Key Houses & Mercury Retrograde

In this session we look at which areas of our lives will be affected by the upcoming mercury retrogrades, as their themes will come up again and again the next few years while we pursue our goals. For example, we may have to address 10th house retrograde, before we can manifest our 7th house goals. We use the "arrows" exercise from Week 1 to breakout of our usual ways of "responding" to a crisis (aka mercury rx) when it occurs.

Key Houses & Mercury Retrograde Video Transcript:

It's good to see everyone. Okay. Um, I'm pretty sure there are people still tr uh, trickling in, so we're just gonna wait for them a little bit. But I do wanna hear from everybody, um, who tried out the homework, the exercise, even if it's just by yourself. You kind of like did the mental, okay, great.

Yeah. Use the emoji feature. Raise your hand if you tried it, cuz I don't, I can't always let the actual hand go up. Okay. Awesome. Just buckle up cause we're about to go into like a layer deeper today. Um, but using astrology. Awesome. And can somebody share really fast? Like what that was like? Um, was it stressful?

Was it fun? Was it like, oh, I got this. Like was it eye-opening, popcorn style? Somebody raise your hand and just start talking.

I can go. Um, yeah, I think for me it was eye-opening because just being more conscious towards what I am looking for without previously just in a day-to-day life, you keep going through things without really focusing on it. So it was actually difficult as well just to kind of really pinpoint what that is.

And I am new to the community, um, so, you know, I'm playing catch up in some sense, but just to see the initial reaction, I know what kind of defies me, but I don't publicly say it to people. Right. Like those are just intentionally things that I look for when I'm interacting, either that is with family, friends, coworkers.

So putting it to the paper for se or to the keyboard, it was really, um, eye awakening. It's an interesting way to see your own blind spots, right? I think it's so here, like, I'm just gonna, so this is a pretty intimate group and I'm a very open person, so. Uh, combining the two factors. I'm gonna be even more open with you guys.

Okay. And I might totally regret this later, but whatever. Here we go. So, if you learn astrology, even human design, um, it starts to get a little bit, in some ways frustrating because you can tell immediately when someone's destined for money. Like, there are certain key indicators, like, it's so, it's so easy for me to come and say like, oh, I want, you know, like, million dollars, or I wanna be a billionaire.

I wanna, like, manifest is huge, but it's, yeah, it's easy to want those things. But why is it that some people get it easier than others? It's, I'm not even kidding. 90% plus at a time they have Jupiter political conjunction somewhere in their chart. Um, they have the gate 44 and I think 29, like they have a complete channel.

I read for. A couple of billionaires that flew over just to see me, Austin this past weekend. I, I look at their human design, they all had that channel defined. I'm like, here we go again. Um, but here's the thing. I've also seen cases where, and they're, and, and they're just sitting there like, what do you mean it's hard to make money so I don't need more money?

And you're like, oh my God, shut up. So like every, you know, and you know, and they want other things, right? Whether it's love or whatever. So I want everybody to know that like, there are certain things you're born with, truly. And so your job is to that this is why I'm always kind of like anti authenticity.

Does that make sense? Cause it's like, do you actually know what you mean when you say wanna be authentic? Authentic? Because you might not have been dealt with a prettiest cards. So your job then is to, you know, become aware of what you're authentic about and lean and lean into, um, strengthening your weaknesses and, you know, interacting with energies that can like open you up.

Um, so. Yeah, it was, uh, now, yeah, yeah, now y'all are gonna go look. We can like look at it together too, but it's, it's 44, 29. I, yeah, it's, it looks like this, the middle of the body. So that said, um, you're here now and you're learning those information, which means you have a leg up on how to activate gates, activate channels, and kind of open yourself up to new perspectives.

So for example, for me, um, I'm just being very transparent. Like I don't have those placements either. Um, but I was always, you know, a student of astrology and human design for a long time now. So I think I kind of learned how to hack it. Um, but really the hack is rooted in myself. Does that make sense?

It's not what anybody tells you to do. It's not what anybody forced you to do. It's you looking internally and going like, okay, these are the cause cards I'm dealt with. It's so annoying, but I gotta work with it. And I gotta, you know, put in more effort in areas that for other people might be just like so much more easily accessible for them.

Does that make sense? So that's what I want everybody to be aware of. And this is not just money, by the way. It's the same thing for like love. It's everything. It's everything. Um, the other good news is, uh, life is somewhat fair. The universe is somewhat fair. Meaning not everybody's born with everything, right?

It's not a 10, 10, 10 across the board. Um, for example, like the billionaires that flew over, um, this, this, I mean, yeah, this is this definitely, this definitely cannot be shared, but she's, she's never been in love, she's never been in love. She's been married a couple of times, never experienced true love. Um, and she's just like, and she's gorgeous.

She's stunning, like stunning. Uh, very successful. Um, and. It's just kind of like, yeah, it's like why is it that like, you know, her friends who are far less eligible or far less attractive, just so much better at attracting love, right? I mean, it can all be explained by shit in the chart, but again, like if she had acc, and I think she's there now, but if she, uh, is ready to hear like, Hey, some of these are things that you could work on to like open yourself up to like, you know, attract these types of men, then, then she can start doing that work.

And I think she's at that point now, um, but I think for a very long time she just kind of thought she was unlucky. You know, you're, it's not that you're unlucky, that's not what it is. Uh, you just, your energy's just a bit different. Does that make sense y'all? Okay, great. All right. So, um, let me go to my Google doc.

Okay. So I want to keep on. I'm excited that I have 44. Hey, listen, here's a thing. Here's, okay, this is actually the flip story. This is the flip story. I gotta mention the flip story. There are people with a Jupiter political conjunction, that's the billionaire's degree. You know, you got, you guys heard about like 29 degree or 28th degree, right?

The anorectic, yeah. That's child's play compared to having Jupiter political conjunction. If you have a Jupiter conjunction in your chart, that's like, you know, that's like the, I mean the Bill Gates, the Jeff Bezos, I'm, I'm pretty sure Jeff Bezos had the, the Justin Bieber. Um, just personal, just personal people that I know who have, who have made it as an entrepreneur have those placements so easy.

Just co it's just, it just comes to them so easy. They don't have to like think about it. It's not their intelligence or anything like that. But on the flip side, I do, it's very rare, but I do know people who have those placements and still can't get shit. And a lot of that is also program. Um, you can't choose your parents, you can't choose your race.

You know, you can't choose where you're born, but you could have those placements, right? Then what do you do? So at that point, that's an additional layer of complexity of like, okay. I mean, yeah, if you're born's like a violent or tumultuous family, then you probably have some chaotic shit going on in your fourth house, even if you have Jupiter political conjunction, right?

In which case, like you're going to jump through additional hoops to attract that wealth or attract that love, whatever it may be. Um, I know a bunch of people who actually have half, either just Gate 29 or just Gate 44, um, or they have the Jupiter Politic conjunction, but there's a Saturn in it and it's, it's never to the top of what it is they want.

So in a case like that, and this is why we're in this community, and this is why we're in, um, the Discord group, this is where connections are really important. So for example, if you have Gate 44, uh, who will here watch the Human Design Office Hour? The replay. Okay. If you have not, please watch it. Because if you have Gate 29 and you're like, oh shit, I need this other gate to activate the full channel, you could literally meet somebody who has that gate and you guys can just start talking.

And you may not like each other, but, but energy will flow. Does that make sense? And you're like creating electromagnetic field between each other. Um, same thing with, um, here, let me see. I always forget this one channel, same thing with Channel 1648. This is a great, you know, if you have, if you manage a team, if you have Gate 16 and, uh, sorry. If one of your employees says Gate 16, and you know, they, they, they've kind of struggled. They're talented, but they're struggled with execution. Then you hire someone else who has Gate 48 and they come together, they can complete tasks.

Okay. You have to start seeing people as puzzle pieces, not competition. Um, if you really wanna get to that next level of abundance, you have to start seeing things through this lens. What that also means is you have to be extremely, almost uncomfortably objective about strengths and weaknesses in yourself and in those around you with, with non-judgment.

And this for some reason, you know, society has a really hard time, um, advocating for that. It's either super competitive or, you know, they for you to do things you don't wanna do instead of like focusing on your native strengths. And I find that to be really unfortunate, but that's why we're here. Okay. So anyway, going back to my story.

Um, am I going too fast? Any questions so far? Comments, feelings? Cool. So, so going back to my story, um, you guys know that I was in a, uh, nine to five for a long time and I actually had no desire for entrepreneurship. I just kind of thought, you know, I was, I was pretty happy to be just like a work, like a worker, be like, genuinely I, you know, I, I liked doing like the math stuff that I was doing or whatever, but, um, the breaking point for me was when I started to experience some politics at work and it got really nasty.

That's when I, that's when I started to daydream about, well, maybe, maybe I just need to make X amount a day pretty consistently and leave this, you know, hell hole. It wasn't always like that, but it became like that over the years. Um, and that startup grew from series A to series D, and I was a key player, but then it got too, it got too big and um, okay, the chat's going and saying with the channel, We'll get to that, we'll get to that later. Okay. I, I know y'all are excited about it, but just let's just pause on that. It's also, it also, it also does not matter if you don't have them. That's what I'm trying to tell you. The fact that I mentioned this out loud and the fact that you guys heard it, that already activated energy.

Um, and by the way, each of these gates are linked to like DNA N Strand or d n a codes. So, you know, there's studies that show that we're not like fully, um, using all of our d n A potential. This is where that, this is where that's coming from. Um, I have no idea where to look for these. Yeah, yeah, yeah. Don't if it's, if it's something that I think you need to see, I will share screen.

Okay. That's not the focus point right now, so don't worry about it. This is for people who already kind of like have some context. So anyway, going back to my story, um, So I have a left arrow on perspective. So for a very long time I was hyper fix For every single left arrow person, pay, please pay attention.

I was hyper fixed on, I'm just gonna get this promotion and I'm gonna get this raised and then I'm gonna become vp. I literally planned out my next 20 years of my life just so like myopically based on like these little goals that I had that I thought were so big. Cuz I was in my own little bubble, right?

So because I'm left arrowed and I had such bite size goals, or they weren't bite sized, but they were specific enough that I was so short, like I knew exactly how to executed, how to get there and I did. But when I exper started experiencing the external turmoil of politics, that's when I start to question, well, does it have to be this way?

So, . And then I kinda like had a full meltdown because I was like, well, I, um, at the time I was also like doing my film festival round. You know, I was, my, my screenplays were getting accepted to screenplay, uh, film festivals. But, you know, they weren't paying me or anything, so it couldn't be a career. So I was like, okay, I need a plan B or maybe even a plan C.

My original plan A is just not, it's not, it's not sustainable because I hate this place now. So if you're a left air person, I'm sure you can relate to that because you probably have all your shit planned out based on whatever dreams and ambitions you have, and then you realize it's, it's gonna lead you to self-destruct, self-destruction, right?

Who can relate? Although left air people, raise your hand if you're like, I was working towards goal, but the world's not cooperating. Right? Like, okay. So that's, that's when the right arrow exercise comes in handy. And without going to transits, without going to energetic, planetary, whatever. It doesn't matter.

It's in the past. I'm sure there are transits that trigger you to grow. This is when things, when things happen, you know, breakups or you know, health crisis, things happen so that your innate wiring can be challenged. And because we don't like to change fundamentally as people, we just don't. We're like, well, I, well, I gotta be more authentic.

And people are like, this is when they start doubling down. This is where the confusion of authenticity comes around. It's like they feel like either they've gotta be more authentic or they think that, which by the way, isn't serving them. Or they think that, um, they're being, they're, they, uh, They were like misguided by people around them, when really it's more like, no, it's actually you.

It's, it's you coming into alignment. These things happen so they can come into alignment and kind of steer away from like the unattractive parts of your authenticity. So for me, being super myop myopic was actually not helping me even though I was being authentic, right? So also there's this whole back narrative of me thinking that, you know, I was like destined to be like this, like star analyst was stupid.

Anyway, so I, um, that's the, the right arrow. So remember if your left arrow do the right arrow. If you're right arrow do the left arrow, um, bottom right arrow, yes. Perspective. So that's when I started practicing the right error stuff. Those screenplay groups. And this is where, you know, I'm a firm believer of community.

Cuz that really helped me out a lot. Like literally hearing other people's perspectives was so helpful to me. Like, um, I had friends who were telling me like, Hey, maybe, maybe, maybe you should just become like, you know, a terror or something. And I was like, are you fucking kidding me? I'm not doing that.

That's crazy. You know, don't have this like, respectable job and how could I leave this and become like a con that's content creator. Like, that's, that's so insane. But the thing is, I had, um, what's insane is I already had clients for years that I just never really. Um, I never really thought about growing into a business, so people were like, well, you already have clients, you might as well just do that until you find like your next gig that you like.

So I ha you see, I had a lot of outside forces, like bit by bit by bit that were infiltrating and like opening my perspec, like giving me right arrow perspective, you know, do you have to have like a defined job? Do you have to have a defined label? Do you have to like, sell just this thing? Like, you know, do you have to stick to like a startup?

Is that even a real career, like from 10 years from now? Like startups might just may not be a thing, could be replaced by ai. So, um, I was very lucky in a sense that I had people who were very creative, open-minded, non-judgmental, and were just so like hippy-dippy that they kinda like pushed me into, like broke me outta this left of hand mold.

But if I didn't have that, guess what? I would not be where I am today. Because that terror thing was also just like for six months. This is a fun fact, but I kind of stopped reading after like the first several months of starting my business. I went on to do other things. So now, I find myself in a situation where I'm like, holy shit, that was a test.

Like, that was a test to see if I was aware of the fact that my authenticity was hurting me. So on the flip side, if you're a right, right arrow person, and we're gonna go into, um, specific, uh, astrology stuff in a second. But if you're right hand person, um, if you're, if you're our confronted with a crisis, right?

Like I need to make more money or I need to elevate, or I need to manifest this, whatever, um, but you're still kind of vague on how to do it. You still can't really commit to, I'm just gonna say it, most of the time it's, it comes down to you not doing what it is you have to do. Truly it boils down to you, you know exactly what it is you need to do to move the needle or, or, or take steps forward, but you just don't do it cuz you feel uncomfortable, right?

It's, that's why you kinda wanna be like, well, if I don't come into anything, I can't make, I can't fuck up. You know, I'm, I'm kind of talking broadly here, but that is kind of the, the right arrow of stuff, right? So this is where you have to kind of push yourself and challenge yourself to be like, okay, I'm putting my foot down.

What is what, what is the worsen that can happen if I just take that, um, bite size next step? Let me go up here. Yeah. The smart framework. Using the smart framework, this is, this is where like using the smart framework becomes so helpful for right hand people. Raise your hand if, if, um, if you've identified a fear, if you're right.

Arab person, identify and yeah. If you've identified the fear around like why you can't. Uh, Allie, do you wanna share a little bit? Um, yeah, I mean, I think it's interesting, um, because I feel like a lot of the values that I was like writing down, um, uh, I, as I was like journaling and going more into it, I was realizing that I self sabotage, um, through fear and through not, you know, thinking I'm good enough and.

The biggest thing, like I've done recently is kind of, um, I'm a right arrow, so really just, um, identify what I need to be happy in my career. So the, like the two things I identified are expressing myself creatively and connecting with others. Perfect. And I realize that like, especially with, I mean with both, but especially with creativity, I'm very, very focused on the end result and it being something really, really powerful and good instead of just enjoying the process.

Mm-hmm. and that I love about creativity is not the end result, it's the process. Mm-hmm. . So I'm so focused and letting something stop me, that's not even the part of the process that I love. So I kind of like started going back and being like, okay, how can I actually just enjoy the process of creativity and how can I reinvigorate that?

And of course, yeah, I still, you know, of course wanna put out a good product or whatever with whatever I'm doing, but just lean more into what I'm actually good at, I guess. Um, and I did that, I identified like six different things and I was kind of able to do that for each one, which was really interesting.

I love that. And I wanna comment something here. Um, you mentioned that you enjoy, like the, you kind of dream about the final outcome, right? And the final, uh, product and just like the, the passion that it brings and the feeling that it brings. So a really good way to break it down here. Cause when I hear stuff like that, and I can totally relate my question is, um, what are the specific forms in which that could manifest?

So yeah, we mentioned the word creativity and that's pretty, pretty broad. Um, but is it like, you know, does it have to be like traditional, like fine and arts product, right? Or can it be, can it be, I don't know, like cooking? I'm not saying you gotta be a chef. That's not what I'm saying, but you see what I mean?

Like, um, , because I think your end goal is pretty clear to you. It's a feeling state, but if you can, if you can pull it down to specific vessels, that's what's gonna propel you forward. Yep. Um, I, so I have a friend out in California who is, is a similar situation for years and years and years. She thought she was gonna be an actress.

Right. And she was very gungho about, you know, uh, creative emotional expression or whatever. And, um, what she didn't realize is that for her, she actually doesn't care about how she expresses it as long as she expresses it. But for so long she thought it had to come in the form of acting. Yep. So she had to sit down and be like, okay, do I find creativity through human interaction?

Okay. The answer is checkbox. Yes. Then can I explore like adjacent roles to acting? And then all these beliefs come up, right? Well, what does that, what does that mean? Am I not good enough? No, no. It doesn't mean you're not good enough. It means that like, you know, there's other ways for you to feel good about what it is you do and still get that recognition, but just through other roles.

So it's like you, you see what I'm doing? Like breaking it down, like make it more and more and more and more granular. And to your point, like shedding light on the fear, because I think, I mean, your fears are different. Her fear was more about, I don't know what it was, but it was, it was now she's happy, she's fun, a better job, , that's, that's the bottom line.

But I think she had to go through that like almost a 10 year long process. Like why, why do I wanna be an actor and what are other ways I can channel that acting skill without being an actor? And that's when her life like started flowing. Um, okay. Cool. So, Today. With that as a backdrop and context, I wanna focus on, cuz I still want you guys to manifest your goals, whether it is during your time here or outside of it or whatever.

Um, it's really important to focus on the upcoming Mercury retrogrades or the next two, three years. So, fun fact, when, uh, when Mercury retrogrades, it's always in the same element. So in the past two, three years, I believe they were always retrograding in the air sign for the next few years. It's always going to retrograde in an earth sign.

Um, why is this important? Because Mercury retrograde is always about reviews, revising, correction, elevation. Every single person in this room has earth in your chart. It doesn't matter whether or not you have a planet and it, it's about the house. So why am I talking about this? Whatever it is you want, whether it's money or love or whatever, whatever, whatever it is you want, you first have to gain mastery.

And perfect your earth houses for the next few years to reach those goals. Because no matter how much you try to move forward, those earth houses will come up again and again and again and again. Be like, Hey, did you fix this? Hey, is this good enough? So we're gonna look at that in a second. Um, I wonder if it's best to, so I need everybody to pull up your chart.

Go to astro charts.com. Please use, um, whole house system if you already have your chart on your phone or whatever. That's great. If as part of your onboarding process, you should have gotten your chart. So again, like when you have a goal, it's tempting to just like jump straight to the goal, right?

Especially like the left air people. Like we double down on all the ways we know what to get there and it's, and then backfires, you know? Um, but the way life works and the way growth works is that things will come up for you to be like, Hey, I know you want this thing, but you didn't do your homework here yet.

And then unless you do your homework yet, can I move forward? Does that make sense? So going back to my story about when I left my nine to five couple of years ago, um, I didn't even know the stuff. I, I didn't even have this information at this level, but at the time, um, I'm a vocal rising. So at the time for a couple of years I was about to enter a period of all my Air Houses retrograding, and all my air houses were money houses and career houses.

Isn't that interesting? That's exactly the time when I went So, So it was a grind, it was a total hustle. Like I had to, I mean, like I was making content like every single day. I don't even do that now anymore. But, you know, I was making like multiple content, um, multiple times a day. Um, I had to learn really quickly.

I had to grow up really fast, like on how to like, um, price myself, uh, product creation, marketing, um, client onboarding, like, you know, figuring out vendors, you know, I was like a one person. Um, that's why I also run the business classes because I, I, I've taken business classes and quite frankly, I, I don't think they're realistic about, they're not reflective of like post covid era of like how to serve a business.

So anyway, so, um, Now the air cycle of mercury rich rate is over. But I realize, holy shit, I had this desire to manifest a business or just make my own money. Um, and I've achieved that like tenfold, which I'm very happy about. But at the time, I was thrown deep into challenging my beliefs around what success means, right?

The left arrow, I was thrown into that number one. And number two, I was thrown into my air house's retrograding. So they had to communicate. I had to change my beliefs around those air houses so that I can move forward and let, and let me tell you, like, I, I think, I mean, sometimes I just think I kinda got lucky, but like I know a lot of people, I can like literally talk to someone.

I can look at their chart, I can look at their arrow. I, I know they're goals, and I can tell exactly why they're moving forward because they're not doing this exercise. See, that makes sense. Do, do you see what, do you see what I mean? They're not doing this exercise of like, left, right? They're so like dogmatic in their ways.

They don't wanna confront, they don't wanna get specific. It's like, yeah, but you want what you want. I get it. But you gotta look at these things. So we're gonna go through some examples, um, today. And by the way, like some of this stuff could sound technical, but it's, but it's not. So just raise your hand if you have any questions for me.

Okay. So let me share my screen.

Alright. I just put this in the Google doc today. Um, I should have done the razor hand thing. Oh, well. So I'm Virgo Rising. That's Earth. That, that means for the next few years if I want to get what I want. I gotta focus on my first house, fifth house, ninth house. Cuz my first house is Virgo. You know, that's earth.

My fifth house is Capricorn, that's also earth. Ninth is, uh, Taurus, that's also also Earth. So these are three houses that I have to focus on. Doesn't matter what my goals are, it doesn't fucking matter to get what I want. I gotta focus on these things cuz things will keep coming up over and over and over again.

Where these things are in review. And the theme, I mean, I'm, cause I'm just trying to simplify this, but the theme around these houses is self, which is really interesting because, um, uh, , it's, uh, the, so when you first join, I ask you to pull your natal chart. So it's not mandatory, but it's recommended.

And by the way, if anyone's speaking out loud, I can't hear you. So feel free to unmute yourself. So,

Uh, by the way, anyone who's experiencing issues with onboarding, please get in an officer with Angela. She will walk you through all the things. Okay? If you are fire rising, actually, let me stop my screenshot in a second. Can you raise your hand if you're fire rising Sagittarius S Leo? Let me look. Keep your hand up.

I just wanna see something real fast, huh? Not as many as I thought.

Okay. Because if you're fire rising, you're going to start thinking a lot about career, money, finances. Um, it doesn't matter how successful you are, you're, you're still gonna think about like how to get to the next level or how to pivot, or how to, you know, or how to quit and do your own thing. Whatever it is.

Uh, raise your hand. Put, uh, put your hands down, please. Put your hand emoji down. Raise your hand if you are a, uh, air rising Libra, Aquarius, Gemini. Oh, there we go. Okay. Interesting, interesting. So, the funny thing about Air Risings and I, and I'm speaking this based on a couple of clients who are going through this, for some reason, the money and the, the family stuff is tied. So if you're, if you're air rising, uh, you're gonna go through some family stuff. It doesn't, it's not bad, it's just, it, there's themes, ground like independence, um, autonomy or codependence or something like that.

It could even have to do with, it could even have to do with. Your subconscious beliefs around shared resources like give and take, um, others, people investing in you and you know, your sense of self worth, like coming from that or whatever. So it's actually like I'm seeing in, in my clients, what I'm seeing is that they actually want to move out, move forward and do their own thing, but they can't because their family's holding them back.

Um, and it's not always literal, by the way. It's like very, very, very subconscious. It doesn't matter like how successful you're not there, there's something there. So, yeah. Yeah, yeah. Yeah. That's cool. Okay. Anyway, uh, raise your hand if you're a water rising. Put your hands down please. For the air rising.

Yeah, for water rising. Let me see.

Not that many water rising.

Wait, sorry if this is a stupid question. Rising is ascendant, right? Yes. Your first house. So Capricorn is Earth. Earth, okay. Gotcha. Yeah. Okay. If your water rising, um, the key to getting what it is you want is actually focusing on your, or examining your relationships, whether it is with siblings, friends, romantic partners, fr Yeah.

Um, I also just wanna say like, even if people, even if you don't know them, like your internet network, so, okay. So now that everyone knows like what their, what their theme is, what's the ratio for the group? It's, honestly, I couldn't, I feel like it's pretty evenly split. There's definitely most amount of fire I feel.

But fascinating stuff. Okay, so let's go back to sharing the screen.

Water izing. Okay, great. All right. So for the next couple of years, um, mercury will be retrograding in these particular houses for you. So the reason why I bring this up is because it's almost like you, you almost don't have a choice. Like things will, I mean, you know how life works, like shit just blows up sometimes and you're like, what?

Like, what's going on? I didn't plan for this. Well, you don't always plan stuff, okay? Uh, stars actually have a real impact on your life. So this is just like a heads up and get prepared. If you're left air, be prepared to be more open-minded and be ready to edit these areas of your life. And if you, um, are right arrow, try get ready to be more granular and specific about these areas of your life.

And by the way, the cheat sheet is in the Funer North Star, so. if you're like, what is this? I've never seen this. This is something that you get when you join. So here is, uh, from finding North Star, it's like a bonus worksheet, you know, houses one through 12 and all the areas that it governs your life. So I actually wanna hear some examples.

Um, I actually want to do the coaching anchored around this today cause I think it'll be kind of fun. But I am earth rising and I literally just went through. Hmm. I literally just went through what the fire risings are about to go through. So I'm gonna do, I'm gonna pick one person from each element and do coaching.

Okay. Kind of to help you guys out combining with the arrows.

Oh, Darren, you didn't get it? Okay. Yeah. I'll add you.

Let me pause real fast. Any question before I like pick somebody general feedback. This is awesome. I feel like I already am like so energized just by even being present in this conversation. So awesome. Yay. I love it. Yeah, I, I think, I think, uh, I think a lot of people, I shouldn't say a lot of people, that's not true, but I think some people expect me to come in here and be like, oh, you gotta clean your stove top to manifest more money.

Which is true by the way. You gotta do that to manifest money. But that's not, that's not how I plan to coach people on how to actually bring up, we just let my cat in. She loves the garden. Um, okay, great. So for Fire rising, let's go for Joshua. Since he, oh, sorry. No, Juan, I guess they both volunteer, but I got, I'll, I'll go with Juan cause he said.

Can you? Yeah, can you? Okay, great. Yeah, so I'm a Sagittarius rising. Yeah. And, um, my second sixth and 10th has, are all earth. It's capric contours and Virgo. And, um, I've been unemployed for about a year. I graduated, I graduated from my, um, master's degree in 20, the, the, the end of 2021. I quit my job a month after, and then I spent the whole 2022 unemployed and I'm still looking for a job.

It's funny because, you know, clearly this has been an issue for you, but now the stars are like, all right, time to really step up the game. Cause we're gonna like, just like hammer you all the, with all the reasons to like, you know, master game master over these houses. Right? What is your arrow left or right?

Uh, everything left. Everything left. You're the shark archetype. Very interesting. All right. What is what? Okay. You said you're a data analyst? Yeah. I mean that's, that's what I got my master's on. Okay. Never worked as a data analyst though. Uh, most of my experience was on tv. I just kind of hated it the whole time.

Your experience was on tv? Yeah. I worked at Univision. Oh, finish 10. Okay. But I, I just kind of hated my whole time there. Okay. Left Arrow Data Analyst. How long did you work at that job before you quit? Five years, but, oh, so this was before your, your master's degree? Yeah. I kind of got my master's during my last year there, and, and the second I got the Master's, I quit cause I just couldn't take it anymore.

Okay. Immediately what I get is that good fortune is on the way, but you gotta pivot. The data thing is not working. Um, so here's what I would do, and I know, and I, and I know you're probably like, oh shit, that's the last thing I wanted to hear. Um, but this is where we have to break out of the left, the left air a little bit, right?

So what do you and everybody in this room that are trying to pivot in your careers, grow your business, please pay attention. Um, especially if you have , uh, left arrow. Okay.

Um, what is it about the data analyst thing that you like? Like, why, why did you get the degree in the first place? Uh, I, I've always been like very logically minded.

Like actually I, when I first graduated high school, I wanted to become an engineer. That just kind of didn't work out. I ended up getting a, an undergrad in sports management, never got a job in sports. Ended up working on tv, and then I just kind of wanted to have more of a, like I said, like, like, Like, I have a very analytical mind that's just like, kind of what comes natural to me.

So Great, great. You know, I saw big data was like a big thing and yeah. Great. Okay. That's good intel. Um, what did you do with the, at Univision? I did different things. So when I started as an intern for production, uh, like a production assistant for, uh, sports, uh, for like the sports network that they have, but then it eventually ended up working like at the library of like the whole content.

So like the, it is, the department was co content management and what I worked at was like basically handling every, all the content that came in, just like organizing it in the library so that, you know, producers, editors would like nobody to reach it and stuff. Got it. Do you happen to know, so what is your 10th house rule?

By what, what sign? Uh, Virgo. Virgo. Okay. So your job is to simplify things for people, um, whether it is, you know, process wise or, or written wise or whatever. And so you're in the right direction in terms of the analysis part. Um, I'm not quite sure if it exactly is data analysts. If you, if you keep trying, it's not happening.

It's, it's universe saying this is not it. I, I want everyone to take notes. If you, if you've tried enough and it's not working, it's literally the universe being like, this is not it for you. Um, you don't have to keep forcing it. So, all right. Let's take a step back. What are some, let's, let's actually, did you do this exercise, Juan, up here?

I figure I did it wrong. I, cause I'm a le I, I, I think I was supposed to do the right side because I'm my left side, right? Yep. Exactly. Yeah. I did the left side. Like I just, so I, not really, no, this is, no, no, this is right. If your left side, you're supposed to do this, so it's good.

Okay, so then, then yeah. Okay, great. So, um, so I'm just kind of like answering, uh, for you right here. Yeah. I'm sorry, I'm kind of answering for you. I feel like you were motivated to get this job because you just wanted to ride the macro trends of like, what would be a hot job, basically. Yeah. And like I just feel like I'd be good at it.

And you knew that you were analytical, so you were like, okay, one plus one equals two, so lemme just go for that. So that is your true motivation. Did everyone catch that? The true motivation was he just wanted job security. What's I, what's ironic though is that when, whenever he wants security, that's when we least have it.

Um, what's kind of stupid? That's just not stupid, but like, that's how the universe works. Okay. So at the end of the day, would you say that, let's just say if the da the data market wasn't a hot, you know, job sector, would you think you would've gone for it, Juan? Uh, probably not. I think what, I mean, what I've always wanted to do is work in sports.

I think my, my main goal has always like, I don't know, maybe become like a GM for a team or something like that. Yeah. And that is a pretty analytical role because sports, a lot of it is probability. Um, so you kind of have to increase the probability of, you know, your, your team winning. Yeah. Okay, great.

Okay, great. So what are some adjacent roles to data analytics? What are some what? Nevermind, rephrase. What are some, yeah, what are some adjacent roles you can do that requires your analysis that isn't quite numerical in nature? Um, I mean, I guess something that I always wanted to get in was like, maybe like coaching, so like ana analytics, like on the field, like let's say like, I love soccer for like an, I mean, I love all sports, but like, let's just use like soccer for an example.

Like there's like a lot of like analysts that work for like, teams of like, like they just analyze the plays and create reports from that and stuff like that. Right. Okay. Um, so going into, actually this is, this is a very interesting pivot. Did you guys notice that he basically did a 180 from, you know, being in the spreadsheet to working with people?

It's still the same kind of analysis, but one, like I said, one's a spreadsheet once interacting with people and giving them numerical feedback so that they can like, tweak their performance. So what, and I don't know enough about this, phon, this is where you, you kind of have to do your own homework. What are some, what are some experiences that are required for you to be qualified for that kind of role?

Um, I would have to do more like to actually give like a real answer. I think I have to do more homework on that, honestly. Okay. Have you done it? Have you done it before? I'm just curious, have you done that homework before? Yeah, I think a lot of, like, I think I have to go through like the coaching badges if I want, like, you know, according to whatever sport I want to get into.

I think that's probably gonna be beneficial and I think that that would be like a good start. Okay. Um, no, but I guess my question was did you, did you actively look into entering that before because Oh yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah. But like a long time ago that when I got my undergrad I just, you know, never happened.

Oh, okay. So that was actually even before you got your master's degree? Yeah. So here's what I would do, and I don't, and I don't know enough about sports management, so I could be completely misspeaking, but what I would personally do is look at what makes you uniquely qualified for that role. That other people in that job don't have, and I'm, I'm willing to bet my money.

It's your master's degree. This is where your master's degree will come in handy if you go for like, Hey, I can be, and I also, by the way, don't, I mean you can correct me like if I'm wrong later, but I have a feeling you may not need a coaching degree. Yeah. I might not need it. I just, that's just like a feeling.

I don't think you, I don't think you're gonna need it. I also don't know if you're going to be able to coach people right away, but I feel like you could get yourself in the sports industry as some kind of, um, I get like strategy analyst or like business analyst for, um, a sports manager and shadow them and then figure out a spot if they have like an opening.

It basically like you're gonna be, you're not gonna need a coaching degree because you're going to be shadowing someone who already does. But what you're gonna be providing is the analysis. I know so many stories of how people got crazy jobs, by the way, that, that's why I can just riff this stuff. Cuz in my mind, like anything's possible.

You just have to position yourself in the right area. But the re okay, but we kind of got like, we kind of went off rail, but I wanna bring it back down to what it is you want. You know what you really wanted wasn't data analysis. What you wanted was to be able to identify patterns and simplify and use that information to increase performance.

Yeah. That's the root, that's the core. It's not like, forget the data, right? You want to analyze why something works the way it does, specifically in the sports field. And, and honestly I kind of do that naturally when I work at television. Like, you know, I worked in, in. In, in a place where like things were done like a certain way and it's so easy to me to like see something being done and just see like the flaws and like I just do it my own way.

And a lot of times it becomes more efficient and that then it became like the norm. Mm-hmm. . Mm-hmm. . That's awesome. That's, uh, yeah, cuz you, that's amazing. And I'm, the good news is you're not dogmatic about data analysis. You're not sitting there like, no, I have to do this. I have to work at Microsoft.

You're not doing that. Which is great because I don't feel like that. Yeah. Because that, that was my problem personally. Like I, I was like, I have to be, I have to be a hedge bond. I have to, to start, you know, all this stuff. So as long as you're not in that category and you can just extract what you're good at and apply to your, your passion, that's great.

And the, and the rest is just literally, um, Literally, yeah. Trying to, trying to figure out a path to get there, because your retrogrades will happen in your money houses. What I suspect will come up a lot for you too is the tactical, um, like salary, uh, you know, um, work setting, um, level, like un unfor, fortunately, or unfortunately, it's gonna get to that level of like specificity where you have to figure out like, okay, like do I want to go for an analyst role or do, or should I like enter as like a director of vp?

Like, is because I already have a master's degree? I don't know. You know, I think, um, these things will come up for you as you kind of like strengthen your money in house sec uh, career sectors over the next two, three years. It's not something that you're just gonna glaze over or people just hand you stuff.

I think you're gonna fight for it. Yeah. Does that make sense? Ok. Yeah. Amazing. Thank you so much for participating in that. Um, wait, I, I, who's, uh, who's the. Air rising. I am . No, but somebody, but somebody typed, I think it was Alexandra. Okay, great. Oh yeah. Yes. I just wanna see everyone's faces. So before you go into Alexandra's, raise your hand if you thought that was helpful. All the, all the earth retros coming up. Raise your hand if you're all like, oh, okay.

Because I wanna tweak based on that, I wanna tweak the coaching based on your level of helpfulness. Okay. Alexandra? Oh my gosh, my cat is crying. I, I, it's because I didn't, um, fill her bathtub, a bath bathroom. So she's whatever. Okay. It's just she's She'll be fine. She'll be fine. Um, Alexandra? Yes. What is your, what is your arrow?

Oh my God. So they're all left except the digestion one. That's right. So my, they're all. Yeah. So the digestion one was right. The rest, the three are left. And then Libra rising. Libra rising. Okay. I know a couple of Libra Risings who are all in a very similar situation. Tell me a little bit about what it means to you when I say family.

Um, it's probably the most strenuous relationship in my life at this point. Strained or strange strous, kind of like, I've always had a hard time with them. I've, they're the ones that I always have to manage the most. . Yeah. Yeah, of course. So now, so similar to Juan, who, who said earlier like, Hey, I've been already dealing with this, but now it's gonna be like zero focus.

Same thing for you. It's always been like a, like a thing, but now the universe is being, Hey, Alexander, you wanna manifest this next big thing? You gotta address this first. The, this, the shit's been always plaguing you. Now you've really gotta confront it head on, and then you can move forward. So, um, and nobody wants to hear that because we're like, we just wanna to, you know, ignore all that.

Okay. So can you, okay, so you're left error. So you're very specific about your goals. What is it that you want, why'd you sign up for this, uh, case study group? Well, I've been in the personal space for many years already. Um, I've done a lot of work on myself with others. I'm a coach and so on, but I feel like at this point I'm not getting to the next level and either I have a.

A blind spot or a block that I'm not noticing and I might get in my own way. So I do work with other people when I know that I can't figure it out on my own anymore. When you say get to next level, do you mean like financially? Um, just recreationally everything. I mean, I'm at a certain point in my life where I work for myself, I work with other clients.

I have my own business and so on. But I do want the next level when it comes to money, relationship. Um, I mean, I've been a nomad for a long time, haven't decided if I wanna stop or not, so there are a lot of things that I may have to make a decision or I'm in a state where, what's the next thing that will give me more fulfillment or satisfaction.

Ooh, okay. There's a lot to unpack there. Oh, when you say coaching, what do you specifically coach? Is it just like overall wellness life stuff? So I do two different things. I'm a consultant for people who work in the personal development space, speakers and, um, courses. So I work behind the scenes a lot, operational, uh, marketing and things like that.

But I'm involved in, um, kind of like mindset things. And then I'm a relationship coach, so my own coaching or certification is in love, relationship, intimacy, sexuality, things like that. Oh wow. Okay. So you actually help other people grow and expand their business operationally speaking. Mm-hmm. . But at the same time you also focus on like relationships and mindset.

Mm-hmm. . Okay. It's so, okay. So that's super helpful cuz what, what came up for me when I first started tuning into you is, um, this, well first of all I'm getting that you're protected, so like you're in a good place. But what I also heard is like, it's time to like really hunker down and ground. Hmm. So what that means, and I was like wondering like, what, what, what do they mean by that?

Um, I think that you're really good at taking care of other people. I think you're really good at spotting what people need. Um, and over time that's translated to you kind of being pulled into different parts. Um, and what they're saying is, in order for you to get to next level, you kind of have to like pull it all back and be like, okay, what is this one thing I really wanna double down on?

Cause at what's kind of holding you back is, is speed, quite frankly speed to move forward due to being pulled in different directions. Um, but there's still ties to family though, so could you tell me a little bit about like how your family has factored into your business life? . So I haven't lived with my family or I've moved out since I was 21.

My life was a bit of a crazy path because I've had marriage, divorce, lots of life transitions that happen, major life transitions from moving countries and things like that. So my relationship with my dad is probably the most difficult one. That came with a lot of aggression, violence, abuse, things like that.

And then my relationship with my mom is more on managing her, I don't know, manipulative side of a mother where like she wants to like keep everything together and have it under her control in a sense. My relationship, both my parents didn't have a good relationship, so the examples of good partnership was not there.

And then my sister and I had a good relationship till we were teens. Then we kinda like fell apart and now we're trying to manage coming back when she's married with a kid and her life, it focus is different. Then I feel like the culture I come from too. It's very negative and critical and judgmental.

So I've dealt with a lot of that. Like they're not happy that I'm single , that I'm 38 almost with no kids, that I travel the world with no place to settle, that I spend money living, I'm in Canada right now, instead of just being back into my home country, which I would never move back to anymore. So I, I don't think they really see what I do or understand it either way.

So, so what's so fascinating is that every, I'm getting chills, like every single thing you just said is all very like fourth house, eighth house, 12th house. Like, I'm not even joking. It's like on the, on the spot, on the money. So, um, If I may, I wanna take a step back and kind of, kind of help you through this, um, navigate through this because you said that, going back to the goal, you said your goal was to get to the next level in your career.

I'm not quite sure if that's a true goal. I think that's going to be a symptom that's gonna happen naturally as a result of you kind of moving through these like, you know, fourth house, eighth house, 12 house issues. And I actually wanna like focus on the eight house cuz by the way, eight house, just everyone for everyone's knowledge.

Eight house is also a money house, but it's money in relation to other people. It's about, you know, tax, like investment loans, trading if you, well, especially if you trade with other people's money. Um, so it's a, it's, you know, people who have crazy eight house activities, um, are, are really good at getting huge contracts.

People just like dump money on them. Right. So what's, what I'm hearing from you when you speak is, um, , the first thing that I get is figuring out how to protect yourself. And I don't know how to, by the way, I don't know how you prior price yourself when it comes to other businesses, but I have a sneaky feeling.

Something needs to get done there so that you increase your price. Mm-hmm. , when you work with client, especially corporate level or like business level clients. There, there is that. Usually when this happens, it's, it's that. Um, but the reason, but the real reason why you should do that is so that you could focus more on the things you wanna do.

And if you do spend time with other corporate clients, they got, they gotta pay you a premium for that. That's like the immediate, like, you know, very low hanging fruit fix that I get. The other thing is, um, what I, what I heard was psychic attacks, and it's actually related to your 12th house, but the psychic attacks is not, doesn't mean someone's literally attacking you.

This could be cultural, this could be childhood, this could be a lot of like negative voice inside your head that you kind of like were raised with. Right. So now's a really good time to. , um, you know, question yourself on, yeah. Why do I price X when I should be pricing this? Um, why was I fixed on this framework for so long?

The left arrow stuff, right? Why was I bucket into this for so long when I could advocate for myself and charge higher? Like, what are the, what beliefs come up if I try to push up the price? Like what fears come up? The flip side, what's the problem with cutting out? Um, no, no, rephrase. What's the problem with committing to just one thing?

Either committing all to the corporate stuff, you know, helping other business or committing all to my own relationship slash mindset coaching. Why do I feel like I have to straddle? Um, yeah, that's, that was a, that was a, I'm just thinking out loud, but do you have an answer? I mean, probably I did think of this too, cuz like you mentioned time and, and all my focus build in different directions, but probably the corporate one cuz it's more consistent and the money is there, I know it's happening versus me, I am still building things on my coaching side.

I've done group and one-on-one maybe I feel like, oh, I don't have what it needs to build or receive the money that I'm getting with the corporate. Mm. Okay. Uh, what is your 10th house ruled by? What's, what's the sign on your 10th house? I'm trying to figure out these houses cuz I feel like they're in bet between signs if I look at the chart.

So 10th, I feel like it shows me cancer in Gemini. I'm a Gemini, but. Got it. What is your, uh, then let's look at your mc. What's your mc in? I'm . It'll, it'll just say, it'll literally just say Mc. Mc. It's Gemini. Gemini. Okay. Okay. Okay. That explains a lot. So, um,

I mean, your job is to communicate. Your job is to just literally teach, communicate, do multiple things, juggle. So I totally get that. Um, so actually for you, maybe not committing to one thing is a good strategy because Gemini, uh, met heavens like to multitask and do multiple things at once. So the next most logical question is, is there a way for you to rebrand yourself so that you can take on these two roles in a way that makes sense for your business?

That's where your negotiation power, I think will come in. I think you can say, you know this, I'm focusing on the eight house stuff and we're gonna get to family stuff later. But the eight house stuff is very much like I am an expert at accelerating businesses in the personal development space. And, you know, example are, you know, these successful clients that I have that I've like helped grow, plus I have my own business.

So I wonder if the. It's the pivot or the shift is as easy as just re slight rebranding and using that as an excuse to elevate the price. Hmm. Because, because eighth House, I mean, it's such like a powerful, if I look at a natal chart, eight house is always gonna, is always like something that's like kind of heavy for me.

Um, you're going to experience a lot of things over the next two, three years where you have to stand up for yourself and negotiate for yourself and advocate for yourself with family, with business partners, and again and again, um, you're gonna feel triggered. That's the, that's where the 12th loss will come in.

You'll get triggered as far as like having to like defend yourself and or, or like even self worth. Um, so it's really a journey of healing that healing, you know, your, you feeling like you can't stand strong to someone. Um, and once you heal that you'll be able to get to the next level and. I mean, I'm just seeing this so much in all my lebar rising like clients.

It's, it's kind of, it's kind of strange. Like I have one person who's taking care of like an aging parent, and because of that, she can't go do your own thing. I have another one who literally can't get away from her husband's. That's why sh her business is blocked. Like it's, it's all related. So it's all it, it comes back to, you still have to fight for what it is you wanted.

If you can't, you have to ask why. Why can't I fight for what, why can't I just say no? Or why can I ask for? Yeah, I feel like some of these things already like showed up and our conversation or me joining the program, because I'm, I'm new, right? I started last week, it kind of com culminated, culminated to this point.

I'm like, okay, there's small little shifts and I've been doing my own work, but I think I needed this group, this community. And then the validation too that, okay, this is kinda where I'm at cuz it impacts, like even if I look at relationships, right, or romantic relationships, I have done nothing in that category though I do cra it and want it and feel ready for it, but then I am in the space of relationships and I see a lot of things.

So then I'm like, am I too picky? ? Am I letting my work and other things affect that? So, yeah. Right. I can totally understand that. Um, I, this is the reason why matchmakers are also single cuz they know too much. Um, but I, I think that, yeah, it's very interesting to see, uh, What, just looking at what all my Libra Rising people are going through and also it's Le Libras don't wanna like, you know, piss people off, right?

So I think that's ano another component, like having a hard time saying no. And it's so funny that they're all being forced to say no to somebody right now in their life. So in your case, I don't think you have to like, commit to either the corporate side or the um, or the coaching business, but I would challenge your beliefs around your personal branding.

Remember how you also said like, I don't know if I can go completely solo. I need like, the stability of pay, like stable paychecks of the corporate stuff. I would even challenge that cuz I'm not even sure if that's entirely true. By the way, this is where like you have to kind of like examine your left arrow with do I really need that corporate money or is that an excuse to not double down on my own stuff?

Um, I would even look at what are the, what are, what are some ways they can help me with my business? , um, without, without knowing your exact business model. I'm just riffing, but I feel like there's something there. Yeah. That, that makes sense. I mean, yes, I do work with very successful people, so yes. You're in good hands though.

I, I get that you're protected. Um, raise your hand if you're an air rising. And that was somewhat helpful to hear Alexandra's story. Who's even, okay. Stephanie, Josh, Audrey. Oh, Audrey. You're Gemini Rising. That's right. I forgot that. Okay. Awesome. Let me look at, so we did Earth, we did air. No, we did fire. What am I talking about?

Fi We did fire, air. Let's do Earth and then water. Who's Earth? Let me see. I'm also picking people that didn't go last time.

Francis and Fran. Francis, you didn't go last time. No. Okay, great. Let's look at your, Francis and I go way back, , so I she'll get it, it makes sense to me already. , so I think I know what she's gonna bring up, but let's just, let's see, what's your arrow? Um, I'm right. Okay. And your Taurus rising, right? Yeah. Fun.

F you guys. She, she thought she was a Gemini rising, like for her entire life. Yeah. And then, uh, and then Jake did a, a rectification. Mm-hmm. . Yeah. Jake is having a live activation this month, third week or something. You, you guys should all come. You're already part of the community, so you're invited. He's really good.

Okay. Taurus rising, right? Arrow. What do you want, Francis? This is like, this is where it makes sense, like to really pinpoint like what I want, cuz it's just like, oh, I want, yeah, great relationships, but really what is it? Right? And so the last exercise was really great for me because what. One of the things I said I really valued was I really want to have more intimate relationships and meaningful relationships, both like with friends and like romantic partners.

Mm-hmm. . And so I, I identified the things that like, what, what I'm not, what I'm doing that is preventing that from happening. So what did you, what did you realize, or, uh, in your exercise, what did you discover that you value? Um, I value intimacy in relationships. I value, um, authenticity, honesty, um, I value, but I also value independence.

Mm-hmm. . Um, and you know, like one of the things that just made me laugh, it's like I, you know, value intimacy and like openness in relationships, but I often have my guard up with people Mm. Mm-hmm. and that definitely prevents me from having these, you know, more meaningful relationships because I always keep my guard up.

Mm-hmm. . Um, and then just like the other one that made me laugh is like, I'm a hermit. I like staying home. Like, and I'm never gonna get out there and meet new people if I'm just like closed off at home all the time. Mm-hmm. . Okay, time out. Let's take a step back cuz I feel like you've always known that you value intimacy, so I feel like there is something else there.

What did you, what's the difference between now and before doing the exercise? Cuz you've always valued intimacy. Mm-hmm. , but, but I feel like there's something else you realize you value, um, related to love and relationships or you realize, or you realize, um, I, I don't know how to phrase this. Um, okay. It sounds like you've identified what's, even if you know what you value, it seems like you've identified.

What's blocking you from going after what it is you value? Is that right? Yeah, it's like the hermit aspect. Yeah, it's the hermit aspect. It's, um, I'm always like mistrustful of other people's intentions. Mm-hmm. , um, and even those closest to me, like, they don't really know all aspects of me, and I think that's really tied to the fear of just like, not being accepted for who I am and, you know, for, I don't know, the things that I believe in or the things that I'm interested in.

It's always this, um, you know, it goes back to I wanna be that, like that perfect child for my parents and, um, having kind of the persona that it's like I got my shit together, but mm-hmm. what will happen if people find out that I'm, I, I don't . Right, right, right, right, right. Okay. For every, everybody in the room, by the way, who wants to manifest love.

I'm, I have really unfortunate news for you. Um, you, you gotta put yourself out there. Um, I'm sorry. There's just like, I mean, people just don't fall into your labs from the sky. That's not how life works. Okay? So you gotta like, put yourself out there. But, so I'm, I'm really proud of you, Francis, for recognizing that like, you know, you do have trust issues and, and that actually is a huge hindrance from you putting yourself out there, right?

Mm-hmm. . And I find it fascinating that your first fifth ninth house is gonna come into major highlight for the next two, three years. Because Fifth House is the house of sex. It's the house and be in love. Yeah. And play and, and just pleasure and having fun by the way. Fun fact. Um, you guys know what I said about Jupyter Pluto, right?

Uh, being like a force multipl player. I know, I know somebody who has that in the fifth. Oh my God. One of the most sexual people I've ever met in my life. Just over the tops. It just comes to her so easily. Like she does, she has no hangups about her own body anyway, so, and the ninth house is actually a very spiritual house about higher learning and, um, philosophy.

So I suspect Francis, I'm just kind of guessing here. You might, you might go through like dating coaching classes because the ninth house is all about, it's not just a spiritual house, it's about re it's a house of education. Mm-hmm. . So maybe you'll, um, maybe you'll get some guidance on, you know, how to elevate yourself on dating profiles or how to like, filter men better or how to, you know, go on that fifth date, uh, without getting too attached, whatever it may be.

I kind of see you doing that. Yeah. I literally just got the work knowledge. So learning. Um, okay. All right. So right arrow and. All the self stuff. I'm gonna try to bring this in. Even higher definition or higher resolution. Um, what, give me, can you, can you, can you walk me through, um, because something about a connection, it feels ungrounding to you. Like, I feel like you're, like, I get this feeling of like, right, like even if you do wanna connect, when I, when I imagine you like actually connecting and actually like dating and actually being in a relationship, like you feel ungrounded.

Mm-hmm. . So tell me what, what activity would actually feel grounding with a partner.

It's a really good question. I don't know. I mean, I think that for me, feeling grounded in any relationship I have to like, have exposure to that person for. Like a longer period of time. Like it can't just be one date. Right. Um, and I can do whatever. Going out to eat, having drinks, I know we're not supposed to do that, but, um, having drinks or going out for like walks or being out in nature, exploring, you know, new places in the city, like all of that, totally cool with me.

Totally something that I would do, but it's really more of. Do I feel comfortable around somebody I don't really know, you know, like it. Right, right, right. That's what makes me feel ungrounded. Right, and that's what you said right there. That is the linchpin, that is the linchpin of the, the first fifth, ninth house.

I don't know what's gonna make me feel comfortable or them just being exposed to them. Um, I'm willing to bit my money that all the left, there are people in this room can like, rattle up 10 things they gotta do with someone before they're like, you're in my life. Right. Like, for example, for me, like, I need to, you know, first get drinks with them, then get dinner with them, then, um, you know, talk about deep shit, you know, watch this movie.

You know, I have a, I have a list. and by the time I get to the 15th thing, I'm like, okay, you're in my life now. Mm-hmm. . So you gotta, using the smart framework, you gotta do that for yourself, which means it's actually a lot of self-discovery of realizing, okay, like where, what do I, what's the barometer?

What's the standard or the metric by which I can confidently say I trust this person. Mm-hmm. . And I know it's kind of like tricky because I know you're going by feeling, but this is where we're like, no, we need to be a bit more left arrow. Yeah. Like literally make that list of like, you know, Um, yeah, what a tip.

Like what are the check boxes? Like I, I, I'm having this conversation with one of my guy friends who's exact same way. Um, he's like, he's like, I don't know, like when I'm gonna say I love you to a girl. And he's been with this check for like eight months and like, he, he still hasn't said, I love you. I'm like, well, what is it?

What does she have to do? And he goes, I don't know. And I'm like, that's your problem. You have to fucking figure this out. Or you're gonna go by two years and still not say I love you. And she's gonna be like, what the hell's matter with you? So, um, this is, and I suspect he's going through this too, the first fifth, ninth house.

So first connecting with like, your inner self and, and looking at, okay, what makes me, like, feel light and protected and safe and fun, um, and then putting your fellows out there and engaging in those activities with that, with that person. is gonna give you the, the safety net and the guardrail of assessing whether or not they're it.

Does that make sense? Yeah. That's actually really interesting that you say that and like you talk about the list because honestly like that's what I've done. Like first date it's drinks, I limit it to like one to two hours just to feel out the vibe. Second time it's dinner or a longer period of time to kind of fill it out more.

And I think for me, having that structure and making myself kind of follow that structure has been more comfortable for me. Yeah. Nobody's passed the third one though. Like . Right, right, right, right. But I mean, I think for me it's, um, yeah, it was that, that having that framework for myself has helped.

Awesome. And I wanna, and I do wanna emphasize the first house, cuz that's actually the most important house too. Um, every time there's aran, not transit, but you know, like this retrograde stuff happens in your first house. It's actually about elevating yourself. Mm-hmm. . So, um, I would actually argue like, yeah, making that that list of activities that you enjoy is a secondary.

The primary is, let's make you like super lux, right? Let's, let's like level you up like 10 x or 20 x, whether it is like the wardrobe, that is the first house, by the way, the wardrobe, the makeup, the hair. I already spent so much on that June . Really? Yes. . Way too much. Okay. Well, okay, well maybe there's other things you can try.

I don't know. This is all about beauti, like the house of beauty, right? To beautify yourself. Because first and foremost, you've gotta feel good and confident in your own skin before you go out and meet other people. Um, one of my mentors used to say, if you, if you eat right, Exercise, you know, whatever the fuck she said, then people will start naturally like coming to you.

Yeah. Yeah. It's, I mean, all of it like makes so much sense because like in the last year it's like I've really been trying to eat better. I've like, you know, started working out more regularly and really taking care of myself and putting myself first cuz you know, like with my kids and stuff, you know, ju hey June, because we've worked together, like I put everybody else before me.

And so I really have in the last year, um, been very conscious of taking care of myself first and taking the time that I need to do to take care of myself to better myself. And you know, like if it's like last Friday I took the day off of Warp to take, do a spa day, right? Like I love that, think that just to really do a lot of that self-care, which I think I've been missing for years.

I love that. Um, it's funny because we think that they, like, those things don't matter when it comes to relationships, but like surprisingly they do. It's like. Yeah, it's really funny. Like I look at all my girlfriends and I'm like, I, I hate to put it this way, but the most selfish bitches are the ones that are happiest in the relationship.

Like, it's crazy. So, you know, there, there is something to be said about truly putting yourself first, especially as a woman. Not, not if you're a guy, but especially as a woman, to like, just love yourself up and that like exudes something, I don't know, whatever. Some attractive, I don't know. Um, I'm not the best at this stuff anyway, but before I wrap this up, the ninth house, I do wanna say, so, so it's funny that you mentioned you have to define your values as a right arrow.

Ninth house is really about values, right? It's about religion, philosophy, personal values. So when you bring in the lens of relationships and dating, I suspect another thing, um, arisings will have to go through is being really strict about values when ch when choosing a partner mm-hmm. , you know, doing that boring homework of like, Hey, where do you stand on X matter?

Oh, uh, you support, you know, gun rights, nevermind, bye, whatever it may be, right? Like act, no matter how you're attracted to someone actually filtering very, like, does that make sense? You know what I mean? Right. Yeah, totally. Yeah. Like, you know, like there's that TikTok going around, um, of a girl saying, I messed up in my twenties.

I was trying to act like the cool girl. Like, oh, it's okay if the guy doesn't, you know, pay for dinner or whatever. And now she's like screwed in her thirties, cuz now her boyfriend's a total loser and she's, it's kind of like that, it's kind of like, okay, why didn't you just like, stick by your values in your twenties?

Yep. So that's gonna come into, um, major, uh, under major scrutiny over the next few years, which is, which is good by the way. You, you want that in your dating life. That's a really good way to filter out people. Okay, so next time we chat Francis, I want a list of activities that are green flags for you before you prove somebody.

Okay. All right. Cool. Um, r Earth risings for, for everyone. Was earth rising? Was that helpful? Raise your hand or if you have any questions, comments. Okay. Oh, Darren's an earth rising. What's your rising sign? Darren?

He put his hand down. Nevermind. Um, oh, cap. Okay. Capricorn rising. Capricorn risings are, um, I feel like Capricorn risings are entering their, it's more about, I noticed for Capricorn Rising it's more about the first house. You know how I said about like 10 x Like you're, you know, being very luxe, like wearing the finest things and that's more of the cap rising. I feel like I, I, all of them are going through that, like buying their third home or whatever to really like be in their it girl era.

Anyway, whatever. Yeah. He says yes. Okay, great. Yeah, all the leap rises are going through some family shit, fortunately or unfortunately related to their business. Um, all the cab rises are going through increasing their personal attraction and, and net wealth. Everyone has their little bend. Um, yes, definitely Francis, a hundred percent.

Francis also, by the way, has, I believe 44 29. Is that right? I think you, I think you told me that you do. See what I mean? This, see, this is not a problem for her. So it's, it's unfair, but that's just how energy works. Okay, guys. All right. Um, but she's here. She's here like activating all that for us, so let's thank her.

Okay. , she's holding out of work or somebody else. I think there was a couple of you guys. Um, all right, so at last but not least, let's look at Water Rising. Let me go through the chat. Please comment if you're water rising. I actually forgot Maryanne. Okay. Yeah, that'd be dope. We should do Maryanne. I'm just going by whoever say I first.

Okay. Hi. Hi. What is your rising sign and what arrow? Um, I'm a cancer rising and my perspective arrow is pointing. Left cancer, rising. Left. Okay, and what do you want? Um, all right. So giving everyone a little bit of background. I know, hey, June, like knows this, but, um, I'm a dancer. Um, and that's what I am focusing most of my time and energy on right now because it's what makes me the happiest.

Um, but I guess like trying to go back and like examining more like what is it that I really want? Um, I think I wanna be able to express myself artistically in many ways, not just through movement. Mm. So like, just, um, maybe like creating pieces of choreography that I like and enjoy. Um, I wanna express myself through like, music videos and be able to direct music videos with like, have dancers in them and like, just create a piece of like, art that I feel like proud of or, um, through fashion.

I've always like, loved fashion, so I wanna be able to express myself that way too. I feel like that is what. Is gonna make like my soul the happiest. Um, but I still am not able to, um, you know, like focus all of my time and energy and all of that and all of that, cuz I feel like it's a lot. Um, I'm like focused more right now and like dancing and becoming a better dancer.

Um, so I can like, have other opportunities and start creating something for myself. But, um, yeah, I think that it, that's what like, I really want . Okay. Um, I love how the left Arrow people, at least the ones that I spoke to today, did their homework on trying to not be so left. Um, I'm noticing that all the left people are like, actually I'm not, I'm not too fixed on this thing.

Don't worry. Uh, which is great. So let's actually look at, um, I think I know One Cancer Rising who's actually going through something similar but slightly different angle. Um, the feeling that I get with Water risings is a little bit similar to. What Air Risings are going through. Like they're on the mission to have this one thing, but relationships are kind of in the way.

So Marianne, can you talk to me a little bit about, cuz third house, seventh House, 11th house is friends, family, you know, husband, wife, siblings. Tell me how your, the people in your life play a factor, uh, in terms of you going after what it is you want. Um, well I guess like in the past like three years I've had a lot of to, to deal with, with family issues.

Um, so we went into like a legal battle with my half-siblings over. My dad's like Will basically mm-hmm. Mm-hmm. . So, um, that was like very intense for my family and like obviously the other part. But, um, I guess now that that issue is resolved and we agreed something, um, there are still a lot of things with like my family business.

My sister runs my dad's company now, and, uh, she's basically the one in charge of like making, she's like general manager, like just making things work. Um, and I guess a lot of, um, the money that I probably get to have to like, be able to create all of these things. Uh, she's basically just not trying to get too detail about it, but she's basically in charge of like being able to distribute the money Yes.

To like, so, um, she's having like a lot, she's like kind of not in the mood to like share mm-hmm. a lot of the assets right now, so. Mm-hmm. kind of like bumping heads with her a lot. In the past few months, does that make you, so is that family stuff, uh, pulling away your creative energy? Is that kind of where it's showing up?

Yeah, a hundred percent yes. Cause it's, it's like draining. It's like draining you. Yeah. So what's really funny is before you even started talking, what I got was death and money . So, um, I was like, I don't know what that means, but explains it now. Um, and what I am getting is that this was almost meant to happen and it, it meant it happened this way because something had to be healed.

And the way I interpret that is like this, this family event is actually opening up even more creative channels for you. Um, like. It's helping you get in touch with emotions that you didn't know you had. You know, whether that is feelings of like betrayal or sadness or, or whatever it may be. Um, so I'm actually getting that this is turning you into an artist that you didn't know you were.

Um, so it's all, it's all kind of plays a factor. Now, going back to your original question, and thank you for sharing that by the way, cause I know it's a big deal. Um, going back to your original goal of, Hey, I wanna become a broader artist, not, not just a dancer. Um, let's be a little bit more, and this is always really exciting.

Kinda like Juan, the very first example is, is always exciting to have somebody pull back from their like, well, could you give me three, three ways? Okay. You said music video is one of them. So let's look at, let's look at music video. Are you saying that you would like to direct a music video or you would like to be the dancer in the music video?

But I, I feel like you already do that. So you don't wanna be the dancer in the music video, right? Um, so that is something that I've, I, I still haven't had the opportunity to explore that. I'm like, currently training and trying to get myself out there to have the opportunity to dance in music videos. Um, it's like really weird because when I was little, I actually like went to sleep and dreamt about these moments.

Mm-hmm. Mm-hmm. That's a really big stage. And like, there were very vivid dreams about it and like, it's something I wanted to do as a little girl, but I never thought it was like something that was gonna happen to me. So now I'm like, that is like part of like, what, why I'm going after what I'm going for, because I like, feel like I Yeah.

For a long time. Um, but I also am really curious and interested in directing the music video. So like, I wanna dance in it and like also direct. Mm-hmm. I was going to tell you. So this is the, this is the left air to right air moment. Okay. And I can speak to this a little bit. As a, as a former film person, does it have to be a professional production?

do you care? Um, not really. I feel like I've, I'd rather have like a, obviously like a better camera and like good lighting, but other than that, like I'd be fine with not having like a huge budget for it. Right? Because what I, um, and I, and I just stopped sharing my screen cause I wanna focus on this better.

So, because what I'm feeling is that you could just, you, there's nothing stopping you from making your own music video right now. And you could just use your phone and you could, because you mentioned you wanna high quality stuff, but that's like your left arrow speaking. That's your left arrow being like the, i, I wanna under these conditions.

But if you just like pull out and pivot a little bit and go like, well what are other some, how can you be more creative and think outside the box and be more resourceful to create what it is you want to create, right? Mm-hmm. , then you can start like, you know, kind of like broadening the energy also. The reason, you know, your sister stuff, I feel like, um, this information's just kind of coming through on its own.

It's kind of unrelated to what it is you want, but what, what I'm feeling is that you don't need her permission to move forward in, in terms of what it is you wanna do. Um, or you don't have to feel bad or guilty to do what it, there's some guilt there and I don't know why, but it has to do with, I think, just kind of being responsible or not, or, um, she doesn't like financially support or anything like that, right?

That's not what's happening. No, no, no, no. Um, but yeah, I guess, um, like, so it's my mom and sister and me, three of us, and my mom is always like worried about her being in charge of, Managing the whole business, and it's taking a toll on her because it's a lot. Um, my dad owned a financial business mm-hmm.

and she's the, she's the one that, you know, she's like a business major, like under, like numerical. Like she understands that she loves business actually. But, um, she hadn't like really signed up for this. My dad passed and she kind of had to, uh, take charge of the business. So, um, my mom like supports her and like, obviously like, understands what she's going through and like, she's like, we need to, you know, be supportive of her.

If she needs the money to be able to do X, Y, Z for the company, we need to support that. Like, um, so I feel, yeah, I guess I feel like a little, like bad, just guilty. Yeah. Yeah. Yeah. And I'm, I'm sure your mom in a perfect world, I'm sure your mom wanted you to help your sister a little bit. Yeah. Um, right.

Right. Okay. So that's okay. So that's where the guilt comes in, where you're kind of like, okay, well I wanna go do my own thing and be creative and let her do all the, you know, the family stuff, but you, you feel like maybe you should've, maybe you should help her out. Is that kind of like where this is all rooted?

Yeah, and I, I, I do in like multiple ways, in like ways that I can, you know, I've always been like the her support system, so like, when she needs to like, vent out or like needs some like, you know, um, advice or whatever, like she comes to me, um, I would wanna be able to help her like yeah. In the actual business, but it's like not my focus right now and I, yeah, I guess I do feel guilty for that.

So. Interesting. Okay, so now I can see why these are, those are related, um, themes for you, unfortunately, and this is for everybody by the way, listening. Um, unfortunately, uh, you cannot apologize for wanting what you want. , even if family's involved. And this is something that I personally grapple with for a long time because I'm like, well, I wanna go do this thing, but then my dad thinks this, or my mom thinks this and I don't wanna like displease them.

Right? But if you do that, if you go down that route, you're just kind of wasting everybody's time. So the, the best chance at, at success with anything in life is just to focus on what it is you want, as long as you're well-intentioned. And yeah, to your point, Maryanne be available and when they need you, but they should not be, especially if they're not, especially if they're not explicitly asking for your help.

It's like, what can you do? You know? Yeah. Um, if, if somebody's not explicitly defining what they want you to do, you kind of have full permission to go to do whatever you want. And, um, and they're adults, they can make their own choices as well. So you can't force somebody to f you know, do whatever. Um, so.

My feeling for you is go coming back to left arrow exercise, pull back and redefine what it means to support your sister. Um, and I think you're already doing a great job at supporting her emotionally, mentally, even if it's not literally business-wise. And also pulling back and redefining, okay, w w how could I express my creativity even if it's not like super high production?

Um, and using that as like a feeler to go into that route more and more and more. Um, I actually, you know, I do know another cancer rising who's in a similar position, like his mother is really, really sick and he's, but at the same time he wants to change careers so he feels bad about that when his mother is sick.

So it's kinda like a similar dynamic. Um, but again, same thing for him. You know, his mother's gonna be sick regardless. Mm-hmm. , your sister's gonna manage this business regardless. Yeah. So you have to keep doing what it is you wanna do and show up for them when they need you. Mm-hmm. . Um, I hope that was helpful.

Makes so much sense. Thank you so much. It was so helpful. Okay, great. I was gonna say, I think you're already doing a great job. Um, and I just wanted to share the, the whole like production stuff, because I used to, I know a lot of artists and filmmakers who are like, I'm not gonna, I'm not gonna shoot this thing unless I have like these equipment.

And I'm like, okay, but you're missing out on the festival dates. Like just, just shoot something to submit and somebody might invest in you. Right. So keep discovering ways to put yourself out there, even if it's, um, not like super, like high budget. Gotcha. Thank you. Yeah, of course. Um, okay, cool. So we're at.

We're actually exactly at time. Let's very quickly open up the floor for any questions, comments, feedback. You're gonna, the, you guys all saw examples here. The homework, which I'm gonna put in the Google Doc. The homework is gonna be you looking at your houses based on your rising sign and, and doing your left right arrow exercise based on the themes of those houses.

So we have questions from Kelly and Joshua, you can unmute yourself and just ask. Yep. Yeah, so I was just, I guess I'm a little bit confused on like what we're supposed to do. Cause I'm the left facing mm-hmm. when you say that we need to be more specific, and I guess in general, I feel like I'm very vague about things.

I look at like the bigger picture, but you're saying we need to be more specific in how we go through our goals, right. Are your, are, are you left or right? You said you're left right? I left. Okay. On your perspective, arrow. Yes. So actually if you're left, you gotta be a little bit broader. Oh, I do. Yeah. Um, but, but, but broad in terms of like your belief too and Yeah.

Like challenging your very specific patterns and habits and beliefs. Okay. All right. I think I get it. Um, I also wanna encourage you guys to body up. If you're left, find the right person. If you're right, find a left person and like, do do that mirror exercise because you gotta get out of your own head a little bit.

There's only so far you can do, just, you know, you can't, I mean, don't find another left person that's not gonna be very helpful. You, you've gotta have that right person can, like, ask you more broad questions and stuff like that. Um, um, oh, and uh, Kelly thi this is gonna become more clear if you overlay your house exercise.

So, you know, for example, I'm a left air person. I need to be more broad about defining what beauty means to me. Like first house like Francis. Okay. Or like what love and, and yeah. All that stuff means to me. Okay. Yeah, that sounds good. Cool. Thanks. Um, great question, Joshua. So I actually was also lost a little bit on that left situation with the left arrow.

It's not to do with my, my, uh, question. I, just to go off of Kelly. Mm-hmm. , I definitely like. Understood. Um, I, I feel like I don't always have like the specific, like the details, the way that it sounds like what left needs to be like to be like more, you know, like goal oriented or like have it all detailed out.

Um, but what I found was that I see it in sometimes my fixed mentality where I feel like I have to do it a certain way instead of like, it has to just be done that way. Like what you were saying, Hey, June. Yeah. Where I'm like, okay, now I, I can see that like sometimes I just hold on to the way I feel like an outcome needs to go or whatever, right?

And so I was like, okay, I can see that I can open up to new perspectives. Um, because, so I'm a Gemini rising and so I tend to think that I am more open and mutable than I actually am. Um, so a lot of people will tell me, they'll be like, you're just really stubborn. And I'll be like, okay, fine. Um, but to go to my question, basically.

I'm curious to know why you use, uh, the house system versus the placid system? Because that's what I've like learned throughout like most of my astrology, uh, schooling. And so I'm kind of like trying to get an understanding. Uh, mostly because I am like right at the end of Gemini when it comes to my ascendant.

So a lot of times like I get a little confused with how to use um, whole, uh, cuz it brings me back so far. Yeah. I use house system because that's a bit more predictive. Plaus is more, uh, sorry. Whole house system is more predictive. Ho uh, placid is more for like emotional predictive, like how things play out will be more aligned with like Yeah.

Like how you feel about the events unfolding. But as far as like the actual specifics of what manifests in the 3d, I've noticed mm-hmm. Not, not even what I've noticed, but I haven't taught that the whole house system is better. Okay. But great question though. That's, that would be a better question for Susanna and Jake when they come in the third week of March.

Sure. Alright, thank you. And I'm glad you pointed out and, and recognized that the left arrow makes you see, here's a thing with left arrows, like, it's almost like, you know, even if you don't consciously know what you're specific about, you're habitually specific. Um, in which case you ha gotta do that more.

I, I'm like that, like, there's a lot of things that I do. I don't, I don't know why I do it, but I do it that way and I'm very stuck, stuck with it. So, and that's a, a very common left error trope too. Um, and if someone confronts me, well, you're very stubborn about this. I'm like, no, I'm not. But then I realize I am doing it, you know?

Yeah, right there, . Yeah. Yeah. So, so it's either conscious or unconscious. So, so again, like having a partner or a buddy's really helpful for. Cool. Cool. Thank you. Great question. Okay, you guys, I, um, if you're not on Discord yet, please get on Discord, you know, go back to one of my older emails, but I can like, send out another one.

Um, really would like you guys to, you know, partner up if, if, if you feel uncomfortable, you know, reach out to someone in your own life, look at their chart, see if you can, like, leverage their help. But I'm really excited with all the progress y'all are making. Um, this was really, really great. You're doing, you're doing amazing.

And I will see you guys next week. Um, cool. Everyone feels good. Thank you so much. Great. Thank you. Where's the link to Discord by chance? Thank you. Cause I'm not, so it's in the, so it's in the email, but I'll just like, um, Intro, the, the intro to for the module with this when you start? Yes. It's in. Yes.

Thank you. It's in the, it's in the onboarding process. Onboarding, okay. Yeah. Cool. Thank you. Cool, cool, cool. Thank you. I know there's a lot to navigate, so, so these are really fair questions. Alrighty. I will see you guys, um, this upcoming week on my Live. Okay. Bye bye. Bye.
