Business Growth: The Magician Video Transcript

All righty. Welcome to your second week, the Magician Week. So I am particularly passionate about this particular week, and here's why I. Love watching content, uh, not just like, you know, YouTube or entertainment purposes, but even just like business owners, I love to observe what do people actually put out there?

What do people make? And then I do this thing where I kind of search up their chart, or I look at their human design chart and I kind of compare notes. I kind of see like, is this person's output? Does, do they match? Their, you know, astrology or the human design and the ones who are really effective at communicating and by, but the way I define that is getting their points across, right?

Like being really compelling and convincing and being able to get people on board behind their ideas. People who are able to do that, believe it or not, do pretty closely match their chart, the way they communicate and what shows in their chart. So. I personally, as an ex filmmaker, I spent so much time, hours just before I knew any of this information.

I spent so much time trying to, you know, write or, or make stuff to sound like somebody, or to be with someone and like mimic their tone and it would always just not go anywhere. It would always fall flat. It was super inauthentic to me, but I just thought, well, if I only sounded like I don't know this person, then maybe I can be put on the map like this individual that that day never came.

It just never happened. And it wasn't until that I dug into the astrology of the human design where I was like, oh, these are the things I should be talking about instead, which I wouldn't mind anyway, because I love this stuff. Like I have, um, you're, we're gonna talk about this in a second, but in human design, my gate 11 is super active.

That's the ideas gate. So it's almost like I'm supposed to be talking about ideas all the time. That's what I'm here to do. I'm also, I also have my Midheaven and Gemini, so the way I get recognized is if I share. A ton of data, ton of information with people, um, instead of just like nebulous feelings, right?

So I feel really, uh, passionate about this for that reason, because I think it creates an enormous hack for people as they're starting out in terms of finding their voice.

So let's not forget the fact that there, there's just one of you. Um. I understand that you might be selling products and services that is pretty saturated within the industry. That does not mean that you cannot differentiate yourself. At the end of the day, people buy your energy. I don't know if I mentioned this last week, but when you provide a product or service, at the end of the day, people purchase, they, they vote with their dollar to someone or something that they feel energetically pulled towards.

Does that make sense? And your best shot at translating your energy. Like, as I keep saying, is content is your voice, whether it is the written words, spoken words, your ideas, thoughts, feelings, et cetera. So all of that make up you and there's just one of you. Alright, so the objective is to identify your, the objective of um, identifier Energy Blueprint ultimately is to play to your strengths.

Kind of like what I was saying earlier. When I copied everybody else, when I tried to sound like everybody else, I really wasn't playing to my strength. And I don't believe in the whole, like, you gotta beat yourself up until you perfect this thing that you don't really care about, overcome your weakness, and then finally sound like, I just don't believe in that.

I, I think it's really noble look like you work on your business, but really the business works on you, right? This is about self discovery, self-development. Um, so I get that there are some real skills you gotta learn and some real weaknesses you gotta overcome. But at the end of the day, the one that really.

Kind of get to that big win is your true strengths. Everything else you can work around and like get better at, but it's your strengths that propel you forward. Does that make sense? So I want you guys to like, feel super good about who you are, how you communicate, how you stand, what you stand behind, and just, just start being able to translate that like shamelessly because once again, like there's just one of you and there's people out there who need you.

So you gotta communicate that stuff and, and that's how you're gonna start selling effectively. Um, so yeah, vote towards your unique communication style. This is like a bonus. Um, and I don't emphasize this enough in the magician module because I revisit this in the future modules, but it's super helpful to know your human design type so that you can define your product or service effectively, upfront.

I see so many manifesters. I'm look at you, Laura, and I see, and I know so many projectors. I don't know without that many reflectors, but I usually, uh, non-energy people make the mistake of providing, um, prods or services that are contingent upon I hours, right? So let me rephrase that. Are you selling your hours or are you selling your energy?

Because the way you price, those two things are very different and those price points comes down to your energy level. So if you're not energy being right, like a projector, manifester, there's only so much life force energy can put out. So does it make sense for you to charge hourly? Let's just say, I don't know, like a hundred bucks per hour.

Let's just say you work eight hours a day, five days a week, do you? That's great, but do you have that much energy? Is that sustainable? Is everyone following me? I would make the same argument for generators, to be honest. 'cause generators, um, well, generators and mgs, you guys love to work on things that you're genuinely passionate about and that energizes you.

So once again, if you're charging hourly and then at some point that stop energizing you, what are you gonna do? You still have to work another hour to get paid for that. So does that product or service type make sense? You feel me? They run with me. So, so I've seen, um, generators who are teachers, uh, writers, especially teachers, like there's some like terrific like Sag fifth house folks that I know who are generators and they will never retire because they found their calling and they love teaching and they don't mind, you know, working one-on-one, working with people all day every day.

But, but that's not everybody, right? So knowing your energy type is super helpful so that you could either find something that can scale without the hourly, or you don't mind doing the hourly because you're so passionate about it.

Lemme pause. Any questions? Comments? That was a lot. By a lot. I mean, just a lot of words. Okay, great. Great. Great. So that's a constant theme. We're gonna come back because I, I feel very passionate about this, um, as a reflector and, uh, who's pretended like I could be a generator. It just did not work. It totally crashed and burned.

All right, so quick disclaimer. There is so much information out there in the astrology and human design space. Uh, Alessandra would know I have peers in my industry who are now trying to be like social media experts and gurus using astrology, and I'm like, that's great. But honestly, a lot of this stuff, it's an unfolding.

It's trial and error and unfolding. There are some basic things you can latch onto to like figure out who you are, but um. It's, there is no hard and stead, like steadfast rule. Let's just put it that way. Astrology is also like thousands of years old. There's so much knowledge out there. Like no one like knows the answer as far as like how to fit, how to make astrology work in this new social media space or the internet space, right?

Like one's like old world, one's like New World. We're trying to figure out the bridge. So just be patient with yourself. But these are what we're about to talk about today are still really powerful clues. Let's just put it that way. So take them as directional measures. Not like, oh, but I have this like specific like placement and angle and like aspect of my chart.

Or this mean like, let's just stay away from that. Let's not get too carried away. So this is a formula that I came up with that I, uh, have actually with Violeta and one of my colleagues, um, stress tested multiple times across various content creators and it seems to land pretty well. So your content style formula.

Let's start with broad, which is your human design type. What type of content allows me to leave the strongest impression? Right. Um, everybody knows Gary Vaynerchuk. Who knows Gary Vaynerchuk? Mm-hmm. Okay. Two people. Can anybody, do you guys, can you guess what his type is?

No. He's a projector. Oh, sorry. Oh, you were gonna guess it? I can tell. Um, he's a projector. So what does he do? He literally just informs people, right? He like shamelessly, he's like a marketing guru and people have their opinions about Gary, whatever. It's like, it's a very split crowd. But Gary's very good at what he does.

Like he's a marketing guru and his whole thing is, um. Pump out as much content as you can, put yourself on the map, blah, blah, blah. Like, he's like a, he's just, he can't stop. Like, he's like a, like a beast when it comes to generating content and like using that as a way to scale your business. Um, but if you follow him and some other stuff, he talks about, he's quite, he's quite knowledgeable.

He's infiltrate a lot of different space within the entrepreneurship world, and that's his, he's living his purpose, his purpose is not necessarily building a business. You guys, his purpose is literally informing people. And so that's what he does. That's why I got on the map. That's what projectors are supposed to do.

Projectors are here to inform. I've known projectors that are like, but how do I get clients? I'm like, just start informing. Seriously. That's what you gotta do. Um, manifesters. Manifesters are supposed to like communicate an idea that they're passionate about to kick off a new project. They're not supposed to finish the project.

I don't think manifesters, manifesters are not here to necessarily deliver. They can, but you're really here to catalyze. Create momentum and be like, this idea is great you guys. Let's go. Let's go do this thing. That's the manifesto's role. Like get getting people excited. Um, so knowing your human design type is super helpful.

Mgs a lot of rappers, almost every single rapper that I know is a manifesting generator because they get inspired and they turn it into a product real fast. They just write it down, right? And they start making beats around it. It's like the fastest way to get their ideas out the door. So a lot of manifesting generators, um, I know often have multiple businesses, multiple ideas, multiple projects, or they work in arts that can be executed pretty quickly.

Like you, like you can't make an oil painting that fast, right? But when you're rapping, you can make, you can write lyrics that pretty fast. So knowing your type also kind of helps you be realistic as far as what you should be creating. How much time do you have to put a product out there if you're an mg?

Um. Or just even a manifester, something that takes forever might just, might not entice you very much, right? You want something that's kind of like a, a, a quick turnaround unless you have a team of people behind you who can execute on delivery for you. All right? So, so that's the type and the gates. Gates is the niche.

Remember you guys, we, I talked about, um, broad niche relevance in module one. Remember we talked about this? How you have to know your broad, your mission statement and your niche. Like what are you actually selling and relevance, like who's your audience and why do they care? So you can map this to this too.

Your human design type can like cue, it can signal to your broad, like the mission that you care about generators, by the way. At the core, this is gonna sound very woowoo. Also, the sunlight is just really annoying. Um, this is gonna sound kind of woowoo, but generators are here to provide electricity to earth.

Like you guys are literally here to like populate the planet. Generators, love babies and having families. Generators also love to work, love, love work. Like you guys like to put out stuff that constantly makes this earth go round. And I've seen, I've heard generators say like, what? Like, not everybody's like that.

I'm like, no. I know a ton of manifests. We're like, I don't care about children at all, just so you guys know. So, um, and projectors, by the way. So, um, so your human design type, if you're a generator, you're gonna be passionate about anything that has to do with energizing the planet. If you're projector, you're gonna be passionate about putting.

Uh, uh, having a mission that's all about informing people pro, like, providing efficiency, structure, shortcuts for people, um, or directing people in the right direction. If you're a manifester, you're gonna be passionate about cool shit. Cool light, like revolutionary. Some of the most controversial, I don't wanna mention names, but some of the most controversial content creators I know, or manifesters, I swear if a generator said the exact same shit they're saying, they would just, you know, get like flagged or reported.

For whatever reason, 'cause it's a manifester, it works for them and they get views and followers and all that. So your niche once again is about your product or service. Um, how should I message why I care about what I care about? Your gait will give you clues to that. And you guys all did your gates exercise, so we're gonna go and talk about that in a second.

So, um. So the other way to interpret the gates is what do you, why did you incarnate into this lifetime? Like, not why, but you came into this lifetime and you part, you care about a particular set of things. The gates can explain that. Why does that make sense? And that, and oftentimes, if you're lucky, that does connect to your niche.

For, in my particular scenario, it didn't exactly connect to my niche, but my niche also pivoted over time. In, in the beginning it was tarot. Now it's about, um, like human evolution, progress, technology and all that. So that's actually like coming closer and closer to my, my gates, my niche. So this is where we transition into the fifth house.

Okay. Your input, so. Uh, I've, I need to modify this. 'cause the fifth house I'm starting to realize is actually more about your interests. Like, what do you, what do you like, what do you care about? Right? And this is not about your career. Like just because you have a Capricorn fifth house doesn't mean you should like, have a good real estate empire.

That's not what it means. This is just about like where your brain is like naturally gravitate towards, is like, interest goes. So, um, uh. So, for example, I think, I'm pretty sure this is based on the research that Viola and I, I, I did, Steven Spielberg has a Scorpio fifth house, so he's naturally interested in like the underworld, right?

The shadow side of human psyche, the taboo. He's, you know, he made et he, he's made all these like movies about, you know, the psychological shit. So that's like his natural interest. Um, Margaret Atwood, right? Violeta Margaret Atwood. She's the writer. She's the author of, uh, the Handmade Handmaiden's Tale.

Handmaid's Tale. Yeah. Handmaid's Tale. Yeah. She, she has a Stat fifth house. So she's all about exploring, you know, new, like, groundbreaking ideas, pH like new philosophies, like new schools of thoughts like education, travel, you know, so that really shows. In her work the, in my previous cohort there was a SAT teacher.

She has s fifth house just dead on teacher archetype. So your fifth house is about what are you naturally interested in? So once again, why is this important? Because whatever you're naturally interested in, you, you can talk about naturally too.

I have a Capricorn fifth house. That's why I feel comfortable talking about the business stuff. Okay. Um, also structure. Like all my, even my art, it's all very structured. Like it's, I'm very formulaic when it comes to how I make my shit. And, um, not everybody's like that. And that's okay, but that's how I feel comfortable.

Like that's where I get my, the other way to think about your fifth house is how do you draw your confidence? If you have an idea, what can you stand behind to communicate confidently? So for whatever reason, when I have structure, I feel more confident to talk about it. Some people say like, oh, like, like I hated improv.

I can't do, like, I just can't do improv, like those improv classes, like just shoot me instead. But if you gimme time to structure my speech, I get so confident I can talk about whatever in front of anyone. But if you have like a Pisces fifth house, or if you like have like a sad fifth house or whatever, you might be like really good on the spot, do improv or just, you might be the type to just kind of turn the camera and just start talking, talking about your feelings without, you know.

Any guidelines, and that might be more authentic to you and you might draw confidence from that. So it's, it all comes down to like what you like, how do you feel confident, et cetera, et cetera. When it comes to Viv House, so Mercury is, this is the probably the most important part, which is the actual output.

This is what your client sees. So we have your mission, what you broadly care about, and the tools, your niche. And, um, wide interest you, that's your fifth house, and now you have to like get out the door through your mercury. So I have a Pisces Mercury, it's. Terrible. It's like the worst sign possible for the Mercury.

It, it's, but the Mercury, uh, Pisces Mercury are very visual. It's very like cinematic. Like I think it, like symbolically a lot of times. Um, I, I was pretty good at math, but I could never explain to someone like how I got a certain answer. Like I cannot logically articulate. It's terrible. But that's why the short form videos worked really well for me because videos are videos, they're, they're visual, right?

And Tara was very visual. So instead of like, um, talking about it, I just showed it and now I'm in the process of like showing it, I mean, sorry, talking about it, but when I first started out, I was very hyper-focused on how do I like, lean heavily into my Pisces Mercury and make my content as, as pi and as possible.

In the back of my head, I have all this Capricorn like structure shit. In terms of output, how do I, how do I take that structure and make it look as PI as possible because that's what people are going to, like, resonate with and gravitate towards. This is super meta and super abstract. Let me pause. Any questions?

Comments

and, and by the way, oh, is someone, if someone typing, if someone typed something, I can't see it in the chat box, so just raise your hand because I can see. Question. Yes. Yes. Go for it. Um, which chart am I going to see where I am in each of these houses? Is that in this human design chart or is it in the astral chart that we did?

Very good question. The first two is human design, and the last two is your astrology chart.

Yeah, I, for whatever reason, for whatever reason, I can't see the chat box. So if anybody has a question, just please raise your hand. 'cause I can see your faces. I'm not ignoring anyone. And, um, I've had instances where people looked at their chart, their astrology chart, and they were like, there's no way I'm this, there's no way I communicate about like, there's no, no.

And then they ended up making content a few weeks later. And literally like we compare notes, like you said, you weren't this, but you ended up making this. Like how close are they? And of course that's a video that got a lot of views. 'cause people can feel their authenticity and they're like, oh my God, you're right.

Yeah. So that's what the clients see as output for the mercury.

So we're gonna go over this really quickly. Generator content that excites you, projector. That's something that shares your insight Manifesting generator, something that informs plus energizes, manifestor, informs plus catalyzes, reflector, anything that speaks of broad trends like direction of humanity.

Now, gates. How should I message why I care about what, we're gonna go through this, but I think some of the biggest ones are your son, north Node Mercury, Jupiter. I don't think this was in the worksheet, but you guys keep, remember like in your human design there's a black line and the red line, right? Um, the black line is your conscious self.

The red line is your subconscious self. So it's, you know, these things. All these elements, you, you'll find yourself shift more towards the red. Like I feel, I feel like that's happening to me personally. I feel like I'm leaning more towards my, my red line at this moment in my life. Shifting away from the, from the black line.

So this is your, the red is like your unconscious, uh, side coming out, but um. We're gonna go through this together. Fifth house, all about input. So there's an interesting case study here. I had a, I had a student in the second cohort who wanted to be a human design reader. That was her first initial business idea.

And it wasn't, you know, it's not a bad idea, but she has Aries fifth house, and what, what do we say? Fifth house is your natural interests, right? It's what you naturally gravitate towards. It's what you feel confident about. So she started out wanting to be a human design reader. She was also an MG, by the way, so she had a moral dilemma as far as like, can she, can she do the hourly can?

Can she work with one-on-one? Infinitely? She's gonna be happy with that. Anyway, so she was like, hell bent on like, yeah, I'm gonna be human design reader. A couple months later she hits me up and she goes, I became a Twitch streamer, like a gaming Twitch streamer. She has Ari's fifth house. She likes sports, she likes competition.

She likes like rapid fire stuff where she gets to compete. She was like, I realize like this is what I wanna do instead. So I'm like, okay. And again, like you're all on your individual journey, so you get to where you have to get to and do time. But it was very interesting to see how she pivoted and switched and was happier at her new route.

So Mercury is about the creative vehicle. It's about how, um, how you communicate, how you relay your information. So, like I said, I was piy, so you know, I, I like to be very, like PIs and in how I communicate stuff. A lot of visuals, a lot of symbols, a lot of beautiful sounds, aesthetics and all that. Again, that's kind of shifting, but that's how I started out and that's what got me the biggest results.

Any, any volunteers as far as like anybody wants to volunteer their, their mercury sign. Again, I can't see the chat, so please, um, just shout out what your Mercury sign is, if you know what it is. Mine's a Leo. Ooh, okay. Good one. Because you're trying to be a YouTuber. Anyway, that one, that one's really helpful.

Mm-hmm. Mine's in Gemini. Nice. You're a writer, so that's also very helpful. See, mine's in Libra. Yeah, that's right, Libra. The, the anytime you have mercury and an air sign, right. Aquarius, Libra, Gemini. Um, I would not be shocked if you are in some kind of communication world. Aquarius Mercury is also like a, the channeler, if you meet anyone with Aquarius Mercury, and it's, and the higher degree they have, the more they like get into it information and they, they don't even know that's happening to them.

So mine's in cancer. Ooh, okay. So the way you communicate, the way people are gonna be drawn to you is the more nurturing you are. The more community building you are, the more maternal you come across or sound, or say, very empathic communicators. But this, this is also, this also makes sense with, with the products that you're building currently.

It's all about like self-care and nurturing and healing. Would Pisces also fall under this emotional kind? 'cause mine is Pisces. Would it also fall under this kind of emotional umbrella because I Yeah, absolutely. Yeah. There's definitely an overlap. Yeah. Yeah, because I feel, for me, when I deliver content, it's always with the intention of.

I'm trying to help you, so I feel it's like connected. Yeah. Thank you. What, what's your fifth house sign? Alessandra? My fifth house. I was surprised. Taurus. Ooh. I am so lost. So, so that's interesting because. Taurus also does rural arts, aesthetics and sensuality. Um, but it's also a very grounded sign. Yeah.

So you might find yourself providing,

I, I have a feeling that at some point you're going to, uh, figure out a way to package healing arts in like a very tangible. Product or service. So what I mean by that is, so I have, for example, like you and I are pretty similar. I have Capricorn fifth house, like Earth, fifth, uh, fifth Sign House, right? But the Capricorn is much about structure, goals, business and whatnot.

Taurus is, is about it. It does lean more towards like beauty and aesthetics, but it's still like grounded and solid. It's also like sensuality, so like food. So I actually feel like you're, there's gonna be a, a, a marrying of like the emotional world and then like the sensual world for you in terms of what you put out.

And what you as part of, as part of your, like, your offering. So maybe, yeah, that makes sense. Does that make sense? It makes, here's the thing, for me, it makes so much sense because my parents own an Italian restaurant for 35 years, and so food was like top, like food is still to this day, top of the list of importance for me.

But not only that, it's like even the way that I've styled my condo is like. I spent hours looking at rugs and I ended up buying a very expensive Persian rug because I'm like, it has to be perfect. It has to ma, the painting has to match the pinks and the blues and the carpet and all this kind of things.

So I feel like, yeah, that makes a lot of sense. You know what's really interesting, Violetta and I did a case study on Damien Giselle, and he has tour's fifth house who, sorry. Giselle. He's a writer of Lala, land writer, director of Lala Land. Oh wow. Okay, cool. And all his stuff is so like on point in terms of like he's big on color theory.

Mm-hmm. Oh yeah. I'm huge on that. I used to do a little bit of photography too. Yeah. So the, so the towards fifth house is gonna have a natural interest in gravitational pull towards anything that's beautiful. Comfortable. Yeah. Feels good, tastes good. So that's what I mean. I feel like you're gonna grab pieces of that and turn that into like a healing art thing, or like Yeah, yeah, like, like color therapy for example, could be something that you offer.

I'm not saying that you're gonna do that, but you're gonna figure out a way to turn arts into a healing form for people. Cool. Very cool. So yeah, these, go ahead. No, no, go ahead. No, no, no. Go ahead. Sorry, I didn't mean to interrupt. Um, I was just gonna share that my Mercury is in Aquarius. Wow. What's Capricorn?

Oh, I, I'm, I'm Vir. Yeah. Your Virgo Rising. What's that? Your Virgo Rising Leo. Oh, okay. So it might be okay. Okay. Um, did you use the whole house? Nevermind. We're gonna look into this separately. I, I, I forgot to mention, I, I want everybody to look to use the whole house system. I'll show how that works on the internet, but the what house system you use could also impact what sign that you could, could be misleading, but assuming that you have Capric one Fifth House and Aquarius a Mercury, so you're naturally interested in like, once again, like structure, goals, business.

Like very urian stuff. Um, but with the a Aquarius Mercury, you're also going to care a lot. See Aquarius Mercury is like the channeler. It's like the intuitive communicators that are also hyper logical. That's kind of how I see aquarium. So we're gonna have to do some exploration there because when we, so just, just for everyone's context, um, Vanessa is a, a mobile.

A aesthetician. No, what is it? Sorry. Yeah. Yeah. So, so you, you, you help people become like beautiful basically, and you like travel to their homes. Mm-hmm. Um, but you and I also talked about how like you want to like scale your business and almost separate yourself from the business at some point. Right.

Figure out a way to expand it, like get other practitioners or figure out a way, basically remove yourself from this operational stuff that you've created. Yeah. So what you're, so what you're doing there is very capricornian first of all. Like you're already interested in that. And the other thing just for everyone's context is you care about, remember how when we were fine tuning your mission, you wanna talk about inner beauty?

That's like your, so any, any, anytime you have an Aquarius, mercury or Aquarius, anything in your chart you're gonna care about, like humanity. Okay. So you're gonna be talking about that a lot. Even though you have a business that seems pretty superficial, superficial on the outside, you have, you're gonna be really driven by this like mission that's behind the scenes about the collective greater good.

Okay. Uh, so, okay, so we talked about the mercury. Really fast. Um, this is not a huge, hugely important piece of the magician exercise, but I wanted to talk about this and before this class wraps up, I would love to see everybody's opt-ins. So, um, EJ has an opt-in and who else? Somebody else that had an opt-in.

Who was it? There was, there were two people in class. I had an opt-in last time we spoke. It was EJ and somebody else. It wasn't just, maybe it was just ej, maybe it was, yeah. So why am I talking about this? Because when people come to me, they're like, where do I start? I have this product or service. Where do I just tell me where do I start?

And if you have a website, you your goal. Okay? No, forget that. No, forget a website. Your goal is for people to get a taste of your energy and go, I like this. And then remember, you. And then latch onto you. And the first way to do that is obviously your content, but after that is you need a way to maintain contact with them, right?

If they like you, they wanna figure out how to stay in contact with you opt-in's. The best way to do that, depending on what you offer, you may not need an opt-in, to be honest. Like for example, like I don't like if you have no merch, if you have no desire to sell anything, but just get people to watch your content, maybe subscribing to your stuff is enough.

But I would argue, um, it's never a bad idea to have a mailing list. So I would like to hear, did everyone get to do this exercise in your worksheet? Like opt-in ideas? Because this is like your first chance at content making, like this is your first piece of content outside the video itself. 'cause people get to, like, interact with your energy.

So, okay, so for example, ej, could you share like what your Optin is for this new website? Oh, for the new website or the one that, okay, so for the new website, what will happen is once people opt in, they will regularly get from me a mixture of, uh, instruction. It's a right, it's like a multi, um. Some educational, some entertainment, and some, some selling.

So it's like a combination of not just s Marmy, here's a newsletter with a million things in it that you're not gonna read, but little drips of things that you're gonna wanna read, really similar to the strategy that you use, um, where you know. Maybe you get like something like, uh, an inspiration for the day or a meditation for the day or something that you can do this week or something to do for a specific holiday.

And sometimes it'll be like, buy this thing. It's really good for you. You should have this. And there's also the automatic, like, you left this in your cart. Come on back. We didn't forget you. I'm still holding it for you. So it's a mixture of things. But when they fir that, that, I mean, first of all, that the way you said that, that was super Cancerian.

So people when they get into your newsletter, they're gonna feel like nurtured by you, which is great. But let me just take a step back. Opt-in for people that don't know. Opt-in is where people give you their email address in exchange for you giving something to them for free. Oh, so yeah, so, so incentives might be, um, uh, you know, I've done in the past, like for my marketing business, I've done like, you know, uh, you know, here's a white paper, or Here's directions on how to do this by yourself.

Or, um, here is a regular flow that you should have, or, here's why your personal branding matters, or Here's something you could, 10 things you can do to your LinkedIn profile right now. Like I've had like different downloads. Yeah. Um, or different things that you can get in order to incentivize people to sign up an email list.

Yeah. So I do that for clients and more than I do it for myself unfortunately, but that's something I want to change. Yeah. So for this new website, what, what's like the freebie? Like what are you giving in exchange for the email address? I haven't really thought about it right yet. Um, but for the, for, for the.

Updated coaching business stuff that I wanna do. It would be, I was working on things about personal branding, updating your LinkedIn, making yourself like a more, um, your personal branding, uh, making yourself a more approachable CEO or a more approachable executive or someone that you want to, you know, a, a lot of, um.

A lot of CEOs do like a really cruddy job of doing their own personal branding, unless you're like a Gary V, right? So like all he does is personal branding, but like a lot of CEOs come to me to like, can you run my Twitter or can you run my, um, so how to do it yourself? And then what happens is they try to do it themselves and they're like, well, f it, I'm gonna just hire her to do it anyway, is kind of how, um.

How that's worked for me in the past is I don't mind giving away the instructions for free because in the end, people who are too busy will hire me to do it for them anyway. Um, but that's like two different things that we're talking about. So, something that you said really stuck out to me, and, and I don't know if everyone caught this, but, so I know that you have cancer, mercury, 'cause you said that.

But then for your coaching business, you also mentioned that one of your opt-in ideas is for people, for executives to be more approachable, like how to be more approachable as like a CEO or founder or whatever. I think that's a super untapped space, by the way. Um, 'cause people are often more trained to be like hardcore and like rigid.

And what you're introducing is like, okay, like how do I, how do I communicate to these like high performing individuals? That they too can use their inner nurturing voice to be a more effective leader. So that opt-in idea that you mentioned is actually super true to you.

That's awesome. I was actually thinking, um, for this thing that you just launched. Um, the candle and the other things. I mean, that's also like, you know, it would be a really cool opt-in to be like, how to, how to, something about self-care, right? Like how to better care for yourself or, or whatever. Like there's a bunch of freebie and opt-in ideas that you can do that's super cancerian and also mystical and spiritual.

And the other way to think about this, you guys, when you first make an opt-in, you can see it as like a way to think about what kind of freebie you would like to get.

So for, for me, again, Pisces Mercury super visual. I made a video quiz. People watch videos and they get to vote or whatever, and I, and I made that 'cause I was like, I want an opt-in like that. You know, I want someone to like show me some cool videos and see how I feel. That was like literally the inspiration behind it.

So the number one way to hack all this thing too is to create what you would like. That way people who come to you. Already vibe with you because they like what you like. Does that make sense? So stop trying to be like someone else. Like, just constantly tap into your own stuff. Um, raise your hand if you're like, oh my God, I don't know what the hell this opt-in thing is.

Where do I start? Raise your hand. Okay. Because in, in the first cohort, I held an office hour just to show people how to make one. So we can do that this time. It's no problem. Oh, Celia had an opt, right? Celia. Celia, you had an opt-in, I think you were the other person. Uh, yes I did actually. Um, but I'm changing my website so I don't know if it's gonna apply anymore.

But I had like, uh, kind of like a business audit that I offered for free in, in exchange for the email addresses. Oh, wow. A business audit. So that wasn't, that wasn't super automatic 'cause you had to do the actual audit. Yeah. Okay. Do you mind sharing what your new website direction is or what are you thinking about?

I'm actually not sure. I think, um, yeah, I, I mean I had like a coaching website as well, which I took down a while ago. Uh, I might redo that because it feels. Closest to kind of my new offer. Um, so there I have a couple of like, like courses or like lectures or workshops that I could offer, like give away for free that I've already done and recorded and everything as the opt-in.

Mm-hmm. So, so, so, so the new website is TBD because you're still, you're fine tuning your product and service. Yes. Okay. But it sounds like it's kind of going into that. Coaching or human human direction. Is that right? Yeah, but I'm not sure if that's just because it feels like most obvious based on my kind of expert area of expertise, but I'm not a hundred percent sure if it's like aligned and if it's something that I like wouldn't burn out on basically.

Got it. Okay. Uh, just for everyone's context, um, Celia was, uh, the latest human design or astrology chart in my inbox is Celia. So I took a look at that. Um, you have, I think you have Pisces fifth thousand Scorpio, mercury. Is that right? Yes. I'm just gonna be very honest with you right now, that that's, that's a, like, they're super emotional signs in all your communication sectors.

So it makes sense to me that you wanna go into something that is help, like, helps people. It's like a human. Mm-hmm. Very human, very emotional territory. Um. You might find yourself going into anything psychology related, but also artistic. And I know that sounds really broad, um, but anything that deals with like, difficult, like deep, like emotional matters.

Mm-hmm. Um, and, and that like the, the, any, any time you have Pisces, anything. So Ales, Alessandra, myself and Celia, anytime you have Pisces, anything in Mercury or ow it's gonna, you're gonna be like in a pool of emotions all the time. So you have to figure out how to like just. Put that in a structure form and put it out there.

So give yourself some extra time to figure it out, because it is, there's so much power behind that, but it's gonna feel nebulous at first. Does that make sense? Okay. Yeah. Yeah. I mean, what's her name? Patty Jenkins has Pisces Fifth House. So she wrote no. Well, she didn't. She directed Wonder Woman. Do you guys see that movie with Yeah.

Mm-hmm. What's her name? The celebrity? The actress. G. Yeah, Gil Gal. I watched a movie on the plane and I was like, this is so like fantastical. Like this is just so like, there's like people flying in the air, right? That's very Pisces Fifth house, like very like dreamer, visionary, like just out of this world.

You know what I mean? So imagine trying to distill all of that creative energy into something concrete as like an offering. It's a lot. It's a lot to work with. Also when we worked, uh, fifth House, spices was also Doja Cat. Oh, yeah. Mm-hmm. And she and what, what was her Mercury? Uh, Libra. She was Libra. Oh, okay.

Which made sense. Yeah. If you, if you guys watch Doja cats music videos, they're all out of this world. I, I think everything is green screen. There's like nothing shot in reality. So, um, so another, another way to think about this, Celia, is how to translate your world, your, your creative world, and present them to people to introduce them to like something that they hadn't thought about.

Okay. Yeah, that makes sense. Because you're always gonna be that person that has ideas that people think are crazy. Always. That's just the Pisces Fifth House. Mm-hmm. Kind of like Jenkins and Doja cat. That's why they have to like, go create it and then show it and be like, look. And the Scorpio Mercury is like a very intense communicator.

So like always communicating like deep psychological shit. Okay. That's the best way I can explain it. Um, Laura, so you, you said you had Laura, first of all. I, I do. Do you have a website?

Sorry, it's not live. Not live, but you, you, you plan on having one, right? Mm-hmm. What's your, um, do you have any like opt-in ideas?

I do. I was thinking of a, I was thinking of two things. I was thinking of a free affirmation sheet for women. Um. Around either. I was gonna do one for single women and then one just about love for women anyway, self-love, romantic love, and just platonic love. But I wasn't sure if I've written them out, but I'm not sure if I want to do a recording record them or have people record them themselves.

But, um, in the form that they're in now, I do have it as just like a PDF that would be downloadable. Mm-hmm. I love the affirmations thing. Mm-hmm. The platonic love and romantic. That's, that's really cool. I have never heard of that before. Yes, that's bad. And so we have Gemini Mercury, which makes sense 'cause you're giving like literally people.

Um, what's the, what's your fifth house sign? Gemini. Oh, nice. Wow. Yeah. And my son's in Gemini. Oh, what? Oh wow. Yeah. So. What was that? Mi Mars? I have a Gemini Scum in the fifth house.

Yeah. I feel like you found your thing. Yeah. Like a writer in the digital age, like with eBooks and downloadables. Perfect. This is amazing. Yes. Gemini Gift House is also really good with, um, fast communication on all forms. So, gifs mm-hmm. Text, um, me like any short form, like quick thing. Like that's like, that's, so you might also, um, um.

If, if you get, if you get to a point where you, where you feel like, you know, you, you know what? You can even start now, you know, you guys know how like people like give numbers now instead of email address. You can like give somebody your, your number. They'll, yeah. Mm-hmm. That could be, that could be something you can also look into.

I've never done that, but I know it's like easy to, easy to do. It's, it's just like a, like I, I think a website plus an opt-in is harder than the phone stuff. So I actually have a friend who's an astrologer and he doesn't have a website. He just uses Link Tree and that phone system. So because you have the Gemini Seum, you might be able to engage with people like, and keep in contact more effectively if they were subscribed to your number.

Yeah. And like a morning shootout of whatever. Exactly. Exactly. This is you guys. This is, this is all an energy game. This is all about how do you make your energy go as far as it can based on what you have in your chart. Mm-hmm. So, all right, cool. Oh, sorry. I have a quick question. Yes. Um, I have a website, but.

The platform isn't the greatest. So with flow desks, can I, is that a, it's a separate thing I can do, right? Where I can plug in emails that I, because I still on the website, can still receive emails. A subscribe. There's a subscribe option. But can I input all the emails I get into flow desks, for example?

Yes. Because I am just hesitant to like, redo my website 'cause I sunk some money. Oh, not a lot. It could be changed. I could change platforms, but I'm kind of just like a little bit hesitant. 'cause I, I like the way it looks like right now. Hang on. I, I wanna make What content management system are you on? Oh God.

It's, honestly, it's this. Platform is basic as fuck. It's domain.com and I'm using the website builder from domain.com. So it's just super basic. It's like a booking system, so clients can book me. There's the subscribe button. I put like a blog section, so it's just like very basic right now, but it's okay if it's basic, I guess is your end goal to, so hold on.

So. You're wondering how you can collect email addresses without your website? Was that the question? No, no. I'm just asking so I can collect emails from my website from the subscribe button. I'm just wondering, can I take those emails and put them into flow desk? Yes. As long as I don't have to like create like a brand new website right now.

That was my only hesitation. You can, if you, if you're allowed to inject custom codes into your website, which I'm pretty sure you can, you can also plug Flow Desk into your website and I can show you how to do that. Wow. Okay, cool. So that when people hit subscribe button on your website, flow desk collects it.

Cool. Okay. Thanks. What, um, ej, what email management system do you use? Um, well right now I've been using Wix 'cause it's just super easy and I like their integrations and, um, they're really competing pretty hard, um, with WordPress. And WordPress has this new blo, they're trying to compete with Wix now by making an easier to design.

Site, so I'm checking that out and building a site in that just to see what would happen. Um, and then I also use shop. I've been using Shopify for e-commerce, but I'm trying Wix for e-commerce, just to see what it would be like. Like if it doesn't work, I'll just build something else. But I'm just super curious like how it's gonna, yeah.

What their new e-commerce is like. Yeah. Sorry if you guys are hearing something weird. That's my heater, but it's pre-war building. Um, okay. So, so, you know, thing somebody was like, is your cat okay? And I'm like, that's not my cat. That's the heater. Um, all right, great. Good to know. Yeah. If you guys have any questions about, 'cause one thing that I'm realizing more and more is that depending on what you're offering, you actually could just totally bypass.

Like having a website. So if you're a coach, if you're entering the coaching space or the, or like therapy or like any kinda like one-on-one, like working with people, you, you actually might not need a website. You could just have Calendly or Acuity or whatever. Plus like a flow desk and then you're kind of good to go.

Right. So, um, I've been really liking it. Um, I've been playing with Card C-A-R-D-D, and it's a really easy platform to build, like a one page site. Like if you're a coach or whatever, you could put Flow Desk and your Calendly link. Like you can put everything you need, but it's like, it's really simple and the templates are pretty, you said card, CARD?

Yes. Got it. Okay, cool. I have to check that out. There's so many new things these days. So, um, yeah, this is for Squarespace users. If you don't use Squarespace, this is not relevant. And this is just my opt-in, which everybody knows honestly at this point. Um, so the reason why I feel passionate about the email marketing thing, I used to work at an email marketing startup and now they're valid a billion dollars.

So they opened my eyes to just how much people. Need this, this is the future. Even if emails are not the future, a a way to keep and retain clients is your future. And let's just say you change your product, right? Let's just say you change your service like a year from now, you're like, you know what? I don't wanna do this anymore.

I wanna, I wanna change something else. Hopefully through your content, through your messaging, through your branding, people like you and wanna rally behind you, no matter what you move into next. Good news, you still have their email address so you can announce them and say like, Hey guys, I'm actually doing this new thing.

Hope you like it. You know, come check up this thing if you are on board or whatever, right? So retention is always going to be cheaper than acquisition, um, because you already spent the money upfront too. Get that client. So once again, like if you need help with the opt-in. Please let me know. I'll set up an office hour, but if you don't wanna do email, I would strongly encourage you to think about how you can retain your clients and build a relationship with them over time so that no matter what you do down the line, they will follow you.

Like I've changed my offering so many times since like two years ago. It's crazy and I have people that still show up and like still wanna participate, still wanna buy my stuff. Even though like I'm a totally different person now, sometimes I'm like, really? You still wanna do this with me? And they're like, yeah.

I'm like, okay. Um, so once, yeah, it's really important to keep signaling who you are. Yeah. So I made this video 'cause just because I can, um, so this is my magician profile. I'm a reflector, so my mission is to inform people about, you know, broader trends. I have. My, I'm pretty lucky in a sense that my gates are very consistent.

They're all about sharing novel ideas. I have Capital Fifth House and Pisces Mercury. So I'm all about structure. I teach this business class. I also follow really strict, like, like, like uh, four acts structure when it comes to screenplays, and I communicate things visually to the extent possible. So does everybody have your magician profile?

Like populated from the homework? Okay. Some of y'all would've had a really easy time. Like Laura, if you have like Gemini Deum, then you're like, I got this. It's already, it's, it's pretty clear, right? But, but not everyone's gonna be crystal clear. 'cause you could have like some mixed signs.

All righty. So that wraps up the magician profile and we're now gonna go into sharing. Gates, human design, um, astrology and all that good stuff.
