Real Estate Numerology HeyJune Video Transcript

This is potentially one of my favorite sessions ever. It's also one of the newest additions to, um, artist way. I, I first wanna preface before, before starting this, that there are numbers that will follow you and you will follow certain numbers. So if you can go back and look at all your historical addresses.

There's a high chance that you lived in a seven more than once or an eight more than once, or one more than once. Even if you don't live there, you would've noticed that they come up a lot in your apartment searches. So keep that in mind. Um, and, and I say this because a lot of times people are like, oh my God, I got, I got dealt with this address.

I'm like, no, no, no. It was your energy. Was drawn to that address, it was you energetically being prepared for that address. Um, I say this as someone who's worked so hard to acquire certain addresses, nothing works. It's it, I always get what I'm a match to. Um, I know plenty of people that live in this series of nines.

Why is that? Uh, so just keep that in mind. So this isn't one of those things where you can change your life. I change your address. That'd be nice, and that might work for some people, but the reality is it's more like you have to change first. So. What we do here in this program is kind of show you the underneath the hood of how the grid works, right?

The energy grid. So you get a glimpse into, oh, this is what's kinda like what's running reality right now. Um, but that should give you feedback of what you have to shift internally rather than seeking on the outside to grab a certain address. Am I clear? Thumbs up.

Carris is clear.

Ashley. Clear. Clear. Henas. Clear. Okay, great. So I know you guys, um, heard, probably heard snippets of me give this presentation before. Um, oh, why can't I?

There we go. This should be updated. It's not 15 plus. I think I moved over. 20 plus times, if not 30 plus times. I've, I've been moving ever since I was like six months old. So I've compiled all the addresses, I've done various calculations. Some of the best numerologists and astrologers I know are good at what they do because they've read so many times.

Have a huge database of real life stories and people, rather than just being, you know, just learning from a textbook. So you're speaking to someone who's analyzed, addresses ad naum. Right.

So going back to the nine areas of your life, um, going back to your penthouse exercise, you know, when you first started this program, you had a goal right? Your home should reflect your goal, hopefully. Um, excuse me, I'm trying to see if Neeva is trying to get in.

Okay.

So just as I was saying, it's your goals that should dictate and set the tone for the rest of the vibrations that come into your life. Okay, so these are, I mean. I have my 2 cents on each of these. Uh, but there is a vibration attached to each number. Not included on the slide are 1122 and 33. Those are master numbers, but look at the number, the address of your home right now, and we're gonna get to the calculation a second.

But look at the address of your home right now. What, what aspect of you was so drawn to that number?

If you keep running into the same. Real estate address. What, what part of you keeps attracting that number? If you're like, oh, I wanna move, I wanna move, I wanna move, but you, you can't seem to leave your house after 20 years, what aspect of you is still vibrating that numbers, energy? These are all good questions to think through.

Okay. I'm gonna tell you right now, my least favorite are 3 6 9, which is ironic 'cause that's like the Tesla number. Um, but th. 3, 6, 9. It's like a multiple, right? Six is a multiple of three, and nine is another multiple of three. Same thing with 2, 4, 8. Four is a multiple of two. Eight's a multiple of two, so it tends to amplify, right?

Six is an amplification of three nine's. An even greater application of three four is an application of two eight, and even greater amplification of um, two. I also want you guys to know. There are people who thrive in 3, 6 9. There's people who thrive in nine, there's people who thrive in eight. But, but, but if you were to sit them down and ask like, but have you ever felt this or experienced this?

They'll be like, oh yeah. Yes. So what they've, what that means is they've just come to accept or integrate the shadows of those numbers. Better internally. Okay. That's why, um, you can, this is where the whole, like you can overcome your chart, you can overcome your blueprint, you can overcome your numbers.

That's where that whole thing comes in. 'cause there are some people who are able to actually kind of dodge a bullet because they come into alignment. If you live in a three, do you have to cheat? You don't have to cheat just because you live in a three. It's kinda like, just because you have a Scorpio moon.

Do you have to be such a resentful motherfucker? No. That's a choice you're making. You could be born with that doesn't mean you have to stay that way. Does that make sense so far? So everything, I'm telling you this so that you can make a personal choice around it, even though you're sitting in this vibration, it's a lot easier said than.

Okay.

All right. Welcome solo. Cool.

Uh, raise your hand if you're familiar with this. If you've seen, you know, my previous presentation or slides, or you've done this whole calculation, raise your hand if you've already done that. Care Says, done it. Of course, Bravo. Who else? You know, this is, this is a lot more complicated than it seems.

This is a lot more complicated than it seems. Hena sort of, uh, welcome Nevas. Okay, so I want Nevas answer to catch this part. So I'm gonna say it again. I apologize for the room that heard this several times already, but it's very important you choose a certain address because you're carrying the vibration of it. It's funny how the biggest dicks I know.

Primary or secondary life Path nine.

And they're some of the most difficult people I've ever worked with, with not all. Some are actually amazing, but some are so incredibly difficult and they don't see how, what they're creating in their life as a result of their own goddamn vibration. It's like, no, you're, this is literally your life path.

You're nine, so you, you deal with it or you fix it. Same thing with that address. The, you know, the most, the people that I know who are living through the most challenging circumstances, and I mean, like cha like cancer, divorce, getting, you know, ch it's like when it rains and pours that, that type of thing.

They live in like a nine for like a long time.

They've fall into like a Stockholm Syndrome with that number too. Well, I can't leave. I actually love this house. Really? You have like stage four cancer though. What do you mean? Like, do you, how do you not see this correlation? So it gets really dark real fast if you don't, um, if you don't know how to work with these energies and just kind of take it for what it is and just be very objective about it.

Okay.

So, um, so like I said, you attract a certain home to your house. Just because you live in a new house doesn't mean your vibration will change. It might, but you come first, and in fact, if you move to a house that you're not ready for, it will spit you out.

Just keep that in mind. Okay, so I love to calculate these atmospheric pressures when it comes to addresses. Um, unit is level one L one, building number name is L two building. Uh, street number name is L three. Uh, zip code is L four. Depending on where you live in the world, you may not have building number name, you may not have street number name.

In some parts of the world, it's, it's merged in one. Maybe you live in 1 23 Pine Place. That's the building name and street name you live on. 1 23 Pine. It's the pine place, the street, but it's also the house number. 1, 2, 3. So in which case this L three, L two is just like a blur for you? It's the same thing, same level.

Okay.

Let me look at, um, Tina's, uh, chat real fast. Welcome Chris. I have Liv in a unit A for the last seven years. Three separate addresses. I have so many interesting stories with Unit eight. Okay. Or address eight, another classic Stockholm syndrome address. They feel so depressed and trapped in that house, and, and yet they don't, they can't see how to, like, how they're like, what?

No, it's not the house. I'm like, you're, listen, you can think whatever you want, but you live in an eight. I'm not getting that from someone that lives in a four. I mean, actually I do, I don't, I'm not getting that from someone that lives in a, a, a three or a two. They, they, they got other sorts of issues, but not feeling like trapped.

I think people like eight because they think it means money. That's not always the case. Okay. All right. So I want you guys to write down your addresses on a piece of paper and follow along. Neva has created an amazing calculator that she's gonna send after this call. Um, we also have a worksheet, uh, Nevas.

Can you do me a favor and drop the latest worksheet in the chat, please? I, I think people in this room should have it. It's on your portal as well.

Thank you, Nevas. So if I'm 6 2 2 7 Morris Ave, 3 0 4. Am I supposed to be calculating the unit separately from the rest of the building? Yes. So your L one is 3 0 4. Your, your unit is seven. Okay. But your building number name is 6 2 2 7 Morris. Take out the avenue, take out Avenue, street, park, Southwest, Northeast.

So write down your address and, and, and Nevas. Can you also, um, drop in the, um.

Numerology calculator, please.

Thank you so much. Because somebody like Nicole has to convert mors. Okay? There is Cian versus pyran. Cian goes from one through eight and then resets, so A through F, and then resets. Pyre, um, method goes from one through nine, so A through G and resets. Um, Ian's just more ancient, has more data around it, around accuracy, so that's what I use.

How do you calculate the street number if it's also a number? Can you write down the street? It's just, you just have numbers.

It is just six. That's just a, that's just a number. That's six. Okay. So when you Google this shit. People will tell you that your unit number is the holy grail. No, it's not. I don't know why they tell you that. That's the most scammy thing I've ever heard in my life. Um. So your L one and I, you know, I get this on an intuitive level and I always have a hard time trying to explain it correctly, your L one.

So your unit number is kinda like your daily event theme. The thing you talk, you think about, talk about 24 7.

So if you live in a six unit, you might talk a lot about pets, family romance. Doesn't mean it's gonna be healthy, doesn't mean it's necessarily good, but you're gonna be thinking about these things a lot. Sometimes I hear people like, oh, we live in a unit six and I've been stupid for six years. Bitch, I told you, unit doesn't really matter.

Okay? And just because like you haven't been in a relationship for that long, doesn't mean you don't think about it. Okay. So you could also be just like romantically, like preoccupied in your head, right? Like rather than in reality. So L one once again is ongoing life theme events. Six is also about just nesting being at home, like being creative at home.

Like six in general represents sex, right? But that sexual energy rep, uh, gets. Channel into so many different avenues beyond the body. Sometimes it's like a creative work of art, so it, you know, which is why the higher octave of it is a seven. That's when it starts to bump into a seven because seven's all about spirituality.

Okay? L two is what supercharges the personal event. Now, this is where people, people are like, what does that, what does that mean? Um, L two is what creates catalyst or pressure. On top of your ongoing daily themes. This will make more sense once we start getting into examples, but you have to remember, if you live in an apartment or a condominium, um, the, the residents in that house also have an effect on you.

That's why we calculate L two. That's why we call it atmospheric pressures. Okay? There's people living above you, below you next to you. All this stuff matters. They all chose that vibration for some reason. That's why they're there. That's why they're all congregated to that building number name, right?

So L one plus L two is what I really like to look at. What is going on day to day for you in your brain, but what is the energetic momentum that is being created around you, and how do those two energies interact? So I love to look at somebody's L one, L two. You could be living in a unit two, but if your L two is a seven, then God damn you live in a nine.

I've seen that so many times and people are like, oh my God. No wonder.

Okay. Once again, you can skip L three if your L three is your L two, because like I said, if you live in 1 23, pine, pine can be street name, but it can also just be like literally your house, right?

'cause it's a number on the street that is your house. So L three, if you live in a place like New York or Chicago or big cities, high chance that you, uh, have a separate street number name.

Um, so L three is going to be your closer circles of people that you talk to frequently and their vibes, your immediate circle. You know, what their, what their, I guess what their personalities are. Like. L four is really. Astro zip code, this is where you start to get into city, state level, potentially country level, right?

Like Vatican I believe is, is its own country. It's tiny as hell. I bet it only has one zip code or whatever, you know. Um, that stuff, as you guys know, is very hard to cure. Let me just check the chat real fast.

My building has a name, but it doesn't go in the address. Should I still count that?

Mm. I wanna say no because I'm thinking about the legal name of the address. Okay.

Does it, does anybody else have questions about their address? How, how to calculate stuff?

Is this making, by the way, this, this, I, this stuff isn't straightforward necessarily. So if you're like, Hey, I have no idea how to calculate all these levels, now is your moment to ask me. It's okay.

Every woman that I know well also, man, that has joined this cohort, you know, coming out of a, a marriage or relationship where they've been betrayed, they were living in a three L one plus L two being three, or maybe there wasn't any kind of scandal, but there was always like something distracting. Relationship. Maybe somebody's always like working. Maybe there's like a family member that's always tugging at them. So once again, it's not about changing the address. The address will sort out itself if you change.

So, let's see here. Um, yeah, so L one seven, F seven plus, um, eight.

Seven plus eight is a six, right? 15. Yeah. Six. So that's L one. The unit, the O, the daily ongoing theme. Has a six vibration. L two is the building number name, right? One 40. Danielle converted. Five plus nine is a 14, which is a five. So L one plus L two is an 11. This is a master number. House, well not house, but unit.

Unit like L one plus L two. I like elevens. There are some numerologists. I'll tell you to not live in an 11. Don't listen to them. Um, elevens are great. Uh, the only reason why people tell you not to live there is because you get really emotional, but being emotional is a good thing if you're trying to create some change in your life.

We live in a society where too many people are numbing themselves down. You cannot create change unless you feel you cannot create anything. In fact, unless you feel. 11 is also, um, you have the potential to download some serious revelations and energies and ideas into your system if you live on 11. It also represents Harmony L three 71st Street, kind of like what Ke was asking.

It's just 71st Street, so it's an eight. So immediate, um. Close circle. Their personalities are gonna feel very money hungry or private. You know, they have like this moodiness zip code also. 8, 8, 8.

So, um, you, I mean you guys might already know the story about me. Please follow along on your own calculations. Neva has dropped the resources. So for example, she put in the KDE numerology calculator. If you put in Danielle, it should give you a nine. Somebody in my Instagram was like, Danielle's not a nine to eight.

I was like, are you fucking kidding me? It literally tells you what the number is. Were you manually calculating the shit? And later she was like, oh my God, I'm sorry I saw it wrong. Um, so what happened in this house? This is where my old addresses. I was living in a six, I had very six theme for about two years.

I lived two years in the house. And then, um, but very early on, I, I wanna say like, almost like within a month, but, but I, but I also think it's because I had some personal transit going on. I wasn't just the address, but, um, I started res in this address.

So even though my day-to-day stuff was pretty six activities, you know, I was in a relationship that was not great, whatever, but you know, it, it just kind of took me by the storm. But the thing that helped me turn that six theme and channel that Six Energy in a healthier Way was, was creating phs. So five represents change, right?

The five around me was like, Hey, you gotta shake out of this thing that you're going through on a daily basis. And it gave me an idea. So consider if, if you're kind of like getting lost in this, consider L one, L two, just as like the final output. The final output of you living there.

And L three. Um, but yeah, I'm not gonna hand to L three L four. I don't personally don't care about it that much, but this isn't green because that's the thing I want you to cure. For another example, this is my Austin Texas address

Unit A, which is a one my. Building number name slash, the street number name was 1711 Waterloo Trail. You do not count stuff like trail don't, don't count. Trail Avenue. Place Street. So 17 elevens. Oh one, it's a 10, but it reduced to a one and then Waterloos and eight became a nine. So by L one plus L two became 10, which is a one.

Um.

L one by the way, I, first, I wanna say L two is so subtle. Like you have to really, really, really pay attention to yourself and your surroundings. I, I think you actually have to be very psychic to understand and pick up L two energy because it flies over most people's heads, or they just kind of chalk it up to whatever their, their daily mood. But the story here was I was having a very one experience. Um, I was really focused on my craft, my business. I was like obsessed my, with my business. I don't know why. I mean, I knew why, but I, it wasn't like, it was kind of unprecedented. And this is actually where I 10 x my business.

And the one unit, remember one is very masculine, independent building leader, entrepreneurial. So I always tell people like, you wanna make some serious money? Go to a one, not an eight. You'll make money at an eight, you'll make bigger money at one. I'm telling you right now, if you live in a, an address that has lots of one-on-ones, eight, eight eights, even better specifically office addresses.

Um, so what does that mean on a subconscious level? I was probably prepared for this. I was probably prepared to go all in on something on my business, right? The nine, the, the L two nine was kind of interesting, um, because I definitely felt like, so the nine, the thing with nine, the higher octave is mastery.

It's the shamanic journey, but if you get through it, you become a ma, you become a master, right? Like, you literally become like the top of what, whatever field you're in. So, but it's a very restrictive. Depressive, you know, ki kind of neurotic number. I, I will say, because the shamanic journey is so difficult.

So

I definitely felt like that that area that I was living in, that part of Austin had a very nine energy. I also just felt like, I felt, I, I just felt this internal pressure to. Really become an achieve mastery at my craft. It's funny 'cause I, I felt that at my previous home, but this was like on a different level.

Like I had people coming to me and being like, you have to do this and this and this and this, and I'm like, whoa. And they weren't even in Austin, it was like all a remote relationship, but somehow I attracted all these advisors to me that were very oppressive and like pushing me to achieve profession in my chosen field.

So, but anyway, what we care about is L one plus L two. Right. What was the final output? Business growth. That that's, that's all I got from this address and that's, that's great. That's fine. I moved on after a year.

I'm gonna skip this 'cause I don't like any of these. This is just, you know, pop numerology. Um, raise your hand if you're like, I'm following stuff is interesting.

Kara says yes. Nicole says yes.

Okay, great. What about you, Chris?

Okay, great. Perfect.

I am gonna skip this because I don't Well, okay. All right. Maybe I'll just say it. I have so many people get mad at me. They're like, I did this, this method you taught me and it didn't work because it's a bandaid. Hello? The fuck. I never told you like a long-term solution. Oh, okay. No worries. Chris, I will tell you this.

And I hate saying this because it, it makes me sad, but I, I do think, and I do advise people to move. Okay. Um, especially when it comes to this stuff like the house number. This is a big business. Um, I didn't even know this world existed. It's funny 'cause I know this stuff. I actually didn't know. There's people who are not even in this field that are obsessed with this stuff.

Like if you ask any realtor, any real estate person, especially in affluent areas, Miami, Los Angeles, New York City, oh my god. These billionaires and millionaires go crazy for an address. They like just outbid each other to get a prime address. All these people are like tapped in and tuned in on energy, right?

You could legally change addresses, but I think that's kind of hard slash kind of difficult slash expensive slash depends on where you live kind of a thing. Um, but if you want to temporarily tweak the short-term energy of your house, um, you wanna add that number on the back of your door. So for example, if you live in a five, if your L one plus L two is a five, but you want to achieve an 11 at six on the back of your front door.

This is very temporary. This will soften the blow a little bit, but that's about it. Now this has a slightly stronger effect.

Wow. I gotta look that up. Carris. Thanks for sharing that. I got a green screen that I make a video on it. This is why people are like. You know, real estate is rule by earth element. It's a very slow moving industry. It's a very, you know, it's, it's, it's slow moving, but it pays its dues, which is why if you can just wait it out, you can make a lot of money on real estate.

But so many people try to use this stuff to get rich overnight. That's like, like almost like the antithesis of how this industry works. Okay? So I'm teaching you guys these things so that you understand. Stuff about yourself, better not to fix your life overnight at that point, that's a scam, okay? Like this.

This is more, it's like a self-reflection tool. So when you even put a number on the back of your door, it's your subconscious mind making a promise to yourself. This is the number I want to channel and invite into my life. Okay? It's ultimately your promise with you. So K Naming Cure.

Okay. Yeah, yeah, yeah. You can take a look at this later. Um, at the phages retreat not too long ago, well two months ago, we had a kan numerologist come and explain names. That was fascinating and I think too many people were depressed 'cause they realized that the change their names. I'm telling you, this rabbit hole does not end.

The more, you know, you're like, wow. All these things I just walked into. I didn't choose my name. I didn't choose my address. Like shit, like all these things were impacting me anyway. Um, you give your house a name. This is actually more powerful. I, I've, I've heard some pretty good testimonials on the back of this method.

Now this is a kind of meta, but bear with me. Let's just say you really desire a healthy partner, okay? Or like a healthy relationship. Your ego is very attached to it. Um, so you're like, oh, I wanna live in a, I wanna live in an 11 to do that. So, um, I'm just gonna, I'm gonna add, I'm gonna name my house bougie and then add it on the wall.

Kinda like this example. This is why I say go back to your goals, right? Your goal was to manifest a healthy relationship. If you ask thou shall receive, the person who did this, all their situationship in fuck boys fell to the side and they were like, wait, what? I thought it was supposed to bring them closer to me. No. You asked for healthy relationship, they weren't healthy. Of course they're gonna, so you see, you can't also use this to manipulate your current circumstance. You can't use this to make what's not working in your life suddenly work.

It's only going to make you realize or finally put the nail in the coffin that yes, indeed it's not working.

So,

so I, I guess the message there is like. Don't try to manipulate this. Don't manipulate yourself.

If you want a sweeping change, make a sweeping change and let these tools help you. But don't get mad about what actually happens.

Actually got into a fight with a couple of people about this stuff. 'cause they're like, you said this will work. And then, and then this thing happened and it didn't work. I'm like, you still live in a nine?

Those things happen 'cause you live in a nine. No one else was willing to tell you that but me. So why are you getting mad at me for? And they're like, oh yeah. It's like, see what I mean? People who live in a nine and eight, they keep forgetting this, but where they live like it's crazy. It's like al, it's almost like these numbers, like hypnotize them.

It's insane. Okay. Um, now this is not something I'll share on the internet, but I'll just share with you guys the, the number cure, the name cure. Like I said, that's very temporary. It might fix some stuff, it might help you realize some stuff, but in order for you to call in. Tangible results from the 3D.

You have to seriously change yourself or seriously move. But there are some of y'all that are like, I like my house number. I'm chilling. I live in a two, heck, I live in a one, but I'm in a healthy relationship even though I barely see my spouse. 'cause they're both working all the time. That's fine.

Whatever situation is, you might actually like your number. I like my one, I like my two. I like my, you know, 4, 5, 7. You might, you know, you might like these numbers. Oh, if you're feeling stuck in life, try to find a five. But of course you have to do internal work first. Right? To shift and then live in a five, because a five will bring you enormous changes. Almost too much. But maybe that's what you need. Um, but yes, so, but yeah, so if you're in the category of like, I like my house number, I just. I just don't think I live in the right ascr target place.

Right? Because you could be living in a great house number, but you live in like your Pluto line or whatever. Like Pluto goes through like your ascendant. In that situation, do the feng shui cure. Yeah.

So this is what you guys already learned this part. So it's, so that's cool. Um, you can do whatever it takes to feng shui the crap out of your house and bring in those, uh, luminary energies into different parts of your home. It works. Here's the thing, it it actually, look, we've had generations of artistry, students that have taken this, done this, and it worked right, myself included.

Like I am fanatical when it comes to this. Um.

But, and this is a big, this is a big caveat. Um,

I do, I, I, at the end of the day, I still am an advocate of moving. Okay, so because, and, and we don't cover this in this class, but there are certain astrocartography lines that is really, really difficult in general, like, you guys learned this, right? If you have Saturn or Pluto on any of your major sundials, that's, that's tough.

That's really, really tough, especially when you're ascendant. Descendant, but especially in your ascendant. So if you're in that situation, you might wanna consider relocating.

Um, but if you're in a situation where you're like, it's fine, like this address is fine. My location's not great, but it's not bad. If you're in a situation like that, these tools can really help you and amplify your life.

I have a guy out in Miami who I think has like Saturn, like zero degrees smack on his, on his ascendant. The okay. The good thing about Saturn or Pluto on your ascendant is that it makes you stronger. It makes you wiser. If you can work with it, it does give you rewards. But like 10 years later, kinda like nine, it gives you rewards 10 years later.

Um. You gotta tell yourself you're okay to go through a lot of heartbreak for many, many years and things are just not working out and feeling less than. So right now he's just kind of like in denial. Again, I don't know why people are so hypnotized by this kind of stuff. I'm like, it's not like I'm telling you 10 different ways you can fuck up as guitar.

I'm telling you one way that's actually really bad. I'm giving you one number that's number that's really bad. And then people still like, no, you dunno what you're talking about. Um, so at this point he's had so many crappy relationships, uh, out there in Miami that I'm just kind of like, are you gonna believe me now and you're five other astrologers that you actually pay?

You don't pay me because you're, you know, you're my heritage client. I love you, but fuck, why are you not listening? So the, the story there is in some situations you gotta move. Okay. Any questions or comments for me? Questions? Comments? I have a quick question. Um, yes. I might have missed this briefly, but how much should we be paying attention to the dynamic between our name, numerology and our home, like the co, the connection between them?

Is there anything that we should be looking out for? Is that a thing? Great, great question. So this, this begs the question of also your life path, right? The relationship between your life path number potentially and your house number. Um, the name I wanna remove from the equation.

So I, I'll be honest with you, I don't necessarily study the relationship between life paths and real estate numerology and, and named numerology. Um, I suspect the name numerology to, you know, I hear stories like, oh, Jennifer Lopez can't seem to hold onto a man because her Nena name Jennifer is like a five and five means change. And, you know, it's like I've, I've heard these things and there was some credence to it for sure, but then I know a bunch of other people with a, with with a name five that are married.

Been married for to one person their whole life. So I, I think it kind of boils down to, yeah, let's take out the name. Let's, let's isolate the name and let's just focus on real estate numerology and, um. I will send some resources around this, but there are there, and again, I don't teach this, I don't study this, but there is some good text around your life path relationship and the real estate ology relationship.

So the little I do know, you know, if you are life path 11 or a seven or a two, these soft numbers don't live in a harsh vibration like an eight or a nine, right? Because there's certain numbers that are like very harsh. Certain numbers that are not. So you have to first determine is my life path soft or harsh?

But the reason why I don't teach that is because I still wouldn't recommend a Life Path nine to live in a nine. You see, I still wouldn't recommend that. So that's why I kinda like to like stick to like just clean real estate numerology on its own.

But it's something that can sound around it. Go ahead. Oh, I was gonna say that makes sense. Um, I guess as a follow up, like how much should we be paying attention to it in like, regular but transient places? Like, you know, as we look back in time, for example, I spent every summer. Of my childhood and like my life with my grandparents, should I be paying attention to that number?

Should I be looking at, if I were to get a vacation home, like the numbers there, like how much do we pay attention to? Because you, I know you mentioned it's like longer term, so at what point does something shorter term become a longer term thing we need to pay attention to? I actually think short term stays are fine.

Um, like really just, it's totally fine. Uh. To me, wherever your mailing address is, that's the thing that you should really pay attention to.

Even if you like split your time 50 50, like if, let's say I were to say I'm gonna spend half my time and get a vacation home based off of my astrocartography, so it's more about then my main like US based one, or should I still be looking then for what I'm going to be calling my home in that destination?

Yeah, you should look at both. Okay. Did you be getting you, because you'll be getting mill and both. That makes sense.

Yep. Somebody before asked me this and they own a bunch of rental homes or rental properties or Airbnbs. I'm like, yeah, you kind of have to look at them all, even if you don't live there, you own them.

So you actually, that's an interesting question. So, 'cause I do rental properties as well, so. It is important for even when we're talking about business and property, for us to be looking at those numbers as well.

I think it would serve you to take a look at them. Yes, it will never impact you. The way you're, where you actually live will impact you. But I have OCD, like if my name's on something, I'm gonna make sure it gets my stamp approval.

Numerologically speaking.

And I say that too because I have clients who, for example, that have their personal address, but also have like business addresses, office addresses. It's immaculate. It's, I don't even know if they knew they were consciously doing that, but what they've acquired is immaculate, and it works for them, and it makes their life run really seamlessly.

So now that you know the information, Nicole, you can move forward and take, take stock of like, you know, next time you acquire a new piece of property. Like, do you, do you want that address? Like, I would pay, pay attention to that. The ones that you already have, maybe just leave it. But moving forward, I would do something about the new ones.

Okay, cool. Um, does anybody wanna share, like, gut reactions? Like, is this, is this information helpful? Like, did it shed some light on your situation or what you've been feeling in your house?

So I have a couple of thoughts. I don't, I don't necessarily know that it's, well, I mean, you shed light on all things like every time, but, um. I think that when I realized like what house number I live in, I was like, oh, that makes so much sense. Like this house has created stability, but also it's getting kind of boring and I want out now.

So it kind of makes sense like, and this was never my forever house in the first place and I knew that when I got this house and I was like, it served its purpose right. And now it's time to go. And maybe time to go doesn't just mean buy a new house, but it's time to move too. So it's all just kind of like reaffirming some of the things that I think I was already kind of thinking before.

So it's just sometimes it's just kind of nice to, you know, get reminded that you're heading in the right direction. Yes. And the house is reflecting too, that you've changed, that you've, that you've shifted and grown. 'cause you're like, Hmm, I don't wanna be here anymore. You know? Um, I was gonna say, um, something on the back of that, I, I think this information is also very useful for people that are trying to find a place under time crunch.

Um, I, I hear so many horror stories of, of folks that are like, well. This was like the only available unit in this, you know, apartment complex. So I just grabbed it. It's a nine. Oh, well this one, this one was just like, you know, 300 bucks per month cheaper. So I grabbed it, it's a nine. I'm like, I understand that.

I understand your circumstance and I understand, you know, there, you know, you, you want to optimize for everything, but if you have this information, you might just, just hold out a little bit longer, you know?

What about, um, the rest of the, the group hena solo? Chris?

I personally am in a nine. Oh, and, um, well, what I, I had a good number in New York where I moved and then I moved. Back home for a little bit until I find my spot and it's a nine, the zip code's nine. And um, I do not like it at all. It's filled with mold too, and I just go crazy being there. So, um, it makes a lot of sense to me.

So I'm definitely, now when I'm looking for a new spot, gonna look for not a nine.

It, it happens all the time. It, you know, um, especially in big cities like that, where there's just like not enough place to live. Yeah. Uh, and it's funny how people subconsciously steer away from certain places and it's just, it just becomes available. Yeah. It's really, really interesting. But cool. Now that you know this, you're gonna stay away from it.

Yeah, for sure. I. Perfect. Okay, so Chris says, so you live in a five, right? Six plus eight is 14 is a five. Well, that's, that means constant change, constant travel. Oh, that's what I'm used to. What if your zip code like changes? Do you just update it or, uh, your zip code does not factor in unless it's crash photography.

Okay. Oh, that's right. I have a very interesting relationship with, well, I personally don't have any relationship with a five, but I have a interesting mixed opinions of five because on one hand, if you're feeling really stuck in life, five is great. Truly. On the other hand, if you're seeking stability and some serious grounding, five is not great.

It's like, you know. No matter how hard you try to hunker into a relationship or a job or whatever, a house even, something always happens where you have to like buck up and leave and go do something. So, um, it can bring excitement into your life if that's what you're seeking, but it can also bring a lot of instability.

So, um, so Chris, I know we haven't had our one-on-one yet, but. If, if you're, and you know what your goals are, no. That tracks, yeah. If you, if you, based on your goals, if you're like, Hey, I'm ready for something different, I would pay attention to your addresses moving forward where you wanna go.

Yeah. Yeah. No, definitely more towards stability. Yeah. Okay, great. Perfect. Perfect. Perfect. Um, let's see, what is Hena saying?

Yeah, so you live in an eight Hena.

Do you agree with the vibration of the eight?

I think for the most part I can see what you mean. Yeah. Okay. Um, yeah, four eights, fours and eights are pretty restrictive. They, they might, they make you feel suffocated. It's almost like too much stability and too much predictability and consistency. Um.

So, yeah, I can relate to that. And eight is also the infinity symbol. It's a, it's a closed loop, so the energy can't escape anywhere, you know? Uh, okay, cool. So, I mean, that is pretty much all I have for you guys today.

The, the real juice here, and this is where a lot of your heavy lifting comes in on your, on your own private time is saying, okay, just to use Chris as an example, I want stability in my life. Okay? Let's just say I want a healthy relationship. Okay? Um, well, okay, actually I've never thought about this, but since, so for all the ladies in the room, if you wanna attract a husband, you go to where son. On your descendant, okay? Because sun represents the man. If you're a dude and you want to attract a wife, then maybe you go where Moon is on your descendant because the moon is the wife or the mother.

Let's just say you're in a situation where you can't move, okay? You look at the part of the world where you have sun on the descendant or a moon on the descendant. Let's just say it's Rome. Then you bring that Rome like Italian theme into, I believe it's the southwest corner of your house. And if you're like, I have no idea where that is, use a compass on your iPhone or whatever.

Phone this, there's re Compass app. Just stand in the middle of your house and look what direction. So you, so that's where the real magic is. You gotta change the function of your home based on the ash photography, based on your goals. If you're like, I don't really care about religion, I just care about making bank right now.

Okay. Then I think it's, I forget, maybe it's like east or something. Then you optimize the east with like, you know, energy from Russia or whatever. 'cause you have Jupiter in your second house in Russia.

Um, and as for the actual real estate, numerology itself goes, you can do that two methods. I taught you the name or the whatever number. You can do that and please do that 'cause why not? But then the bigger exercise I would ask you to do, and actually, um, nevas, I think this might have to be a worksheet.

You let me know. Maybe it doesn't have to be, I don't know. But I would, I would meditate on the current number of your house. I would, I would look at the number of your house you're currently in and, and, and look at the number that you want to move to. So if you're in a four and you move to a two or seven, I would on a journal, write current address, future address, and kind of list out like what are some things you have to let go.

Of that current vibration of the home, and then write down the list of qualities and personality trait you have to adopt to be ready for that new home. Essentially, you're doing this whole like therapy of like, okay, well, like why am I like this? Why am I stuck in this house? Like, let me just release these aspects of myself.

So the, that Cal Numerologist that I was telling you guys about, she actually changes names for people and part of what she offers people is like, just because you changed your name from Jennifer to Anna doesn't mean you're still not carrying a Jennifer within you. So let's sh let's week on a weekly basis, do some prompts to like release this Jennifer Energy.

Which is a five, release is five. There's a, there's a reason why Chris, for example, you live in a five on, on some level, you embody that energy on some level. You like chaos, you like change. Yeah.

I've heard a lot of men say that, by the way. I, I, I met one dude who got a black eye 'cause a girl punched him and he was like, I just really like crazy. I'm like, okay, well that's the thing. You've gotta let go.

So, so you gotta do that exercise on your, for me, I love being alone, but I also hate being alone. It's weird. And every time I try to do something social, I hate myself immediately, like five seconds later. Um, which is why, as you guys saw, I lived in a one. I lived in a three, for God's sake. I knew what it meant and I still chose to live there.

I, well, the New York address was kind of a fluke, but you know, and now I live in a seven. It's a hidden, it's a hidden 11, which I really like, but it's a seven, which is like another very, like solitary. It's like, okay, if I wanna be social, I just have to come to grips with the fact that I'm still carrying these loaner vibrations, and what do I have to release that?

That's the real work you gotta do.

Thumbs up. Am I clear? Do as I say, not do as I do. 'cause I'm clearly not doing this work for myself. Okay. But if you're trying to create some serious change in your life, you have to have that one-to-one talk with that number and be like, I need you to go like, seriously.

Cool. Any other questions, comments before we wrap? Hopefully you guys had fun.

Wonderful.

If you haven't had your one-on-one with Nevas yet, please do so.

I will see you guys, uh, at the next call. Thank you so much for your time and energy. You guys are fantastic. Thank you. Thank you. Thank you. Bye.
