personal contribution, the thing that's going to make you feel the most fulfilled and the effect that you're actually going to have on the world, it might just not have to do with your career or your public, Being known like in the public, your public stance or, status basically. So for example, if you have the Midheaven, I think someone said the 11th house. Yeah. I also have my Midheaven in the 11th house in, um, equal sign and whole sign, I believe. So what that could look like. is, you know, you're still going to have this 10th house and that's going to represent how you show up in, like, this career world, or when you're relating to authorities or when you are in charge, like this is what you're going to look like.

But your midheaven being in the 11th house, for example, might just mean that the impact that you're going to have might be more socially focused, like it might be focused on a cause. the 11th house also makes me think of social media. So maybe You know, your social media presence, whether it's business related or not, is actually going to be where you are going to be having the biggest and most profound effect on the world.

could also be in your ability for the 11th house to inspire people or to make them think about the big picture. the 11th house also rules like our big friend groups. So maybe the legacy that you leave for lack of a better term, or the effect that you have in your life, maybe it's in your friend groups, that kind of thing.

Aquarius and the 10th house. Yes. I'll quickly touch on that. I won't be able to like go through everybody's, but that's really interesting because Aquarius rules, the 11th house, and so if you have your In Aquarius in the 10th house, it's kind of got a little bit of an 11th house flavor. but that is for sure, then most likely going to be related to your career.

So your career is probably going to have something to do with, big picture, hopes and dreams, helping people see the big picture, see outside the box. Maybe your friend groups are your career. Maybe some sort of humanitarian effort is your career, maybe volunteering, does anyone have any like quick questions to clarify what I'm talking about?

I don't want to go too deep into like explaining individual Midheaven placements just yet. I can do more of that later. But yeah, if you have a question about this, if it's confusing, please let me know. I might have an irrelevant question. Go ahead. And it might not even apply, but. And if it's a stupid question, I apologize.

Is, is there a house that a Midheaven is?

that's a really good question. I have never heard anyone talk about that before. I think that one thing that you could definitely look at. So, because the Midheaven is a calculated point and not a planet, I feel like the Midheaven itself may be not. Um, I could be wrong about that, but I'm probably going to go research that now and find out, because that's a really good question.

Um, but you could look at your Midheaven ruler, right, and see if it's in a benefic or a malefic house, and how it stands. And that's going to give you some insight into like, how difficult or not difficult it's going to be for you to like, achieve, uh, the goals of your Midheaven and that kind of thing. So.

That's cool. Thank you for that question. Definitely not a stupid question. Awesome. I believe. Yeah. It's a lot of astrology terminology. I don't know it's appropriate in what context, because like all of it's jumbling together when you're building a foundation, but, um, I know someone in the chat mentioned that their Midheaven is in the 10th house.

And um, I think I kind of like spaced out on the point where. The functionality of the Midheaven and the Tenth House, but that's more of a specific question. You don't have to answer that. That's okay, yeah, it's like, do you mean like the difference between the Midheaven and the Tenth House? Um, I mean like, just, again, it goes in conjunction with my, um, benefic question, like, where does a Midheaven function best, but I think I understand it when you say it depends on the ruler.

Yeah, yeah. I have never heard anyone talk about the Midheaven specifically, Havoc of Benefic or Malefic. But, who knows? Maybe. Yeah. That's an interesting question. Um, oh, I was going to say something and now I forget what it was. Anyway, okay. So, I think that I've definitely given you guys, oh, I was going to explain Benefic and Malefic just in case.

anyone doesn't know. Benefic just means like, uh, it, it brings benefit. Benefic, right? Like, it's beneficial. Um, so there are certain houses that certain planets like to be in versus not, and then malefic is, um, if you think of the word maleficent, I think like, kind of like evil or afflicted, essentially.

That's what those two words mean. so the business element, I don't know how much you guys have looked into this yet, but definitely go take a look at the um, the Notion template that talks about this stuff. The 2nd, 6th, and 10th houses are always going to be in the same element. So if you have the 2nd, 6th, and 10th in like, if the 2nd house is in Libra, then the 6th and 10th are going to be I'm gonna get the order wrong probably but like, I guess it would be Aquarius and Gemini.

Um, the second house would be Libra. Sixth house would be Aquarius. I might be wrong about this. And then the 10th house would be Gemini. Hopefully I'm right about that. Anyway, they're all going to be in air signs. And so the same thing, if your second house is in an earth sign, the sixth and 10th are also going to be in an earth sign.

So this is going to give us, if these are the business houses, a really good idea about the overall energy that you bring to your business. So I've written out just some like Really quick notes and you'll be able to look at these later and they're also in the notion template that I will be giving you guys But I'll just run through like the earth element someone with an earth element business houses They're probably gonna approach their business in a very structured and tangible way They're probably gonna have like a strong desire to make a positive material difference And of course, this is gonna depend on other things in your chart So don't let this box you in but this can give you an idea of like, okay What kind of like approach do I need to take?

So I have, air element business houses. And for me, what I think that looks like, as I've reflected on it is, I like to do a lot of information based exchange for money, like this, I want to be talking about this information that I've gathered and put in my brain. And then I want to give you that information in a context that makes it easier for you to digest.

And then you can go and do what you want with it. Um, That is. That is that. I think we're kind of, I'm definitely talking a little bit long. So, we are going to go into breakout rooms now, and the things that you need to know in order to like, um, for this breakout room is you need to know what your Midheaven is, know what your IC is, know your Midheaven ruler, um, identify if you have any conjunctions, and then identify your business element, and you can look at your natal chart to do that.

And then you guys are going to And you are going to, I think Angela is going to be sending the link to Yes, she just sent the link to, there's a portion of the Notion template that has a few questions and like, um, plug and play, like fill in the blanks questions for you to fill out. And you guys are gonna go and do those together, do a little bit of chatting and then come back and we'll have a Q& A.

we have like, I think, a few more minutes of open Q& A, so yeah, share how your breakout rooms went and if you have any questions. It was good. I think, um, learning about all this stuff makes sense to me, but it also points out what I need to overcome. I liked what you said, when you finally put yourself out there, it's like, this is what I do, and you finally got, That's exactly what I need to do.

And I have some fears to overcome, but yeah. That's what I love about the Midheaven is it's like, Oh, there's actually something for me to do here. It's actually going to point me at the exact fears that I need to deal with in order to like unblock myself, which is so nice rather than just being like, here's some energies.

Like, what am I supposed to do with that?

I thought it was incredibly spot on for Just the whole reason why I'm actually in here as journey. Um, so my Midheaven is an Aries and in the 10th house and conjunct Mars and Venus. And yeah, but people come to me for direction and to Just be more energized and find action in their own entrepreneurial pursuits.

And I've been struggling with that cause I'm giving that away basically for free. I'm re energizing and pouring into people's cups. And so it's kind of, it's just this like really aha moment to kind of see it on paper, like on a chart. Yeah. It was like, wow, I'm doing exactly what I'm kind of built to do.

Yeah. Your Midheaven is like. Hey, yeah, I'm here like it's coming out of you and then just you stepping into it fully will like you'll get to experience like the full abundance of that. Cool. And I don't even though I think I know. Okay, so my mid heaven is in Scorpio, which is 11th house similar to yourself, but that doesn't really tell me much except that I'm an intense sign and I come across intense with serious conversations probably.

Right. But it doesn't really like you're trying. You're trying to make it click for you. Yeah, I don't know what the stuck energy is. Oh, there's definitely a stuck energy. I get that. And the air element matches, right? Because I'm a scientist. So I like research. But I also like to part my knowledge. Did you look at, um, the IC as well, like the Taurus IC?

There's nothing in Taurus except it was in the fifth house, if that's what you mean. Yeah, so, so if your Midheaven is Scorpio, that means that your IC is in Taurus, because it's the opposite point. And so usually the stuck energy is around the IC. So like, I actually have the same Midheaven. So like the example that I gave, um, of my own experience would, And it's also in the 11th and 5th house, so it would probably be very relevant to you.

So if, if, if you go and like look up what a Taurus IC represents, usually what that will look like is you have some sort of default around wanting to keep things like financially safe, you want to keep things materially, physically grounded, you want to be to make sure that there's nothing like unstable.

And there's probably going to be some sort of stability that you need to let go of in order to fully lean into your Scorpio Midheaven and whether that is like reputation or actual financial safety, it'll depend on you and like, because it's in the fifth house, I would guess that it has something to do around your creative energy and like your self expression very similar to me where like, you might be risking some sort of like, stability in relationships or how people see you.

in order to fully lean into that midheaven in Scorpio. And the midheaven in Scorpio, it's more than just being intense. It's like also, it's about wanting to get to the truth and wanting to expose the truth and do something that is really authentic. and often it's also associated with like being very investigative as well.

So I hope that that does, how does, does that resonate? Like, I hope that at least this is in like the right direction. Yes. Cause I can see why I can be very expressive and I can give a shot and direct. And sometimes I've held back because I'm like, Oh, I don't want to hurt their feelings and I'll let it fester for ages.

And then, well, a very good example was this week, Angela, I think you can, and a few other people, but I think that was a good, like, insight. Like I couldn't, you don't want to hurt people's feelings. People pleasing. That's one thing as well. But yeah, that makes a bit more sense. Yes, it does. Thank you. That does make sense.

And just so you guys know, like, I was learning about my Medhaven for like probably a couple years before it really clicked for me. And so this stuff is going to continue to be revealed as you reflect on it more and more and more and So don't expect it. It doesn't have to necessarily like click right now Like it'll still come and probably in a few years from now.

You'll like have some realization that you won't even have right now So yeah, okay. Great. Thank you. No problem

Does anybody else have any more questions or comments before we wrap?
