Human Design Office Hour Video Transcript:

So if you are a generator, you're always going to have your sacral center defined. What is defined mean. It's colored in. That's all it means. You can have other centers call it in as well. But, but the reason why I'm specifically pointing to the sacral, for example, is because that is where generators will make their decision off of by listening to their, like sacral center.

This, this is like the center of like, um, uh, like procreation, life force energy, stress, you know, everyday living, stuff like that. So anyway, so we're, this is a sacral. We're always looking at the throat over here and the jump up point throat center defined yes or no. And if you are a gener, uh, pardon me, a, a manifester, you a hundred percent have that defined no matter what kind of manifester you are, because, um, man, this is, this is like the unique feature of a manifester.

They have this ability to constantly like. Just kind of communicate what they want, however they want and be heard. It's where, and by the way, when something is defined, it also means that it's generating electricity like constantly. That is the one part of your area that a part of your life where you can like constantly like lean on.

The other way to explain the center is your inner voices, wherever, whichever center you have to find, that's where your inner voices are. That's what, that's what, that's how, that's, that's your worldview. So this is Tomako's chart. She's a member. In her case she has, you know, these five centers defined. So if we were to like literally like sneak into her brain and like listen to her inner thoughts all day long, most of her thoughts center around these centers, I know that sounds strange.

It sounds especially strange for me by the way, because I have none of these defined, I'm a reflector, so I don't know what that's like. I don't know what it's like to have inner voices about all these things. Like I, I mean, I know what I think about, but it's not really centered around any particular, so for example, if you have, if you're in an emo manifestor or if you're an emotional projector or whatever, and um, and therefore this is defined, this over here, and I had to ask people what this is like, 'cause I have no idea.

I had to literally ask, 'cause I consider myself very emotional. So, so if I ask an emotional projector, like, Hey, what does it mean when your, your inner voice is all about the emotions. And they would say, they literally think about, they, they see the world through a very emotional lens. Um, they think about their relationships or they think about what's happened through like their own emotional interpretation of things.

And I guess I kind of understand that because. For reflectors. We don't have defined centers, but we do have certain gates that are active. So all that concentration goes into that, to that gate. So I have some active gates within an emotional center. So I will, I will have the ability to get really emotional about certain things if that gate is triggered in particular.

So we're gonna go into more depth in all these. Um, as you can tell this, this is very like nuanced subject here, but just take a step back. All you have to know for now is look at your chart. Which of these nine centers are defined? If they're defined, it means that's where your predominant inner voice is.

So going back to the session last week, we, the room was kind of split, right? There were half defined, half undefined people. The, the, the undefined throw people. What that means is that's not their predominant inner voice. That's not their predominant worldview. So if you put them on the spotlight, they, they're gonna, they're gonna feel pressure to talk.

'cause they're like, uh, like I have, I have to like, say something, right? Whereas like a manifester, um, or manifesting generator, they don't feel any kind of pressure like that. It just flows. Like they have, like a direct connection to their throat. It, uh, it flows. So the reason why this is a little bit eerie, and the reason why this is, I am so passionate about this stuff is because I've seen this play out in corporate environments so much.

Um, I've seen pe I've, I've looked at who gets promotions. I don't know why, like human design people like, don't just talk about this. Like, I feel like this should just be said. But if you look at like who gets the promotion, who gets the raise, who gets ahead? It's usually someone who has like a. A, a pretty active throat center, like usually a manifester, like, not even kidding, and has nothing to do with competency.

It has nothing to do with ability. It's just purely the fact that their throat center is just generating electricity that other people are not. So two people can see the exact same thing, but the manifester is hurt. Does that make sense? So far? If you look at, um, fortune 500 and look at the top exec, like top line people, the, it's, I would say at least 70% are manifesters or manifesting generators.

So when you start to work with people on this level, it's really powerful to to sort of see like, you know, to how to like decouple someone's actual abilities versus what they're just saying. Or like, or like you, if you get into this information, you can start to really work with pe, especially if you're a coach, by the way.

You can help coach people on what they can develop because you can still be a generator or a projector or like, it doesn't matter what you are, you can still. Get ahead. You can still get what you want, but it's all about being aware of your potential. Because technically all of these gates, all these centers, we all have it.

We all have it. It's just a matter of waking them up. But some people were born with already woken centers. Does that make sort of make sense? And again, like I don't understand why it's so taboo. I don't understand why human design, people just don't wanna say this shit. In my mind I'm like, that's the highest use of this.

Um, my throat is to fight. Have a channel 23. Yeah. So what, so, okay, so, um, a manifester I believe also has their sacral defined. I got double check, but a projector doesn't. That's where you guys differ. So manifesters, um, manifesting generators and generators. Get energy from the sun. I believe projectors and reflectors don't reflectors.

Get energy from the moon and projectors get energy from, you have to look at what your, um, you have to look at what your authority is for that.

So, so for now, in your individual chart, go with what the type says, like what your type is. Just go with that. And then secondarily look at, um, which centers are defined, because that's where more of most of your inner voices are. This also means, by the way, the caveat to this is that you could also be very stubborn and have very fixed way of viewing the world based on the center.

So for example, because I'm a reflector, um, splenic authority. Yeah. Okay, great. So listening to your gut. So because I'm a reflector. It's very easy to decondition me because none of my centers are defined, which means I, I got my belief from somewhere else to begin with. So if I got it from somewhere else, and I know that I can also let it go.

Now, if you have defined centers, it's, it's a, it means that you have a very, like, defined view of things. Um, it's gonna be, you're gonna have to work harder to decondition it. That's a great thing, by the way, because it means that you like, like, I don't know, you have an opinion, you stick to it. Um, and if it serves you, great.

If you're someone like me and you know, you didn't really have, if you didn't really grow up in a healthy environment, or if you didn't really have good role models, it's very confusing to figure out like who, like what to believe in or what to adapt or whatever, all that stuff, right? So it, there's a catch 22 here, always defined versus undefined, but.

Anyway, so that's a secondary filter. And then we go into the gates. Now the gates are literally the building blocks. The gates are the numbers. They're 64 numbers. They're 64 numbers that correspond to 64 DNA code codes, which, uh, correspond to 64 degrees in astrology. They're all related, so the same shit.

And, um, within human design though, they follow the 64 etching numbers or something like that, which I'm not too familiar with, but it's basically like, it's a fancy term for karma, like the 64 karmic lessons. So if you have an active gait, it's black. If it's inactive or inactive, pardon me, it's white. It's all, it's, and when it's active, it means it is buzzing, it's generating electricity, and you have the ability to, um, really use that gate for, for your benefit.

But it also means, okay, so this is where it gets complicated. You guys notice how, for example, this is defined, this center, we look at Tomako's chart. Her throat is defined, but her um, her emotional center is undefined, right? This is colored and this is not, so when a gate is sitting in an undefined center, it's called a hanging gate.

It's literally hanging like halfway. But when it's sitting in a defined center, it's an active gate. Even though they're both black. One is complete and then the other one is not. So the complete one is called active. The other one is called hanging. I'm just going, I'm just taking you guys through all this context because I feel like this is kind of missing last time.

So just going through like all the little Lego blocks. So what does this mean? This means, um, the gates, you can see it as belief. By the way, center is the worldview gate is the belief. So if you have an active gate, it's like you have a belief there and it's yours.

And when two gates are active at the same time, well, not well, you know what I mean? Like when, like literally like when there's a line that connects, so two gates are active and they connect, therefore a channel. So this is a channel, this person that we're looking at, someone just blurted out. I'm just, this is a mini quiz. Someone just blurted out how many active channels in this chart.

I see three of them. Perfect. Bingo. Um, how many, how many hanging gates?

There's about seven hanging gates. Yeah. I asked that question without counting and I was like, shit, there's actually a lot. Um, so, so my bad. Also the channel, um, the, the channel. By the way, I think there's four. I I kind of missed this one. Same, yeah. But so, so it was like hiding there. So this person, Tomoko, has four active channels.

So your channel is a superpower and active, like a complete line. I don't have that, by the way. Reflectors just don't, there's not a single, no reflector has any active channel. We're literally like halfway like producing energy. So if you have a full channel like this, what does that mean? It means you don't need anybody else when it comes to that area of your life.

You got it. Like you complete your, okay. This is another taboo thing. 'cause human design, people love to be like, oh, like we don't, like, we're all complete on our own. Like, you don't, this is not about, this is not about other people completing you. I'm like, okay, well this is just semantics, all right? Because technically, yes, we're all complete and we can like all activate whatever by our own, by ourselves.

But let's be honest, um, we're also supposed to be like working together. That's why we're here. Like, we literally came to earth to like learn how to like, create life together. And, and each of these gates, you can consider them as magnets. Like we're like, if you have an active gate, kind of like this, like hanging active gate, that's where you're magnetizing the other person to you.

If you have, so this tomo, this person, right? Tomoka, right? She has an a, a hanging gate, 37. If she meets someone with 40 active, they're gonna like be drawn to each other like magnets. So it's like, yeah, like technically no one's supposed to complete you, but at the same time, it's like you have madness inside of you, so you're still gonna attract people whether or not you like it.

So it's good to like, be aware of this information. Okay. So where does this information get powerful? All right, so I'm Tomako, I know that I have this active channel. Nice. 2034. Um, I think this is a really intense channel. Actually, I can't remember. I know what 34 is. I, this is about, I think it's about charisma.

2034 is about charisma. So she has the ability to like really like, um, capture people's attention. Let's just put it that way. Um, but let's just say she, um, I'm looking at this here.

Hmm.

All right. Well, lemme just use, uh, this as an example. Oh, well, we're looking at it right here. She has Gate 44. Is this active or hanging someone? Just shout out.

Hanging. Awesome, thank you. So she has a hack hanging, um, gate 44. What this means is she is producing energy from that, but, and, and actually it's connected her defined center. So she's, she's got reliable source there, but she has this other part open that is susceptible to be influenced by somebody else.

This is where she could like attract people. She, she could attract people who have 26 and vice versa. This is the money line, 44 to 26. And don't worry, you don't need to have this to make money. There's a lot of people who don't have this and are billionaires. It's fine. But it, this is just one of those like ability to like transform the old to the new.

These are people who see opportunities and just go for it. Just like make changes. So. I actually know somebody who has exact this placement. And they're brilliant. They're brilliant with the money making ideas. Um, but they do even better when they have collaborators that have this other site active for some reason when they come together.

Like one's like a sales person, one's like the, the product person, you know what I mean? And there's like synergy there. If you are a, you know, a founder or an employer, this information's really powerful in a way, right? Depending on what, what you're hiring for. This is the kind of where it gets dangerous.

But I'm just saying, it's like if you, if you're trying to like create a sales team, doesn't it hurt to look at kind of information like this? Um, so basically like in your chart, wherever you have a complete channel that's like you can rely on yourself, it's, it's like a, it's like a, what's that phrase? Um, the tree that keeps giving, I'm sorry.

The fountain that keeps giving, I dunno what the phrase is. I think it's the tree that keeps giving. Basically till the day you die, you can rely on that channel to deliver whatever it is you need to, you need to deliver. But all the hanging gates, it's still really powerful because you're still, you're, it's still like your very like core foundational belief there.

But when you meet, when you attract someone who can complete that channel, that's when it gets even more activated. And you might be able to complete your thought. You might be able to complete your project faster. You might be able to do things that you normally would've taken longer to do before. And it's also where you're more like in like easily influenced because someone's finally completing your thought process.

So you, so you do have to be careful about what you're attracting. Like 'cause, 'cause you guys, like we all have these 64 gates, right? But the reality is we are still very different human beings. So two people who have the same gates active can experience it very differently. So what this means is, because two people are experiencing it differently, we could just have different beliefs.

'cause remember, gate is a belief. So if I'm Tomoko and I have this 44, I could meet two different people, two different people with two different, well the same 26 gate, but two different individuals. And, and, and I have, I'm have a very different experience with both of them. Does that make sense? So this is, this is where you gotta be very careful too, like, um, in your own chart.

What I would do is look at all the gates where you have hanging. I would look up the me and go, okay, this is where I have some core beliefs. However, I gotta be careful who I connect with because they could easily like, influence me or change my mind or just literally I can just be like, have like shit luck and attract the wrong person.

I think I was, um, listening to someone talk about this, uh, a projector who has gate 30, 30 defined just like Tomoko and, and this undefined. And she was talking about how. There's this one person that she used to meet who had 41 active. And for some reason when they came together, she was like, she was like, she got so emotional every single time, which makes sense because this person was creating this channel for them and therefore lighting up their emotional center.

But the problem is it didn't sound very healthy, you see? So it's like completing is not always a good thing. It really depends on the person. And that's, that's the, that's the point I wanna drill home because it is an augmenter. All your gates are an augmenter. And for, for example, for someone like me with notifying centers and no inner authority, quite literally, um, I have all these gates and I have these belief systems, but depending on who I meet, I can get really flared up in an unhealthy way.

So, okay, I said a lot. I'm just gonna take a step back and open the floor for any questions. Also, one more thing. The orange line is unconscious and the block line is conscious. So there were a lot of questions about like. What does it mean when they're both, it, it means that they're like, all other people see it in you and you know it too.

So the red is always about, like all other people see it in you. So for example, Tomoko, this charisma thing, she probably has no idea that people think she's charismatic, but we see it, but she can't see it. That's why it's orange. Okay. Is this, is this somewhat helpful gut reactions, this clarifying?

Yeah, a hundred percent. Okay, cool. Awesome. Yeah, I'm following along it, um, it helps that we're doing the basics because I think a lot of us didn't understand the ABCs, but I'm following along now. Okay, great. Thanks for that feedback. Yeah, I think I, I think I, I think I overestimated, I, I also think that like, um.

I also think that once again, it goes back to just like human design experts. I think they're so afraid of making certain, putting certain stakes in the ground there, there's a lot of like taboo around that stuff in the industry. And I'm like, per se, I don't get it. I have no problem saying stuff like that.

But um, but it's also just easier to understand if you do put stakes in the ground. So this is like yeah. Helpful of any human design things. And I've been like, you know, aware of my chart for like a year, Uhhuh, so this is new, but this, the way that you're describing it is new because it's a little too floaty otherwise.

And I'm like, well, I still don't understand like how this can be used practically. Right. You know, it's very floaty out there. It's, it is either too floaty or too literal. There's like no in between. Right. Um, which is not helpful, which. But yeah, like if you're a therapist, if you're a coach, if you work in a, in a field where you're helping people, it doesn't hurt to pull up their human design chart, look at their hanging gates and go like, did you know that you can be manipulated in this area?

So you gotta be very careful who you're attracting into that part of your life. Um, I'm also just being like, very negative, like, honestly that I'm sure that really happens. Like, you know, your intuitive being like, you, you can already like suss out who's weird, but it's like you can, the hanging gates are a great way to see like who could help you also, who might not help you based on your own, like belief system.

Um, and the complete channels. It's the, the, the most wonderful cases that I come across, people who have like the 1648 defined channel and then the 44th, 26, um, channel. I often meet people who have these two channels defined and they are so talented, they can just snap their fingers and like money fall from the sky.

And what's crazy is. They don't, they don't know. They don't see it. They think everyone's like that. It's like, no, not everyone's like that. You're like that because you have these two channels defined. And they're like, what? Like, so that's where the beauty comes in because they start to realize, oh, that's my gift and this is where I can help other people and this is where I can be more confident and stop thinking that like, I got a people please.

You know, all this shit. Another classic thing that I see is, um, women who have 7 31 defined. Does anybody have that? 7 31?

Either a 31 or seven, but especially act actually especially seven. Oh, I have that. Okay. What is that? Okay. But, but is it but is it a hanging gate? Um, no, it is a defined channel. Yeah. Let me just, let me look again. Sorry. I'm like flipping between both and it's like, um. Yeah, seven is conscious and then 31 is unconscious, but it's complete.

Oh, nice. So 7 31 is a channel of the alpha dog. You're, you're the, you're the alpha. And by the way, I have seven, but like I said, I'm a reflector, so I don't have 31 and I, there's nothing defined. But, but so what this means is, um, it, it's tricky for women because, you know, no guy wants an alpha woman unless he's even more alpha, right?

So this has nothing to do with dating, of course. This is more to do with like, you know, your view, your view of yourself in this world. But, and I have an assistant who works for me who also has 7 31, and she's very alpha. And it's not like in like a domineering way, it's just very much more like, um, just, just a leadership quality.

And th and 31 is actually about the collective. So, so 31 7 is actually about being a leader that can lead the collective. That's what, that's, that's a true meaning behind it. It's not about like, ruling anyone or anything. Um, but when I see people with 7 31, I'm like, well, if you don't mind me asking, Nikki, what do you, what do you do?

Do you work for yourself? Do you work for someone else? Um, I work for myself right now. See, go. Yeah. I mean, like, I, yeah, I, I just, I gotta be careful with these things, but when I meet somebody with 7 31, I'm like, you gotta work for yourself. You know? Once again, it does not mean that if you don't have it, that you can't work for yourself.

That's not what I'm saying. It just means that if you have these things of fun, it's more easily accessible to you because you have like a, like a defined point of view on it. Like no one has to convince you that you have to work for yourself, and you're like, I already know that, you know? Well, I was in corporate for a long time and that did not really go well.

Were you, um, were you in a pretty senior role though, or like were you in the more of like an autonomous role? Um, well I was, I did it for years and years and so I like rose through the ranks, but then I kind of plateaued as I started to get really high up. Hmm, I see. Yeah, because if you do have 7 31 and you're in a corporate setting, like you, you still have to be the alpha, you know, like that's the only way it's gonna work.

Yeah. So me see what else is interesting here? Um, I, when I come together with someone who has a defined 10, 'cause I have a 34. When a 10 34 come together, they, they form the researcher channel. So the 34 is the person who's really busy all the time, like unnecessarily, which is so true. And then the 10 is like, I forget what it is, but together it's about like doing research together.

So it's like oftentimes I'm like, okay, like I need someone to like ground me as I'm googling like 10 million things at the same time. Then don't like get number. You have, sorry, I thought you had, uh, number 10 is authenticity. That's what it means. And I do have that. And you just had mentioned someone to ground you.

Yeah. So authenticity really goes to that. That makes perfect sense. That makes perfect sense based on the little interaction that we've had. Mm-hmm. Um, so it's like, you know, when I have all this like crazy ass energy that I'm trying to like, use to do something, I'll call up a 10 friend and be like, we'll, we'll just get to the bottom of like, what needs to, what, what's like, what's like the most salient points?

Same thing. I have a, I have a 10 friend who will, who will have all these ideas and she just needs help with execution. And she calls me. 'cause 34 is like the, the energy house. Oh, sorry. The energy gate. Ugh. I really need that energy gate. I can relate. I can, I can really, I can use the 10 gate too, just so you know.

Um. How do you guys, I found so many, sorry, go ahead. Sorry, go ahead. Go ahead. No, no, go ahead. I found so many interesting discoveries to human design. So like Nikki, I had actually gotten my profile about a year ago, but didn't do anything with, I personally didn't do anything with it until I'm learning more about it now.

And through this, um, through checking, like I read each gate, for me that is like either a channel or hanging or whatever it is. And there is like a light component and a shadow component that it talks about, right? Mm-hmm. So I just went through a really turbulent time in my life recently. So I wanna say the past couple months, and I know I'm not unique, we've all gone through like a lot of crazy times recently, but when I'm reading the light in the shadow, I know that I have in my life, um, been the version of that light.

And I can have like examples. In my head drawing back to it. But this past couple months, I've only been acting in all of my shadow, um, aspects. Mm-hmm. Mm-hmm. And when I then went to see like, you know, the, um, the generic info at the very beginning, not generic, but like the overall info. So it said like, you are not self theme is bitterness.

And I had become so bitter, so pessimistic, so like everything was no, no negativity. When that's not my normal self, I didn't feel myself. Right. So when I saw this, it just clicked. And when I saw all the dark thing, like the darker explanations, I just saw myself and how I acted. And I also saw on the light ones how I could be acting now.

Obviously I'm a very introductory part of learning about this woman design, but already I feel that I have sufficient information because sometimes the more I learn something, I'll just get buckled down in the details of it. Mm-hmm. But I think like I have an overall here that I can work with. I just don't know how to work with it going forward.

But this is a great intro. Yeah. So, um, so you're a projector, right? Is that right? Yeah, yeah. Yeah. Okay. So, the way human design has helped me personally, because I can totally relate it, same thing with astrology. There was always a higher octave and a lower octave. And every, every sign you can be like a, a woke cap and not a woke cap, you know, things like that.

So what's helped me is, um, looking at, so for example, I have Scorpio Moon, which I think kind of explains my 36 gate, 36, which sits in my emotional center. 36 is very much about like, it's like a very ultimatum energy. It's this or that. It's very like black and white, like you live or you die, you know? And it's, it's not a good way to live your, live your life.

Um, but I have that defined. And what I have found is that like, apparently, like clearly I am attracting people into my life or, or I've run into situations where that 36 is triggered in a way where the shadow attribute is, is brought out even more. So this is where, like, this is what I mean by like, maybe pay attention to, okay, like why am I feeling like this?

What gate can I trace it back to? And who was I talking to during that time? Or what was I doing? Or what was happening that now I know was not healthy for that gait?

And with that awareness, what can I do to kind of rewire the way I respond to situations? Like, actually, like what you just said is perfect because like, it sounds like now you're aware of like what the shadow is. So if you're aware of it, you can always choose to not respond that way.

Um, where do you, um, prefer to read the definitions of the gates and things? 'cause I mean, I've come across a few and I think that I mostly use the, you know, human design one, just, it's like Hume is or something. Yeah, I have a couple of different sources. I really like Christie ing. Um, let me, let me, uh, share her cheat sheet with you guys.

I hope it goes through. But that's the other thing about human design too. Everybody has a different interpretation. Did you guys notice that they vary slightly from person to person?

Um, but I really do like Christie, 'cause she does use the archetypal language, which I'm a big fan of.

I'm not a big fan of like Jenna Matrixx or whatever that crazy website is because I just think it's so like, cold. Um, there was one, there was one place where I got a completely different chart and I spoke to someone else about it and they were confused as to why my chart would be so different, like with different defined centers.

I think it was like human design versus the Jovian link. Mm. And I like re I double checked it that all the info was correct or you know, that it input my info is the same and it showed up differently. And so then I was like, completely confused. I was like, all right, I don't know what this means, so I'm just gonna like, oh, like your actual chart was different.

Yeah. Oh, wow. Yeah, I heard about that too, which I don't, I couldn't really tell you why that's happening. Um, decided to go with the one that seemed, I, I think I tried three and I went with the one that was the same at two and then just stopped using that one site because I couldn't, I couldn't really explain it and I was too early on that, it was just like, so mind boggling.

Yeah. Uh, let me show you guys what I like to use. Uh, you, you probably already have a chart from this person. It's like the person that comes up on Google search. I do feel like she gives a bit more in depth. It's this one, my Human Design by Jenna Zoe. Yeah. I like that one too. Yeah, I like that she gives like location and senses and whatnot.

Um, so this is what I recommend as like a good, sort of like a neutral place. Um, okay. There's other peeps in the room that I feel I have questions, or if you're just taking it in, that's fine too. But what are the gut reactions from other folks in the room?

I have a question. Um, so when I, when I looked at my chart, um, the, the channels mm-hmm. Um, some of them like, so I. I think I did on like a three different site or for some reason. Mm-hmm. And one of them, um, so I have 10 and what's that? 57 and 34. But then like, one of the site doesn't connect the 10 to other two and other two sites connect do three.

Really? Yeah. So I just like was confused, like, is it active or just like my 10 is hanging or not hanging. I'm not, I'm not quite sure. Yeah. So let's take a look. So you said you have 10, 34 and 57? Uh, 10 34. Oh, so you're saying some sites color all this in and some don't. Yeah. Do you have from these three centers, what the, what's the colors?

Uh, that. What colors? Yeah, it it, are they blank or are they filled in for these three? Oh, the, the circle. Um, so the center, the G center and the sacral, and then the splenic, they, they're, um, are you asking defined or Yeah. Are they defined or are they not? They're defined. They're all defined. Mm-hmm.

Okay. Then, um, then it means you have two channels. 57, 10 and then 10 34. 10 30. Okay. Because you have all the active gates. So this is another quick tip on human design. Um, this is a kind of a weird part of the chart. The 57, 20 10 34, they like weirdly connect. So even though there's 64 gates, which means there should be 32 channels.

There's actually 36 channels. There's four extra because of these gates. 'cause they like connect in a weird way. So, um, so in your case, Mimi, you have 57, 10 and then 34 10 and, and I suspect you also have 57, 34 channel. Mm-hmm. Yeah. So they're all color then they're all defined, which is great. That's actually really great.

I the, I I bet you're pretty, you're pretty intuitive because I think 'cause 57 is like the, do you have 20, do you have 20? Do you have gate 20 defined. Okay. Nevermind. Um, but 57 on its own is still like the intuitive gate, I'm pretty sure. So that's, um, so that's, that's really good. So you have, so you have four defined channels.

Yes. Yep. Mm-hmm. Also, um, also, where do you have the, the name for the channel? You know, like I, I noticed that, you know, you, you, you have the name for the channels. Like this is a money channel. This is this like channel. Um, where can I get those? 'cause I see all the cheat sheet with the e each gates, but I wanna, I don't, I wanna know more that the channel name so that it's easier for me to, you know, which one I wanna activate or, so yeah, let me see if I, let me see if it's in the, uh, oh, it's not in the cheat sheet that I sent out.

Okay. I'm gonna have to add, add that in there. Um, there's only one site that actually kind of does it in a reliable way. It's actually what Nikki said earlier, the HU design, the human design website. Um, I'm gonna link it in the chat in a second. Um, you would think that they make this stuff really easy to find out. Right. But they don't, which I find fascinating.

Yeah. There is so much to learn about human design and yet most of the information is not quite easily available. Right. Yeah. It's kind of interesting. I'm telling you, I swear there's a conspiracy situation going on. Um, so for example, I just, so that's the website and I just Google Channel five 15, but that's where they have all the information.

I would also, like sometimes I come across random human design readers that give their own take, like on YouTube on a channel, and it's like pretty spot on. So, um, you can start from here. You can start, you can start from this website and if there's something you wanna learn more deeply, definitely like.

Do separate research on that. More in depth. Yeah. Like I'm noticing my strategy is to be invited now trying to contextualize this into work. Being invited may not necessarily lead me to toward those promotions or advancements. Right. So I'll have to do some research on how being invited fits in social situations.

I can understand that, but in money making, I don't quite understand that.

Yeah. I, um, I, I, I feel like they, they do such a dis disservice to projectors by, by saying, wait for an invitation. 'cause I don't think that's quite it. I think it's more about placing yourself in situations strategically so that you can be seen mm-hmm. As much as possible.

Which, yeah, because I don't wanna be invited. Oh, so much patience required, right? I can only imagine. Maybe that's a lesson to learn. It's also, it's also not a bad idea. And I do this too because, I mean, the whole reflector thing is kind of a mindfuck in and of itself, but I te I like to look up, like, for example, there's a lot of successful projectors.

Hmm. It's like, might not hurt to look into what they did. I just found out yesterday that Taylor Swift is a projector. Okay. And Obama's a projector. Um, there's a bunch. I I bet Oprah is a projector too. It's like, I think that they, I, I think they just like stayed committed to what they love doing and made sure to constantly put themselves out there in the right places and things.

Mm-hmm.

There's gotta be more to it, I think. Um, I'm on this human design collective website and it has an article about projectors and money projectors and work. So I have to do a deep dive into this.

The other thing too, um, Ava, is to, this is where like the discord could really come in handy. Um, if you have certain ideas you wanna get pushed out. Do you have any of the, um, what, do you have any hanging gates in your throat? Yes, I do. I have, uh, hanging gate 23, 16 33, and then my 20 and 10 are connected and my throat is, um, defined, throat is defined.

Interesting. So 20 and 10 are kind of Okay. So you have a defined throat and G center. It doesn't seem like it connects to, oh, awesome. Okay. Oh, okay. I see it. Yeah. Oh, define odd on all the, all the things. This is where I think it might be helpful to connect with someone who has a connection to the sacral here. Yeah. Mm-hmm. Mm-hmm. Because you got the ideas. I have so many connections down here, but nothing actually connecting.

Mm-hmm. I also see that you have a 44, so, so meeting someone who was a 26, basically someone who can like help connect to the bottom centers would, I think help you quite a bit. Getting your ideas pushed out. This whole thing is empty. Not defined, but you're talking specifically about these centers, right?

The the square? Yeah. The, the, the first, yeah. The sacral, the emotion I'm learning. Mm-hmm. I forgot this one. The root and the heart. This is the heart, right? That's the G center. The heart is the small one next to it. Or Well, heart the ego. I'm sorry. I'm sorry. The ego. Yeah. G center is the heart. My, my bad. Uh, yeah, the ego.

But I think ego's kinda like the heart too. See, all this shit is just kind of confusing 'cause I don't agree with the semantics. Hang on one second. But that's what I, but that's what I meant. Connecting with someone mind. Mm-hmm. Alright. Oh, yes. The, the, the, the triangle is the heart slash ego. My bad. So I was right.

Oh, okay. The heart slash ego. Mm-hmm. Because. The 25, the 25 51. You guys, I don't know if you guys can see this line over here, that's also a money channel. It's slightly different. I don't, I forget exactly what the difference is, but, but it also has to do with money. This one right here. Mm-hmm. Yep. So that's sy for me too.

And I'm missing my 26, so I'm gonna try to find my 26 to make that money. Yeah, because I have the 44. Yes.

So I have 51 but not the other. It's hanging.

Ava, do you have 25? No. Okay. I don't have either. Completely empty. Okay, nevermind. Well that's cool Nikki, that you have that. Remember the active, the, sorry. The hanging gates are still very powerful too. So it's like, um. So Ava has 44 and it gets

51. These are a standalone, they're still powerful Gaza. You can still do great things with that.

Mm-hmm. And just, and just know that you'll be attracting people into your life who are drawn to that talent that you have and trying to, you know, sort of like complete you in some way. Mm-hmm. And you just gotta decide if they're right for you or not, and vice versa. So when I have a hanging gate, um, one aspect, one thing I can do is actively find these completing gates myself.

But another thing that happens in life is that they are naturally attracted to each other when two people have hanging gates. Mm-hmm. Yep. I see. Okay. Or even complete channels, like if someone is complete 44, 26, I mean, I guess you'd be more attracted to them, but you, you would still find each other.

Mm-hmm.

So interesting. The other, um, the other day you'd mentioned about. How transits affect Yes, the connections. Like I feel like I, once you said that, I feel like I kind of understood what you were saying, but can you mention any more about that? Yeah, so, um, so I, because with the context of there are people that, I mean, aside from like, you know, everybody going through what they went through and just changing overall, like there are certain people that are, you know, that we got along so well, but then it seems like there's a period of like not so well, and so I'm wondering if that's what you were talking about really.

Uh, even if there are gates that are like, or channels that are connected through the two of us.

Oh, I see what you mean. Is that what you were saying with like transits and stuff? Or is it something completely different? So the short answer, it's, it's different, but I think I still know what you're asking. Like, do people's energies change? Do their, do their synergy change over time due to transits or something like that?

Right? Um, yeah, I can't like give a de definitive answer on that, but what I can, I feel like for that, that's more astrology, to be honest with you. I think astrology like a, like a, um, Ry chart can explain that better. But I will say that if it's, if three or more people get involved, um, it's called penta, the, like your human design energy type changes.

But that has nothing to do with, uh, transit though.

But here, but here is what, what I will say, what I was referring to. So this, if you go to jovian archive whatever.com/just_now. This changes every single day. This literally shows you what gates the planets are at. So today the sun is transiting through Gate 28. I, I don't, I don't, I don't think you really, I think the big three is what matters, but everything else doesn't really matter.

So for example, I'm a reflector. I'm ruled by the moon. So the only thing I care about is where's the moon today? Moon is 43. So then I will look at my chart and go, okay, what's going on My, what's going on? My 33 at, I mean 43. So that's like an extra like active gate for me today. But for y'all, you know, you can look at 28, um, I don't know if anybody has 28 today, or I mean in your chart, but if you do pay attention to how you're feeling in that gate today.

'cause it's like a power up energy. I'm gonna also say this, and I'm not entirely sure if this is correct. But if I use my logic based on my reflector training, if you have Gate 38 active, pardon me? If you have Gate 38 hanging and the sun is transiting through 28, guess who's completing that channel for you today?

The sun. So I'm complete in that channel. So how would it affect me today? It would be extra energy. Oh, it would be like even more. I know it's not, I know it's kind of weird, but like you would feel the effects of it more. Something like that. I don't even know what this gate is about. So the way I'm understanding these transits is like for example, in astrology, we have our.

Placements. Right. And it gives us these descriptions of our personalities. Then when we're looking at our daily horoscope, it's because the planets are now in different areas. And for example, like, um, Mars retrograde coming up. Then because Mars particular thing about it is highlighted, we all go into our charts and look at where we have Mars, which house we have Mars, and we're like, okay, so I suppose something may happen in this area of my life.

Mm-hmm. So similar with human design, because it's still based on the planets. So when the planets are shifting there and, um, fe I was gonna say Rees, but I actually don't know your name. It's Jun. Hey, June. So Jun just said, um, these transits affect the different gates. So the gates similar to our astrological houses are getting highlighted or amplified in that time.

Yeah. So this is a little bit of a mindfuck, but the planets here is a, is the way we use it is a bit different in human design. Mm-hmm. Um, I would like to think of the, everybody use that calculator in the Excel spreadsheet that I linked in the mm-hmm. Member portal. So I use the planets for that, that that's, I see planets as like your mission statement.

It's like why you're here. And, uh, like mission statement areas. Like, you know what, you're here to share, what you're here to do, whatever. And the assigned gates is like the, the belief that's like attributed to that mission, the belief that drives that mission. Mm-hmm. I honestly think it's over complicated.

The human designs. I, I'm pretty sure they're a fast way to explain this, but, so, so going back to Ava, your example of Mars retrograde, instead of looking at the planet Mars mm-hmm. Over here, what I'll probably look at is. What area of my life was affected from this Mars Transit? Mm-hmm. AKA what center?

That's kind of how I would start. Mm-hmm.

And even then, I don't even know if that's truly accurate. Um, but I think the human design and astrology are really good to look at together. Anything like predictive, um, like, like for example, like if you wanna like really pin down what's gonna happen and how it's gonna happen and how it might influence you.

Like astrology is more powerful, but human design is more about it acts more like, uh, seeing the different layers of you and what layer of you is being amplified versus not. Depending on who you meet, I would kind of use 'em separately. And how like, yeah, the transits are affecting you, I suppose, but, but not in like a planetary way.

More like based on the gates.

Um, we'll definitely do future series on human design. This is, this is just the beginning. I wanna do like a session on food, although I think it's kind of bullshit, whatever, but apparently human design and food is, is interesting. Um, what, what about, what about you guys? Like what are some things you wanna learn more about in relation to human design?

I think learning more about our authority types and how to work with it. Because our type, there's so much info about it already, whether you're projector or manifester, but maybe how to, how to work with your authority type in everyday life situations. Mm. Right. Like you said, you're splenic, right? I'm self projected.

Oh, my strategy is to be invited, but my authority is to be self projected. So you're like, so you're like, Viola, she works for me. Um, yeah. Mm-hmm. So the self projected, actually the self projector are kind of similar to reflectors. Like you gotta talk to, come to. Yep. And I hate that because I'm the type of person that's really values privacy.

I love being in my bubble. I'm a hermit. I don't like people knowing too much about me. And then yet, in order for me to process, I have to literally like shed my soul to them. And then I feel so vulnerable afterwards. Yeah, yeah. No, I can totally understand that. So it's about like the right tribe to share that.

Yeah. And I was caught in the wrong tribe, hence my bitterness came out this certain end this year, so. Mm-hmm. Mm-hmm. I can understand that. Yeah. This is where I really envy generators actually. Um, because for generators you have to, you literally have to go with your gut. It's like a yes no. Mm. You, you ask another generator, a yes, no question, they'll give you a yes no immediately, and that's what they should go with.

So lucky them. They're very lucky. My strategy is to wait 28 days. I still don't know what that means after all these years. Wait, your strategy says, wait 28 days. Yeah, it's ridiculous. Can't live like mine being invited and I literally don't like that. I don't see myself working that way. I just wanna tell everybody all the good things about the world and hopefully they learn. But I understand. I understand the strategy and what it's trying to tell me, and I understand how it fits for me.

It doesn't help that my definition is split definition. So there is apparently two distinct different voices inside your system, which makes it hard, and thus you need the external validation or reassurance to like the self projected authority type. Mm, right, right. Which is another reason why you got up.

Yeah, exactly. Have to talk. To get that feedback. So I've started journaling because now it feels like talking to somebody and I'm like talking back to myself and my journaling, which is a bit more private for me. Yeah. You know, I, someone actually told me this recently, so as much as I, as much as I talk shit about therapy, I, I'm starting to see that for some people it's valid.

Hmm. Even if it's not, even if it's not like conventional therapy, like some form of talk therapy, like if you're an emotional projector, 'cause emo projectors, you know, they're like, I think if your author is a emo or splenic, to your point, sorry, not splenic, but, uh, self projected, then I think that's where talking comes in really handy.

Mm-hmm. Mm-hmm. Um, and I totally underestimated that, so I gotta backtrack a bit, but that's, yeah. I think your authority can reveal a lot about what could help you make decisions. Mm-hmm. And, and talking it out is one way. Mm-hmm. Oh, the other thing that I, I heard is, and this is an advice for me, but I think it could apply for you as well.

When you start talking to someone, just give them a heads up. Like, listen, I don't need advice. I just need to talk. Mm-hmm. Do you have, do you have bandwidth? Yes. No, if you don't, that's fine. Lemme just move on. Um, but that, but someone told me that that's a really good strategy for reflectors. 'cause when we get disappointed, we're so, like, we just spiral.

Um, and people try to like fix you, like, oh my God, like, don't be bad. It's like, no, no, no, I just gotta, I gotta ride through this. Mm-hmm. So, um, so yeah, how to apply our channels to our authority type. Another thing, because for me, I am a projector, which means I have a lack, not, not lack, there's less energy created within me.

And I feel this without this chart telling me that. Yeah. Um, I can't make it through a nine to five job, just in one shot. Like, I need a lot of constant different type of, um, things to, to make it through a day because my energy just dies throughout certain points of the day. How do you work with energy?

Like, I'm sure other, other types. Actually, I'm not sure. I just know about this projector thing and I don't know how to work with my energy. Is there a manifester in the room or a projector, a different projector? That is, no. Okay. So everyone is is Jen or, or Mangen. Um, oh, so I'm the only projector in here.

I. Yeah, you're, oh, Leah is a projector too. Okay. Oh, okay. But, but Leah's not a, I don't think you're self projected. I think, yeah, she said Selena authority. Okay. That's, that's why I got confused. Okay. Um, oh my God. We're just wrapping up. Hi. Hi Alina. Um, okay, so I think I should do this later next time, not four o'clock.

Mm-hmm. Um, so the trick for that is making sure do, as I say, don't do as I do, because I don't take my own advice. Mm-hmm. But to not work exclusively with non-energy beings. And I say that because my assistant is a projector, so it's me and her, like working together all It's really funny actually, um, if you do work, so this is why this, this is why this stuff is important.

Like this is why you look at, okay, what am I. Who do I have meetings with today? Um, oh, okay. No problem. I felt bad, Alina, because, uh, we're about to wrap up. But, um, this is why this impor uh, information is important because you can literally kind of plan ahead and take an inventory of like, who am I gonna get on a call with today?

Um, and cap it based on who they are. I would always suggest taking time off after spending several hours with man gens or gens. 'cause you need time to discharge that energy. It's so necessary. And when you do work with non-energy beings, you know, inviting a generator into the group or inviting a an a man into the group.

Um, this is also something that becomes really, really more evident with age. Mm-hmm. There's a huge difference that I feel between like baby projectors and like older projectors. Like, um, you, you become more in tune with your energetic needs. Mm-hmm. When you're younger, you just kind of keep going 'cause you think you're a generator and then you get burned out when you hit 30.

Yeah. Same thing with manifesters by the way. They, they retire at like 35 and they're like, I don't know what happened. You know, it's, it's because we're trying to act like generators. 'cause that's how we're conditioned. Remember, if you have open dissenters, you're being conditioned. And guess what? 70% of the population are generators.

So you're, you're gonna think like a generator when you're not. So I don't know if that helps, but I would be very mindful about like, who's in your orbit. I would also, if you can, I don't know what you do, but if you're able to have a conversation with your boss, your manager, and say like, I just need these guardrails.

I need this time off. Like I need, I need to be given deliverables, not like. Like working by the hour. Yeah. I know it's easy for me to say, but um, thankfully my position is super flexible so I don't have to worry about it, but just like getting myself through the day so they're super understanding. Sure.

Right. I still have to generate that energy. Right. I find could. Yeah. So projectors are really efficient, right? So what they make up for, or what, or what they like don't do with hours they make up for inefficiency. Mm-hmm. And money productivity. Mm-hmm. So this is where, this is why I'm like so passionate about this stuff when it comes to like, corporate world because I, because the world is changing so much in the corporate sector and I think this is one of those informations that can like really push the evolution.

Even generators I feel like wanna be more efficient. This is not just a projector thing, so we, we need to have the right people in place that can like kind of change how we work. Um, but yeah, I would have that conversation if possible. Thank you. I would also. I would also, um, I don't know. I feel like all the projectors I know in my life are in some kind of role that create their own schedule some way.

Mm-hmm. Like, I actually passed up a promotion because that role wouldn't have any flexibility whatsoever. It would be extra work, extra responsibilities. Just extra. Extra, yeah. Not enough pay. Uh, extra. Yeah. Oh God. Yeah. No. So I actually passed it away, like having recognized before hitting this chart that I don't have that kind of energy within me to give, um, working till midnight for this company doesn't work for me.

Um, but having this chart, honestly, knowing what these mean, and then knowing which pieces to connect, how to connect one thing to the other, like how I connected my definition to my authority. All of these connect. So there's a lot to learn.

Thank you so much for stopping by Midori. Loved having you. Um, thank you so much for sharing that. Ava. Leah, is that your experience too? Is that how you feel? I'm, I'm assuming the answer is yes, especially if you're in a pretty training environment. Um, somewhat, yes. Yeah, see, 'cause there are projectors that can keep going.

Like for Leah, do you have a 34? See, this also depends on what gate you have. Remember I told you 34 was like the Black Panther gate. I work in data law firm and I can't see myself staying here. Okay. All right. Yeah, that's a pretty, that's a pretty grueling, that's a pretty grueling job. So it depends on like what you have to, because I'm a reflector, but I have 34, so I get burned out pretty easily, but I also can't stop at the same time.

So it's like really depends on what you got. I don't have three, four. Okay. Nevermind. Um. So based on this information, I actually wanna start giving out a challenge starting tomorrow. Like I want to give like mini homeworks and challenges and milestones for y'all to connect with each other. 'cause I think it's kind of awkward.

Turns out when I just tell people to just do it, they're like, no. So I think I have to like give like tangible things to do. Um, so that it's like more like gamified and like fun for you guys. But was this helpful? What's interesting? Like what's like the room's reaction?

I can just shut up. I found this very interesting. I feel, I hope I'm not taking away anybody else's, uh, time to speak, but I really found this enlightening because I feel like my base understanding is now stronger. Like last session, we sort of put things together, but here now, like I have that confirmation, like, yes, I am understanding this correctly and how to use it in like the baby step, the first baby steps.

I'm really looking forward to what you said with like, the little challenges. Yeah, I definitely, I mean, that was the whole point of me starting this community. So I definitely wanna get that ball rolling. And Sylvia's really active in it, Sylvia, and like one of the person which I really appreciate, but Sylvia was bought into this like over a year ago, so she's been like waiting for this moment.

Um, yeah, do not rush this either. Like, I feel like people feel a lot of pressure to like know a lot, like everything like yesterday. So like it comes to time. Um, so z Zia, right? I think this was your first, you've joined this office hour before you joined an actual activation. So you're probably like, what is happening?

Um, are you familiar with human design? How are you feeling? Can you, can you hear me right now? Yes. Okay. Yeah, no, I'm a little bit familiar. So none of this was like super shocking. Um, it clarified some of the basic stuff that I needed to get clarified, but no, I was following along very, uh, well, so it was important.

Awesome. Awesome. Thank you for being here. You got a head start and we're gonna do an actual activation tomorrow. Okay. So Joanna says it was help, uh, informative Alyssa's getting up to speed, which is totally okay. Oh, ZI see your chat there. Okay. Um, cool. Adelina, I'm, I'm so sorry we missed you. I'm gonna try to do this when I do have an office hour.

I'll be like an hour later next time, but we're gonna send out the recording.

All right. That's pretty much all I have for you guys. I'm gonna send out this recording and the cheat sheet, um, and I'll you so much. Thank you. I'll see you guys tomorrow. Thank you. Take care. Take care. See you tomorrow. Thanks. Yeah.
